A Cappella Presents First Program

Through the chill dusk under a cloud-splattered sky, the A Cappella choir drove in a group of cars to the shore of their first recital this year, at the Orange Women’s Club, November 18.

Under the direction of Prof. Harlyn Abel, the 30 members composing the group sang seven selections before approximately 200 people.

Among the best of the pieces was Christiansen's "A Snow Mountain," and "Beautiful Savior.

This first rendition of the choir is a prelude to the annual spring tour which will begin early in the second semester and include many of the most important cities of the southland.

Former Editor Sails to China

By this time Raymond F. Cottrell, former editor of THE COLLEGE CRITERION, 1928-1929, is over half-way across the Pacific, nearly to Japan. He and Mrs. Cottrell embarked for China on the ship "President Coolidge" at Los Angeles on November 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell are to enter mission work at Nanking; the new capital city of China. He has lived in China for a considerable portion of his life.

The staff wishes Mr. Cottrell the best of success in his work for the natives.

Science Club Meets

Sigma Gamma held its first business meeting, November 9. Professor Morrison read the constitution and then related the interesting account of last year's desert trip. Owing to insufficient time, the election of officers was postponed until the following week.

Promptly the next week, an enthusiastic group of approximately forty potential scientists, doctors, and nurses gathered to elect the officers for the coming term. Professor Morrison first admonished (Continued on Page Two).

Prenurses Visit Three Hospitals

Those students who secured eight or more subscriptions for the school paper will leave tomorrow for a week-end at Idyllwild, in the San Jacinto mountains, baring bad weather.

The large Southeastern California Conference cabin with open fireplace and accessories has been secured. It rests in a large forest and meadow covered valley at about 6000 feet elevation.

The group will consist of about 40, including as honorary guests, President and Mrs. Cossentine, Prof. Morrison and Mrs. Morrison; and the advisor to the CRITERION, Prof. J. P. Fentzling and Mrs. Fentzling.

Group Sees Operation

The students of the pre-nursing class visited Glendale Sanitarium, the White Memorial Hospital, and the Los Angeles County Hospital, Thursday, November 15. The visit was of practical purpose, that is, to give the future nurses a little preview of the medical work as it is carried on in hospitals.

A mixed quartet consisting of A Cappella Choir members, Paul Barrows, Florence Jones, Hazel Waldie, Marian Leitch, Paul McInroe and Frank Cook, presented the national hymns of each respective nation, including England, Germany, Russia, Austria, Spain, and France. Between the hymns, a brief survey was given. Those participating in these short talks were: Prof. Fentzling, Henry Kuhn, Elvin Hogg, Anthony Muff, and Marguerite Lacey.

LIFE IN THE C.C.C.

By Jerry Smith

Everything seemed very uncertain. We had heard rumors during our six weeks at Fort Hamilton that the army was going to ship us to Alaska, Bear Mountain in Tennessee, Alabama, or to China to fight the Japanese. The day we arrived, we were put on a train and told we were going to Fort Missoula. We finally landed at the top of the Great Continental Divide, in the wildest section of Montana, the 2,000,000 acre Bitterroot National Forest, and were sixty miles from town over an extremely bad road.

Working was a pleasure. We worked five days a week from five a.m. to eight hours a day among the pines and under the clear blue sky of the Montana Rockies. All we had to do was cut down trees, build roads and fences, survey, put up (Continued on Page Four).
Van Atta Talks On Diet

"How much are you worth?" was the startling question asked of the students, Friday morning, November 16, by Miss Van Atta in the chapel talk. How much am I worth? "Yes, how much are you worth?" she continued.

The average elementary grade student has an economic value of twenty-one thousand dollars. You are older than that; hence, you should be worth more. But this does not make success. Success in life depends upon two things: social activities, and mental attainments.

"The success of these two activities are based on good health and good health is based upon certain laws," she emphasized.

The unusual phase of the subject, a proper diet, took up the benefits to the student, to the teacher, and to the parents.

Most students, she stated, eat too much and do not choose the right kind of food. This causes the student's mind to become clouded and his force of energy to weaken. It brings added work to the teacher in trying to give the student the thing he is here to learn. Not only this but the parents must be responsible and good health is based upon certain laws, namely:

1. At least three glasses of milk.
2. One salad, preferably raw vegetables.
3. Some protein — eggs or cottage cheese, etc.
4. Tomato or orange juice.
5. One other fruit.

Effort Being Held at Highgrove

Henry Brunner and Ervin Hoog, theological students at S. C. J. C., and Birdall Hodgins, former Bible student, are holding a ministerial effort at Highgrove town hall.

The first meeting was held on November 15. Last Sunday morning Mr. Hodgins spoke on the Second Coming of Christ. There was singing by the audience from songs thrown on the screen by a stereopticon machine. Bill Williamson played his accordion.

Van Atta Talks On Diet

"How much are you worth?" was the startling question asked of the students, Friday morning, November 16, by Miss Van Atta in the chapel talk. How much am I worth? "Yes, how much are you worth?" she continued.

The average elementary grade student has an economic value of twenty-one thousand dollars. You are older than that; hence, you should be worth more. But this does not make success. Success in life depends upon two things: social activities, and mental attainments.

"The success of these two activities are based on good health and good health is based upon certain laws," she emphasized.

The unusual phase of the subject, a proper diet, took up the benefits to the student, to the teacher, and to the parents.

Most students, she stated, eat too much and do not choose the right kind of food. This causes the student's mind to become clouded and his force of energy to weaken. It brings added work to the teacher in trying to give the student the thing he is here to learn. Not only this but the parents must be responsible and good health is based upon certain laws, namely:

1. At least three glasses of milk.
2. One salad, preferably raw vegetables.
3. Some protein — eggs or cottage cheese, etc.
4. Tomato or orange juice.
5. One other fruit.

Effort Being Held at Highgrove

Henry Brunner and Ervin Hoog, theological students at S. C. J. C., and Birdall Hodgins, former Bible student, are holding a ministerial effort at Highgrove town hall.

The first meeting was held on November 15. Last Sunday morning Mr. Hodgins spoke on the Second Coming of Christ. There was singing by the audience from songs thrown on the screen by a stereopticon machine. Bill Williamson played his accordion.
Commercial Club Convenes

The third meeting of the College Commercial Club was held at the home of Miss Hopkins on Tuesday evening, November 14. The purpose of this club is to promote a spirit of friendliness among the students who take commercial work and to prepare them for the problems that will confront them as they go out into the business world.

The present officers are: President, George Clement; Vice-President, Harold Kannonberg; Secretary, Lois Jones; Program committee, Paul McIntosh, June Keiger and Alyce Van Tassell. The club meets the second Wednesday evening of each month.

The meetings each month afford a splendid opportunity for all to become better acquainted with each other and to be prepared more efficiently to meet the problems that will come.

Literary Leads

by Jack Waller

Just back from the bindery with a flashing, new, bright-red coat is "Romantic and Victorian Poetry," edited by the Ohio State University. It contains the outstanding literary achievements of the masters of English literature living in two of its most productive periods. Contained between the same covers are the antitheses of poetic progress, the matchless conservatism of Arnold and the rollicking balladry of Rudyard Kipling. It is a volume not intended for systematic perusal. Wander through at your leisure, stop for a moment here and there, forget the complexities of Orientation and General Zoology as you travel with the world's greatest masters on excursions to the antipodes of poetic progress, greatest masters on excursions to Rudyard Kipling. It is a volume of Nettie Atteberry, Siegel Glaze, and Elvin Hong. The constitution drafted by the committee was submitted and after numerous inquiries and amendments, was adopted. Election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Siegel Glaze; Vice-President, James Saunders; Secretary, Nettie Atteberry; Sergeant at Arms, Lyle Davis; Parliamentarian, Frank Irland.

The first regular meeting with these officers in charge will be held, November 22, at 7:30 a.m. in Room 26 of the Administration building, but will adjourn and give way to the period examinations in public speaking. The second regular meeting will be held December 6, at 7:30 a.m. in the College chapel.

Price Does Not Determine the Value of Printing

For Quality Printing Call

The College Press
THE PASSIONATE PEDAGOGUE

He told of Inquisition
In Madrid so long ago.
Of a violent persecution
By a savage-minded foe.

He spoke of noble Christians
In the ancient days of Rome.
As they fought with savage tigers
Far away from pleasant home.

And he died his eyes in pity
With an Irish white bandana
As he traced the trail of tyrants
Thr' from Tuz to Santa Anna.

He cried aloud for Justice
With a soul-resounding call.
And he sobbed that mental anguish
Was the saddest plight of all.

Then the dinner whistle screeches
As another school-day passes.
Home once more, he writes out quizzes
For the next day's weary classes.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

THE PASSIONATE PEDAGOGUE

Life in the C.C.C.

(Covered from Page Three)

Station in Butte. However, we learned from subsequent C.C.C. life that the world had lots of hard blows to give us and each time a person knew how to take one it would make him so much stronger.

Some of us stayed in this organization as long as its regulations permitted. We still value highly that fascinating interlude in our leaves of life.

Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil.—Exod. 32:32

Doris Mourey, Ruth Whiteoak, and Ruth Fillbach were the only occupants of Gladwyn Hall that left the campus for the week-end.

Themes, themes, themes—if you would like to become more completely versed on the meaning of such things just ask a pre-nursing student.

Seen about the campus:

Harold Hintz, gingerly weeding the cactus patch.

Richard Holbrook peering out from behind a stack of white shirts.

The girl's trio, Marion Leitch, Alice Clement and Hazel Walde, was loaned to Riverside Church Sabbath.

The red, twin silos were filled to capacity on Sunday, November 11.

The cutter was moved for the second time to the large one by the barn. When this is again full and the silage has settled in the small ones, they will be refilled, and then the "farmers" will be able to take it easy for awhile.

A Cappella robes were fitted to the members of the choir last Wednesday noon. The total height of the choir members of this year is five and one-half inches shorter than it was last year, as two robes had to be shortened.

The heifers and colts are being housed on the land where the camp has been cut. The fellows say it is a cinch except when it is foggy or the heifers start to run one way and the colts the other. Then the "perfect mystery" is when to begin to get them together again with the least possible damage to all concerned.

The next game was "Don Tonto." One member of the class stood up in front, while classmates fired questions in Spanish at him. The object of the game was for him to keep from laughing.

The officers for the next six weeks were elected. They are: President, Jack Caley; Vice-president, Louise Grace; Treasurer, Chester Alcorn, and Secretary, Merritt Smith.

THE PASSIONATE PEDAGOGUE

Armistice Program

(Continued from Page One)

Chester Alcorn played "Caprice Viennais" by Kreisler in connection with the talk on Austria. The chapel exercises were closed by singing as an assembly, our own national hymn, "America."

Pre-nurses Visit Hospitals

(Continued from Page One)

the precision and thoroughness of the whole institution and left with a new inspiration at half past four to return to school.

Due to vacation the next CRITERION will be published the week following vacation.
Messiah will Be Given

At Civic Auditorium

FAMOUS SOLOISTS TO APPEAR IN "MESSIAH"

Handel’s "Messiah," famous oratorio, will be presented in Riverside on Sunday afternoon, December 9, at the Civic Memorial Auditorium.

The chorus consists of 250 voices. The members come from S. C. J. C., Loma Linda, and the Riverside churches.

Four well-known soloists have been engaged. They are Blythe Taylor Burns, Soprano; Elizabeth Vennelen, Contralto; Richard Dennis, Tenor; and Evertis Stidham, Bass.

An orchestra of twenty-five pieces will assist the choir and the pianists will be Mrs. Marilyn Abel, and Mr. Newell Parker.

The "Messiah" is sponsored by the Riverside Music Association, and the Riverside Ministerial Association.

Last year, 5,000 attended the concert and many were turned away. To avoid disappointment, this year everyone admitted must have a ticket—these are free and may be obtained at the Riverside music stores or at S. C. J. C.

To Warble Here—Glendale Quartet

The student body administration has lined up a program for the students and the friends of the College.

The Glendale Male Quartet will give a concert here at seven-thirty next Saturday night.

Student body members will be admitted gratis. Non-members who are students and outside friends of the college will be charged admission.

Jack King, student body president, speaking of the program, said, "The quartet is well known and we are very fortunate to get them to come." Friends of the college may obtain tickets at the auditorium office.

School Represented at Present Day Club

Professor K. J. Reynolds, head of the History Department, and Professor J. P. Fentling, head of the English Department, were present at the regular meeting and banquet of the Present Day Club at Riverside Congregational Church, Nov. 26. Representing the S. C. J. C., student body at the function were Norman Hopman, and Henry Kulm.

Chief speaker of the evening, Dr. Wirfsfeld Scott, famous internation

(Continued on Page Three)

TEACHERS’ INSTITUTE IS HELD

New Teaching Methods Discussed

Teachers’ Institute for the South-eastern California-Arizona and Southern California Conferences was held at our school from Monday, November 26, to Wednesday, November 28. Ninety-nine teachers from other institutions, eight of our faculty members, and eleven visiting educators were in attendance.

H. G. Lucas, Educational Secretary of the Western Union Conference; W. L. Avery, Educational Superintendent of the South-eastern California-Arizona Conference; and W. W. Ruble, Educational Superintendent of the Southern California Conference, led in directing the meetings.

The teachers were served at the school dining room, and were housed in the dormitories, village, and at Arlington.

Consideration was given to new developments and methods in teaching grades one to ten. Mrs. Adams, in charge of the departmental round table discussion of grades one to four; Miss Jenson of grades five to eight; and H. G. Lucas, of grades nine to ten.

Professor Sorensen, Professor Cusham, Miss Wallace, Miss Paulson, and Miss Voel, of our school, all gave discussions on their work as related to grade school teaching.

Tuesday evening at 7:30, the A Cappella Choir gave a short recital to the assembled teachers. Those in attendance reported a profitable spars session together.

Pre-meds to take Aptitude Test

By Jack King

During the afternoon of December 7, the pre-medical students will take the aptitude test in Professor Morrison's lecture room.

This examination is given in an attempt to classify prospective doctors as to their probable potential ability in relation to medical endeavor. Incidentally, this test is being given at exactly the same time all over the United States.
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

EXCHANGE

by Frederic Rutan

Let's try following trails and doings of some past and present S.C.J.C. students.

Ethel Ausherman, now at Walla Walla, gave a very emphatic speech against war in a part of an Armistice Day program recently. Miss Ausherman, in her known to last year's students at S.C.J.C. as “Aushy,” composed the music of our school song. We note with interest that she is oratorically as well as musically gifted.

S.C.J.C. Genines

Those who read the Youth's Instructor (and don't we all?) have been enjoying some products of the traditional genius. In the November 27 issue we read “A Defeat and A Victory,” by George A. Rutan who was a student; here last year. In the same issue we find “What is an Agreement?” by Fred Hickman who was with us two years ago. Another extremely interesting story appears in the last number of the Instructor by Lucille Palser, “All Things Work Together For Good.” S.C.J.C. has reason to be very proud of the results of her “native ability.”

WHAT WE THINK

By Allan Cossentine

A Kindergarten Army?

Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “ Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-y.

The Death

A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Ho Hum

We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson

After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?
Messiah will Be Given

At Civic Auditorium

FAMOUS SOLOISTS TO APPEAR IN “MESSIAH”

Handel's “Messiah”, famous oratorio, will be presented in Riverside on Sunday afternoon, December 9, at the Civic Memorial Auditorium.

The chorus consists of 250 voices. The members come from S. C. J. C., Loma Linda, and the Riverside churches.

Four well-known soloists have been engaged. They are Blythe Taylor Burns, Soprano; Elizabeth Vermeulen, Contralto; Richard Dennis, Tenor; and Everett Stidham, Bass.

A group of twenty-five pieces will assist the chorus and the pianists will be Mrs. Harlyn Abel, and Mr. Newell Parker.

The “Messiah” is sponsored by the Riverside Music Association, and the Riverside Ministerial Association.

Last year, 5,000 attended the concert and many were turned away. To avoid disappointment, this year everyone admitted must have a ticket—these are free and may be obtained at the Riverside music stores or at S. C. J. C.

To Warble Here—

Glendale Quartet

The student body administration has lined up a program for the students and the friends of the College.

The Glendale Male Quartet will give a concert here at seven-thirty next Saturday night.

Student body members will be admitted gratis. Non-members who are students and outside friends of the college will be charged admission.

Jack King, student body president, speaking of the program, said, “The quartet is well known and we are very fortunate to get them to come. Friends of the college may obtain tickets at the door.

School Represented

At Present Day Club

Professor K. J. Reynolds, head of the History Department, and Professor J. P. Fentzing, head of the English Department were present at the regular meeting and banquet of the Present Day Club at Riverside Congregational Church Nov. 15. Representing the S.C. J. C. student body at the function were Norman Holman and Henry Kuhn.

Professor Sorensen, Professor Cushman, Miss Wallace, Miss Paulson, and Miss Voth of our school, all gave discussions on their work. Consideration was given to new developments and methods in teaching grades one to ten.

Student Slightly Hurt in Collision

While traveling at about thirty miles an hour on East Pasadena intersection, November 20, an auto in which Charles Dockham was riding collided with another car traveling at about the same speed, injuring six persons. Mr. Dockham had a finger cut.

The car in which he was riding was stopped by a tire and the other vehicle made a number of gyrations, throwing out four people and something resembling a Thanksgiving dinner. When Mr. Dockham started to arise from his recumbent position by the car door, he found himself staring at a turkey in a boiler.

The accident was caused by the temporary removal of a boulevard stop sign.

Pre-meds to take Aptitude Test

By Jack King

During the afternoon of December 7, the pre-medical students will take the aptitude test in Professor Morrison’s lecture room. This examination is given in an attempt to classify prospective doctors as to their probable potential ability in relation to medical endeavor. Incidentally, this test is being given at exactly the same time all over the United States.
Following a well known campus political power around the college —Steps of dorm men (pardon me, I meant men’s home) meets fellow member of quant. class. (A quiz is coming up.) Scrap of conversation. “I won’t be able to do a thing in that quant. quiz. I don’t understand it at all, besides I have to study for Anatomy.” Leaves member of quant. class. Meets member of Anatomy. Conversation goes on. “I know that I’ll butcher this Anatomy quiz. I don’t understand it and besides I have to spend all my time on quant.” Leaves member of Anatomy. So ends the conversation. Quizzes have been taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He is seen walking toward the dorm-men’s home. A student is walking with him. He is saying, “I know I flunked those tests to day.” A day passes. The political mogul gets his tests back. Tremblingly he looks at them. He feels a moan of anguish Jack. He grants it only to the door. It slipped out, dashes to the dorm-men’s home. A student is taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He was political power. His political power. Still At It

A Kindergarten Army?
Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-ry.

IF Death
A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Do Hum
We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson
After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

WE PRE-MEDS
Fred Horovitz

Following a well known campus political power around the college —Steps of dorm men (pardon me, I meant men’s home) meets fellow member of quant. class. (A quiz is coming up.) Scrap of conversation. “I won’t be able to do a thing in that quant. quiz. I don’t understand it at all, besides I have to study for Anatomy.” Leaves member of quant. class. Meets member of Anatomy. Conversation goes on. “I know that I’ll butcher this Anatomy quiz. I don’t understand it and besides I have to spend all my time on quant.” Leaves member of Anatomy. So ends the conversation. Quizzes have been taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He is seen walking toward the dorm-men’s home. A student is walking with him. He is saying, “I know I flunked those tests to day.” A day passes. The political mogul gets his tests back. Tremblingly he looks at them. He feels a moan of anguish Jack. He grants it only to the door. It slipped out, dashes to the dorm-men’s home. A student is taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He was political power. His political power. Still At It

A Kindergarten Army?
Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-ry.

IF Death
A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Do Hum
We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson
After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

WE PRE-MEDS
Fred Horovitz

Following a well known campus political power around the college —Steps of dorm men (pardon me, I meant men’s home) meets fellow member of quant. class. (A quiz is coming up.) Scrap of conversation. “I won’t be able to do a thing in that quant. quiz. I don’t understand it at all, besides I have to study for Anatomy.” Leaves member of quant. class. Meets member of Anatomy. Conversation goes on. “I know that I’ll butcher this Anatomy quiz. I don’t understand it and besides I have to spend all my time on quant.” Leaves member of Anatomy. So ends the conversation. Quizzes have been taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He is seen walking toward the dorm-men’s home. A student is walking with him. He is saying, “I know I flunked those tests to day.” A day passes. The political mogul gets his tests back. Tremblingly he looks at them. He feels a moan of anguish Jack. He grants it only to the door. It slipped out, dashes to the dorm-men’s home. A student is taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He was political power. His political power. Still At It

A Kindergarten Army?
Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-ry.

IF Death
A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Do Hum
We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson
After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

WE PRE-MEDS
Fred Horovitz

Following a well known campus political power around the college —Steps of dorm men (pardon me, I meant men’s home) meets fellow member of quant. class. (A quiz is coming up.) Scrap of conversation. “I won’t be able to do a thing in that quant. quiz. I don’t understand it at all, besides I have to study for Anatomy.” Leaves member of quant. class. Meets member of Anatomy. Conversation goes on. “I know that I’ll butcher this Anatomy quiz. I don’t understand it and besides I have to spend all my time on quant.” Leaves member of Anatomy. So ends the conversation. Quizzes have been taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He is seen walking toward the dorm-men’s home. A student is walking with him. He is saying, “I know I flunked those tests to day.” A day passes. The political mogul gets his tests back. Tremblingly he looks at them. He feels a moan of anguish Jack. He grants it only to the door. It slipped out, dashes to the dorm-men’s home. A student is taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He was political power. His political power. Still At It

A Kindergarten Army?
Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-ry.

IF Death
A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Do Hum
We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson
After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

WE PRE-MEDS
Fred Horovitz

Following a well known campus political power around the college —Steps of dorm men (pardon me, I meant men’s home) meets fellow member of quant. class. (A quiz is coming up.) Scrap of conversation. “I won’t be able to do a thing in that quant. quiz. I don’t understand it at all, besides I have to study for Anatomy.” Leaves member of quant. class. Meets member of Anatomy. Conversation goes on. “I know that I’ll butcher this Anatomy quiz. I don’t understand it and besides I have to spend all my time on quant.” Leaves member of Anatomy. So ends the conversation. Quizzes have been taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He is seen walking toward the dorm-men’s home. A student is walking with him. He is saying, “I know I flunked those tests to day.” A day passes. The political mogul gets his tests back. Tremblingly he looks at them. He feels a moan of anguish Jack. He grants it only to the door. It slipped out, dashes to the dorm-men’s home. A student is taken. W.K.C.P.P.* has taken quizzes. He was political power. His political power. Still At It

A Kindergarten Army?
Premier Mussolini of Italy has ordered that all males between six and eight years of age be organized into the military system. They will be known as the “Sons of the Wolf.” We would call them the infant-ry.

IF Death
A new law in Latvia says that all persons condemned to death shall first be given a chance to commit suicide by poison. After five minutes, he is to be hanged. In other words one has his choice between death or death.

Do Hum
We noticed that the French Cabinet changed recently. Another week gone by.

In the Next Lesson
After extensive investigations a grand jury reports that there is graft in Los Angeles. When are they going to find out that people live in Los Angeles?
2,000 Hear Messiah

Riverside Host to World Affairs Institute

The Institute of World Affairs being held in the Riverside Mission Inn, December 9, to 14, is drawing a large number of speakers on current history. This group meets in behalf of world peace.

Among those who have spoken are: Dr. Wm. B. Muero, from California Institute of Technology, Dr. Chester H. Rowell, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Garrett Jones, correspondent of the London Times.

Among the topics spoken on were the "New Deal," by Dr. Muero, and "The Press and Propaganda in Europe," by Garrett Jones.

In Riverside Civic Auditorium

Seven Choirs, 2 Choruses In Massed Chorus

A group of 200 select singers, comprising six Riverside church choirs, the Loma Linda chorus and the S.C.J.C. chorus and A Cappella choir, presented Handel's famous oratorio to about 2000 people in the Riverside Civic Auditorium, December 9th.

Several soloists, famous on the west coast, sang. These were as follows: Blythe Taylor-Burns, soprano; Elizabeth Vermeulen, contralto; Richard Dennis, tenor, and Everett Stidham, baritone.

In addition, a 25-piece orchestra played the accompaniment, just in front of the shell containing the singers. Professor Marilyn Abel, head of the S.C.J.C. vocal department, directed the presentation, which was sponsored by the Riverside Musicians' Association and the Riverside Ministerial Association.

A number of former S.C.J.C. songsters took part in the program. Among these were: Erna Von Hoogard, Emily Brown, Fees Paulsen, Margaret Hov, Bertrice Hashins, Eileen Riggle, Ralph Giddings, Arthur Kirk, Doyle Hillhouse and Mrs. Roger Standard.

Composition Class Will Write for Signs

About 70 students in the English Composition class are preparing to write articles to be entered in the "Signs of the Times" contest soon.

There is a considerable variety of articles that may be submitted from the "feature" article to the "short," and the doctrinal article.

Last year, twenty S.C.J.C. students took prizes in the same contest, one of which was won by a poem written by Frances Rutan.
Friends, companions, pals, and schoolmates! What would we all do without them? Yet many times the deeper meaning of these terms is misinterpreted. How often do we think of a friend only as one with whom to share joys, plans and aspirations. But a true friend is also willing and glad to share the troubles and trials that confront us.

What kind of a friend are you? Do you appear loyal, sincere, and true to your friend's face and then, when it is convenient or entertaining, talk behind his back? It is so easy to thoughtlessly say little things that may cut into one's innermost heart.

Then, how about jealousy? When your pal seems to have a little more than you, or some special success or honor comes to him, is there a queer feeling deep down? Or can you really "take it" and be happy just because he is happy, keeping friends?

Why not cultivate the interesting art of making and enjoying it as much as if it were your own success? Certainly this is the way a true friend would look at it. J.M.P.
Messiah to be Given
At Loma Linda

Fifty selected members of the S.C.J.C. choir will accompany the A Cappella choir to Loma Linda to join the Loma Linda choir in presenting "The Messiah," on Sunday, December 16.

The oratorio will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the new chapel.

What They Say
By The Roving Reporter

The following are the answers to the week-ender's questions:

"Did you have a good time?" or "What kind of a time did you have?"

Marion Letch: "I had more fun than I have had in a long time."

Edwin Anderson: "Glorious! Just Splendid!"

Beatrice Hinkle: "Sure, I had a pretty good time."

Hazel Walden: "You know I did."

Allan Coxe: "The pleasure was all mine."

Lowell Ford: "Calorific!"

Jim Atkinson: "Yes, a whooping good time."

J. Fentling: "Sure, man, sure!"

Lester Cashman: "Why should I not have a good time?"

Bernice Waters: "Boy, I sure did."

Anthony Muff: "Very good, excellent."

Lola Christiansen: "Fine."

Group Gives Program at C.C.C. Camp

Craven. The response was good.

Miller Creek Camp lies about forty miles north-east of S.C.J.C. It consists of 197 men and is rated the third best C.C.C. camp in California. The surroundings are very beautiful, the camp is extremely neat and orderly. The men are a fine group and are very friendly. After enjoying a most excellent lunch we bid the Company adieu and felt very much edified by our visit.

Tortoise Lives in Lab.

(Continued from Page One)

to the outer world, one of which was a leisurely journey to the Chem. Lab.

His most embarrassing moment happened this way. During the college Biology class, a student lifted him onto one of the long tables to observe and pet him. The tortoise walked to the edge of the table, observed the distance to the floor, and cautiously turned away, laying down a course that soon landed him on the other side of the table. When he had carefully measured with his beady eye the distance to the floor, he despairingly lay down for a moment. Then summoning all his fortitude, he arose and bore, scrappingly, hopefully away in another direction. This time he came out on a corner with a drop-off on both sides. This was the end. One could almost fancy he heaved a turtle sigh as he hopelessly collapsed, to lie for a long moment in silence.

Personality Test Arouses Interest

(Continued from Page One)

Personality test depended upon to do what you say you will?" Some other questions were, "Are you usually cheerful?" "Are you natural rather than classified?" "Do you avoid trying to reform others?"

The test was made up by Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Laird of Colgate College, from the results of ten years of practical experience with college students. A person who receives a grade of 54 per cent, or better, in the test, is well-liked. A grade of 30 per cent would indicate that a person is widely disliked.

Not failure but low aim is crime.

Our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall.—Confucius.

GIFT HEADQUARTERS
Distinctive Gifts for Every Member of the Family
FRANZENS
The Store of Over 50,000 Items
From the Inexpensive to the Exclusive

3730-60 Main — Riverside

C.C.C. Chaplain Speaks At M.B.K.

(Continued from Page One)

them. These simple services have a noticeable effect on the boys of the camps, and has been a direct influence in changing the attitudes of some. A tremendous field of service is found in the C.C.C. camp.

Also these camps are a typical cross-section of American citizens. Lieut. Henry is quoted in saying that "of all the recovery movements, the C.C.C. is among those that are the most successful." It was also brought out that practical training is taught in these camps. The club enjoyed very much, Lieut. Henry's visit.

DATES

We help you in the Packing and Shipping of your Gifts

HEALTH INSTITUTE
3579 Main Street (at Sixth)

Price Does Not Determine the Value of Printing

For Quality Printing Call

The College Press

Our Advertisers Are Reliable

O. W. Tilander Proprietor
GASOLINE — OILS — ACCESSORIES
Batteries Charged — Firestone Tires
Motor Reconditioning and Reboring
Expert Mechanical Work
Prices Most Reasonable

LA SIERRA GARAGE
La Sierra Heights, Arlington, Calif. Ph. 9773-J4
The Sunny Strip
by Jack Walker

The Hermit and Myself

On the wild and rugged surface
Of a mountain peak
Lives the ancient, graybeard hermit in a cabin made of planks.
He seldom sees a mortal man to Intelligence about how to Better his way.
Hentleman, writing as usual, welcomed some of her friends from S.C. and Rwe. He is a well sought and sends his greetings to her friends.

We are proud of our honor students-15 boys and 12 girls who received A's and W's. And Florence Jones, Marion Leitch, George Gay and Fred Horowitz, received all A's.

Evidently the ladies who participated in the rendition of the "Messiah" had diversified opinions as to the appropriate costume to wear.

"We all love Jack," was one of the songs rendered by the "Harmony Four." Was it for Jack King or Jack Cates?

A suggestion to Walter Reynolds from the woman of Gladwyn Hall. Here it is:
Either don bed-sheets or take your boys off when you pass our home.

There was quite an uproar in the chemistry class the other day when both Hawkins answered to "Miss Horowitz's name." Miss King is also a popular member of the class.

Milkers catching up on some sleep.

Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul was he
He called for his pipe;
He blow soap bubbles;

Loma Linda
in Shorts

By Grace Winget

I cover the aptitude test. Well, five minutes and it'll be here. I Professor Morgan can't find the quizzes. No, he cannot.
I feel. I'm not nervous a bit.
Where did all this perspiration come from? I wonder if I'll be able to stop this hand from shaking. Well it's slowing down anyhow.

We're supposed to learn everything on this sheet in thirty minutes. Well, here goes. Boy, now comes the quiz. One hour and twenty minutes of frenzied guessing passed. At last, it's over.
Well. Xerxes had Arbela, Napoleon and Waterloo, and I had the aptitude test. Boy, did I succeed.
Anyhow, tell posterity that I fought a gallant fight. Well, there is one thing I'll be in search of.

We PRE-MEDS

By Fred Horowitz

Classes are organizing and chow-rooms are appearing at the Academy.
It is reported also that a "social register" in taking care of certain activities of the students.

All honor and glory goes to the junior class this term for good citizenship and high scholastic standing.

Eld. Dunbar, the M.V. Secretary of the S. E. Cal. and Arizona Conference is conducting the week of prayer at the Academy.

The glee clubs of the Academy sang for the Knox Evangelistic effort in Pomona, Sunday evening, December 3, at the T.Y.M.C.A. building.

Ice skating affords much pleasure for local indulgers, Frances Powers reports a "wonderful time."

Talking pictures on the Century of Progress will be presented by
S. F. Motor Company, Saturday evening, December 15, at the Academy.

REMEMBER WHEN?

S.C.C.C. became an accredited
Junior College.
The last day did the choosing for the students?
Richard Holbrook did Janitor work in the boys' dorms?
Dorothy Finley was laundry boss?
Heinz Gehren was dining room "cook."
Jim Atkinson grew a beard?
Jack Cates was in love?
Henry Kuhn dreamed of a car and his parents did not put it in the kitchen?
The school song contest was won by?
Gray Smith spoke in Riverside.
The postman's horn sounded like a plinket with airwaves?
Harold Conner's nickname was "Ham-bone."
There was no science building?
The A Cappella Choir did not wear suits?
Mary Mackenzie had measles?
The English exams were being sung to the tune of "Peter and John."
Sigea Gemma had a picnic at Pomona?
Jack King used to read law hard-footed?"
Alpha Sigma Chi Organizes

The men students attending S. C. J. C. who do not live in the dormitory are forming an organization of their own for the purpose of promoting friendship and good will among the students.

Plans are being made for several trips to different points of interest in Southern California. Among these is a trip to Wrightwood during the snow season. They have a fine cabin there at their disposal.

At the second meeting of the group, the report of the organization committee was given, stating the aims, the objectives, and some of the suggested plans and rules for the club.

The students are divided into two groups, the senior group, composed of college students and the junior group, composed of academic students.

The officers that were elected for the rest of the year are: Clarence Harlow, President; and Fred Handy, Vice-president.

Insurance Outlined

Mr. Melvin Munson of the Farmers’ Auto-Inter Insurance Exchange and Mr. M. F. Fyffe of the Connecticut Mutual of Hartford were guest speakers of the Business Law class Monday morning, December 10.

Mr. Munson talked first on casualties. He explained that casualty insurance covers all risks of loss from a building falling and having you to just stubbing your toe. Although many of us do not know it, casualty insurance originated in order to do away with the misconceptions some people have regarding such institutions.

"The business of banking is to . . ."

(Continued on Page Two)

Insurance Outlined

Mr. Munson talked first on casualties. He explained that casualty insurance covers all risks of loss from a building falling and having you to just stubbing your toe. Although many of us do not know it, casualty insurance originated in order to do away with the misconceptions some people have regarding such institutions.

"The business of banking is to . . ."

(Continued on Page Three)

Bach and Handel Theme of Program

Christmas decorations and a program pleasantly featured by comics and student bands were presented to the students by the Music Club in the lecture room when the curtains were drawn back Saturday night, December 16. Because of a tie in the voting for the musical presentation between Richard Holbrook and Paul Burrroughs at the last meeting, the vote was taken again.

Mr. Holbrook took charge of the evening’s program, which was based upon the lives and works of Bach and Handel. Mrs. Crandall gave a talk comparing the two artists. Both Gorg Friedrich Handel and Johann Sebastian Bach were born in 1685 in Germany, but their lives and works were quite different. Bach was one of a long succession of musicians of one of his ancestors, as well as some of those close to him, were famous for their musical accom-

(Continued on Page Four)

Films Picture

Chinese Life

"The Chinese people are in existence today because they worshiped the true God, for when they have worshiped God they have united to live long in the land," declared Elder K. H. Wood, in his moving picture lecture on the progress of the work of God in China, in the chapel Sunday night.

For proof of his statement he drew on the blackboard several Chinese characters and interpreted them. The character for heaven is in Chinese, among the Chinese, a symbol of the divinity of God. The story of the fall in the Garden of Eden and the flood is recorded in their character pictures. He states that he believes in a Chinese person wherever he has been that doubts the story of the flood as written in the Chinese Bible. The character for righteousness is a lamp over the head of a person. He affirmed that this is the only way to write righteousness with the lamp above and ourselves submerged.
RESOLUTIONS

What is the use of a New Year, and all these New Year’s resolutions anyway? No more than ten days pass until all of them are broken and forgotten. These are nothing but man’s inovations. This idea of starting out the New Year right is not much good or very consistent anyhow. By following this system, improvement is forgotten until the next New Year, and then for five minutes or ten minutes or maybe a half hour, a person sits down and tries to figure out point-blank the whole year’s supply of advancement—that is why the resolutions are not fulfilled.

The better idea is to take inventory, not just once a year, but every day, and plan the self-improvement system in the correct and logical manner. Daily press forward toward a higher goal, daily seek to do your best as it should be done, daily strive for the better life and for the blessing and approval of God. By this means we are assured of success.—A.M.
Films Picture Chinese Life

(Continued from Page One)

mitted beneath. Even the cross of Christ was prophesied by these characters written four thousand years ago. He also showed the temple of heaven where the emperor worshipped the supreme ruler, a remnant of the ancient Chinese religion.

Buddhism took the Chinese people away from their original belief about one thousand years ago when the head of the family conducted worship to the supreme God. He believes that their religion came direct from creation and that according to the Nestorian Tablet they held similar doctrines to those we have today, and that Thomas brought it anew during the first century.

“We use the best methods possible over there but without the message we could not phase the heathen heart,” he emphasized. To get an idea of the work there he contrasted the population of the U. S. with one of the seven Chinese unions. He told us to picture the U. S. with ten families working for the population, such is very nearly the identical situation over in China, but in spite of this, one thousand new members have been added each year for the last 20 years.

He asked us to trade places with the cliff dwellers that were pictured.

Stamp Photos
12 for 20c
J. A. Scott's Photo Shop
4029 Market Street

BANKING EXPLAINED
(Continued from Page One)

receive deposits, and then to loan money out, not only to receive interest but to have the total amount repaid at a certain definite time,” he affirmed. He named and discussed the four most common types of banks: the savings bank, the commercial bank, the investment bank, and the reserve bank.

“ar the purpose of the savings bank,” he declared, “is to encourage the practice of thrift. One account may not be much, but when the total amount which small investors deposit is counted up it is this sum that is used for productive services to society.”

One, for the money,
Two, for the show,
Three to get ready;
Four, five and six.
—L. Fisher

and see if we would not be glad when the message we hold so dear was brought to us, because when devoted heathen Chinese become converted they are devoted Christians.

Buy that Christmas Gift at Allen & Kearne
Complete Outfittings For Men and Boys
668 Eighth Street Riverside

GIFT HEADQUARTERS
Distinctive Gifts for Every Member of the Family
FRANZENS
The Store of Over 50,000 Items
From the Inexpensive to the Exclusive
FRANZENS
3730-60 Main — Riverside
Our Advertisers Are Reliable

DATES
We help you in the Packing and Shipping of your Gifts
HEALTH INSTITUTE
3579 Main Street (at Sixth)

An Automobile without moving parts would be revolutionary in eliminating repair bills.

Mechanical Refrigerator without moving parts would be revolutionary in eliminating repair bills.

The Electrolux Has No Moving Parts.

Liberal Trade-ins On Your Old Refrigerator

Phone 413 in Evening, or See Me Evenings at 318 Court Street
Clarence Harlow
Loma — Linda
The high school students of Loma Linda are forbidden to talk in the halls while passing between classes.

It is reported that the students have obeyed this rule and have kept it.

Dorothy Dillbeck was happy to receive a present from her mother, Mrs. Dillbeck, on Sunday.

Bob Said, former student, was seen on the campus, Sadie.

Refinements in the form of cookies were passed to the Physio class on the subject of how a person's taste changes to that of his surroundings.

Evidently Harold Gistin is learning something—at least he has two fair instructors.

Self Control Exercise

The high school students of Loma Linda are forbidden to talk in the halls while passing between classes. It is reported that the students have obeyed this rule and have kept it. It is certain that under control of this kind the students are sure to develop into loyal citizens.

Pro and Con

Open forum was held at Campion Academy one day last week. One entire chapel period was devoted to the answering of questions handed in by the students. These questions were open to discussion by students and teachers, and proved to be immensely interesting.

Invention for Study

The "Instructor" tells of an invention of the late John Muir, American Naturalist, while a student at the University of Wisconsin. This device was a considerable help in regulating his study time. At certain hours specific books would be presented mechanically from the classroom; at other hours none would be presented. This was done to force Muir to study the assigned books. He had the choice of many fine positions. After all these years I ought to know how hard it is to study with a partner. He must have answered the questions. Wow, he's studied last night. Listen to him now: "Last time."

Mendous lack of efficiency if I were to study a subject knowing full well that in any probability I wouldn't be called on. As a pre-med, I must teach myself efficiency. I wish this hour were over so we could go. He's calling on me. He called on R last time. He must have studied last night. Listen to him answer the questions. Wow, he's calling me one now. Watch me bluff. Oh, Oh, he caught me at it. After all these years I ought to know better than to try that stuff. Well, the professor's nice fellow. He'll know how hard it is to study with a partner. When will that bell ring? There it goes. Well, now for a two-week orgy of inactivity.

Luncheon Club Is Formed

Thirteen lively inmates of Gladwyn Hall recently got together and called themselves by the title of Zeta Gamma Chi. The members of this club now meet at weekly intervals and sociably consume their respective sack lunches. Various other functions have been held since Zeta Gamma Chi was organized.

Two surprise parties have been given in honor of the birthdays of two of the members, Lois Clement and Frances Rutan.

Several business meetings have been called for the purpose of making plans for the coming year. A poppy song has already been adopted and is being hummed here and there about the campus.

The charter members are: Margaret McClellan, Amelia May Thompson, Loll Clement, Wilma Spears, Mary Mackenzie, flora Potter, Lois Gayle Crain, Margaret Woodall, Virginia Welforth, Lois Christensen, Grace Scott, Sanny Abbott, and Frances Rutan.

EXCHANGE

BACH AND HANDEL

THEME OF PROGRAM

(Continued from page one)

On one occasion I have enjoyed a great time up here. I certainly was surprised when I saw him up here, for I thought he was still at La Sierra. He is telling me about S. C. J. C. Maybe I will come down there some time and pay you a little visit.

Of course I don't have to tell you that I am getting along just fine in my school work. I major in languages, and I like it! Next year I will take Greek and Latin.

We have a good student body up here, and I have lots of good friends.

I enjoy reading the CRITERION, and think you are doing fine. It is an improvement since I saw you last, and I have no bad marks on it.
Habit Subject At Vespers

President E. E. Cossentine spoke about habits and their formation in the last vesper service of 1934, Friday, December 28.

Habit was defined by the speaker as "something you do till you can't stop it." He illustrated this by paper, which once folded will ever afterward naturally fold on the first crease.

"Now as we face the New Year, we all have some habits we need to drop," said the President. "We should," he pointed out, "avoid falling into foolish habits."

"Success," stated the speaker, "is decided by willingness to pay the price in our life for things."

The speaker told the story of a man who attended the Loma Linda Medical College for one year and was then forced to stop. He taught school for nine years, studying medical subjects on the side in the evening. Now, at forty years of age, this individual is giving up a fine position to again enter Loma Linda to fulfill his steady determination to become a doctor.

"There's nothing that can stop a man like that, is there?" asked the President.

In closing, he stated that these days are demanding strong young men and women, and that correct habit formation is responsible for building strong characters.

Vacation Program Success

"Some of them bugs will get you some day," was the warning given as Miss Maxine Atteberry pointed an accusing finger at people whom she thought would have died disorders, in her role as crippled grand- man, discussing gastronomic difficulties at the entertainment in the woman's home, Saturday night, Dec. 29.

Hearty applause resulted in another reading by Miss Atteberry, "I Ain't Going to Cry No More," in which troubles and pains were multiplied to the limit.

Various indoor games were played and a march was held before the group broke up.

Remaining Students Enjoy Vacation

In order to work, do lab. experiments, or just to enjoy vacation on the campus, about 48 students remained at the college for the mid-winter holidays, December 19 to January 1.

During the day most worked. In the evenings various entertainments offered diversion from the usual heavy routine of school and work. In addition to the regular evening programs there were several trips to the mountains by small groups.

Those remaining at the institution for part or all of the vacation period were: "Andy" Atchison, Jim Anderson, John Ames, "Bill" Armstrong, Berneta Austin, Nettie Atteberry, Ben Brewer, Jack Cailes, Frank Cook, Harold Conner, Allan Cossentine, "Don" Davenport, Mil. McPherson, Carol Neidigh, who alternates with Don Davenport, etc.

(Continued on Page Four)

Winter Sports Enjoyed

Nearly 100 A.S.B. members attended the snow party held at Big Pines on January 8. Toboggan riding, hiking, snowballing and sledding occupied the afternoon and evening. Eats and hot chocolate were furnished by the A.S.B. in the early evening.

(Continued on Page Four)

Cowboys Ride Range

S.C.J.C. has cowboys. This discovery was made by one of them recently while he was "riding the range" on the alfalfa plains below the College.

It happened this way. Rodger Neidigh, who alternates with Don Davenport in herding about 85

(Continued on Page Four)

RECREATIONAL SPOTS

By L. Pasiron

In the past, little has been said of the many points of scenic and historical interest that are near the College. It is interesting to note that Riverside County is said to contain a greater variety of soil, climate, and production than any other county in the United States, as James Boyd pointed out in his history of Riverside County.

Within from one to three hours driving distance of the school, in San Diego and San Bernardino Counties, as well as in Riverside, are spots that attract many tourists as well as those who live in the Southernland. Here are some of them listed with driving time from S.C.J.C.

Mt. San Gorgonio

Rugged mountain scenery of the most primitive type awaits the mountain climber about Barton Flats and South Fork, in the San Bernardino National Forest. Trout streams flash down precipitous slopes to join the Santa Ana River.

Deer abound in this region of massive pine trees. In spring the forest floor is in many places covered with ferns, wild irises, and with other less abundant flowers.

(Continued on Page Two)

Former Editors Visit S.C.J.C.

Former editor of "The Criterion" '32, and president of the junior class of '32, Milton Lee, returned to S.C.J.C. to visit the College, on December 28. Mr. Lee was recently elected editor of the "Campus Chronicle" of Pacific Union College for the next semester.

He has lived in China most of his life, graduating from the Far Eastern Academy, at Shanghai, as president of the class of '31. During his senior year there, he witnessed the Chino-Japanese War.

One week previous to Mr. Lee's visit to this college, Gordon Anderson, editor of "The Criterion" '32, and president of the senior class of '32, also visited the institution. Mr. Anderson, who spent some years at S.C.J.C., attended Emmanuel Missionary College last year.

(Continued on Page Four)

Impersonator Entertains

Large Group Present

Impersonating such famous characters as Lincoln, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, and Wilson, John Ratto, famous lecturer and entertainer, appeared before 300 students and friends in the College Auditorium, the evening of January 5.

During the program he presented numerous other sketches of more local flavor, which were received with considerable enthusiasm by the audience.

Among those, was the story of "Tony," in which Flanagan saves Tony's little daughter, Antoinette, in a fire, and thereafter is pursued by many of Tony's peanuts as he wishes. Another character study was that of an aged German maestro who was forced by poverty to pawn his violin, and then died of grief.

Mr. Ratto also impersonated various Scandinavian and Irish characters.

McPherson Speaks At Science Club

Dr. Walter McPherson, brilliant professor of physiology at the College of Medical Evangelists, addressed the Sigma Gamma on the physiological aspect of the soul, on the evening of January 5.

Man was divided by the speaker into three divisions: physical, mental, and spiritual.

Every cell wheather dead or alive is exactly the same, according to Dr. McPherson, the sole difference being that indescribable "life." That death is caused more by lack of nutrition than anything else is proved, he showed, by the fact that at Columbia University there are cells alive today that were removed from an embryo twenty-five years ago and kept in a culture medium.

The rather astounding statement that the brain is not the seat of life, was made by the speaker, who cited a case in which the brain of a rabbit was removed without causing the animal to die.
There are two causes of the depression that we have not yet seen acknowledged by anyone, and these are the slovenly habits of people in working, and the reckless spending of money in imbecile amusements.

A former student of this institution who once worked for Insull’s Northern Service Company of Illinois, told us of the conditions prevailing among some of the workers employed in the concern. College students that were given jobs used the most extreme methods to avoid honest work, preferring to loaf.

But college students are not the only ones to offend by dishonest laziness. Some of the men who have been working in various government projects lay down on the job as efficiently as the “rah, rah boys”.

Those who are observant enough to notice happenings like these may wonder why work should be thus done. The answer is simple. The men do not put their mind and heart into their labor, trying to find ways of improving their own methods.

Too many individuals regard work as an unpleasant by-line to the main object in life—pleasure. And not reasonable pleasure either. They go in for the tawdry, gilded hippodrome type, cheap slot-machine stuff, and movies which usually are either morbid or nasty.

One wonders if there is not some disadvantageous gulf between the present generation and our rough, honest forebears, who industriously put apples, corn and potatoes in the cellar for winter, sneered at “city dudes,” and who on occasion plucked arrows “out of the several members of their families to build the evening campfire with.”

This disjointed world needs, and will continue to need, men who live in Spartanistic simplicity, men who also love labor for the sake of accomplishing something of value, and who have an immense enthusiasm for living and not for “getting by.”

Most of us, as students here, have lived about one-third of our life now, and our habits are in process of fixation.

Is there any better time for admonishing ourselves to be diligent, and making accomplishment the main interest of our lives than the present?

H.L.K.
What I Learned in European Survey
By Frank Cook

I have learned that poor old Europe has had a struggle down through the ages with its people and government. I have found that it is extremely necessary to take good concise notes while Prof. Reynolds gives us the history of our ancestors in lecture form. His keen mind and witty tongue, somehow in a mysterious manner make the European Survey class very interesting. His common sense answers to foolish questions provoke some and amuse others. I have learned that misspelling one word does not increase a term paper grade, and that it also should be in on time. I have noticed that human nature is the same today as it was when Rome burned to the tune of Nero's fiddle, and that politics aren't something new. I have learned that at one time unbidden policemen stepped quietly into Swiss houses to ask if its occupants were asleep, and that there was an age when a gold standard existed.

'27
FORD
Pick Up
A1 Shape, Good Rubber
TERMS
Ernest Broadbent
LA SIERRA HEIGHTS
Linn Drive

Night Volley Ball Initiated

Searching for something new and different, the students remaining on the campus initiated night volley ball on the evening of December 20. About 35 students divided into teams of six contested with each other in the evening tournaments refereed by Dean Walter T. Crandall.

Though there were no lights, the bright moonlight made it possible for the contestants to see the ball easily.
I woke from out my slumbers and added to these resolutions—and they wrote them with an ice pick. Now hall runners have been installed in the women’s home. They are greatly pleased with the runners for rubber which, we hope, won’t fail long. Helene Osborn received five boxes of candy for Christmas. George Clement spent a few days at his home near San Diego. Vernice Owens spent the holidays at her home in Turlock.

(Continued from Page One)

Grace Scott spent the vacation in New York City and Santa Barbara. ’Miss Seppala was the guest of Miss Wallace at Los Altos for the vacation. Harry Scherrich, professor and Mrs. Abel, Miss Borenstrom, Professor Putta, Miss Trittscheit and waltch at Big Pine Sunday night, December 20. Harry doesn’t know the temperature but he says it was plenty cold.

Berenice Waters was home all vacation at Modesto, California. Dalea Moon spent a few days in Glendale but returned Christmas night. Emma Finn spent Sabbath in Glendale.

Jean Deiter spent vacation in Franko. S. C. J. C. C. students present at Mrs. Foe Mohr’s New Year’s Eve party were: Miss M. M. Bowers, Miss M. M. Mahias, Miss C. M. Knowles, Richard Holbroek, Henry Kahn, Elburton Rice, Caroda Simkin, and Jack Waller. K. C. J. C. Alumni present were Barbara Walters and Richard Waller.

Mrs. Foe Mohr accompanied her brother and her home in Turlock. Mrs. Fae Mohr accompanied her brother to the Mohrs in Cumberland, and returned Christmas night.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

EXCHANGE

Jingle Bells
Living in sunny California may have its advantages but we can only wonder what a real sleigh ride would be like. The “Clock Tower” reports a jolly sleigh ride recently enjoyed by some three dozen sophomores of the college. It looks as though S.C.J.C. can’t compete quite so well when it comes to winter sports.

To the Visitors—
The girls of E. M. C., according to the “Student Movement,” gave a victory banquet on December 10 to commemorate the victory which their opponents, the young men, had won. The campaign closed with the young men 10 subscriptions in the lead. The total of 1,438 subscriptions were raised by the students in this campaign.

COWBOYS’ RIDE RANGE
(Continued from Page One)

years and a half dozen horses, was watching his charge when a lute model car drew up on the highway opposite. A man waved him over. Rodger swept up in a gallop and stopped expectantly.

To his son, the driver pointed out that this horseman was a true Western cowboy. To Rodger he explained that they were visitors from the East, and that his son had always wanted to see an actual cowboy. The group drove off much gratified, apparently, at their discovery.

What We Think

What Next, Papa Time?
One of the sorest spots on the thumb of Europe at the present time is the Suez plebiscite. This is because France and Germany both have much to gain and lose in the outcome. This feeling is intensified by the fact that it is not certain which way the population will vote, as each nation offers certain advantages that the other does not. Each nation feels that the other is using sinister propaganda and will not be willing to let this rich region go for nothing. One good thing about it is that it takes our minds off of the depression for a while.

War Does Get Boring
According to reports from Paraguay, Bolivia seems to have become tired of the Gran Chaco war and turned to the old South American custom of president-baiting. But that’s just what Paraguay says.
Education Lauded By Avery

Power to Think Essential, Believes Speaker

Professor Avery, educational secretary of the Southern California-Arizona Conference, brought to the students during chapel, January 9, the great importance of an education.

"Thinking," said Professor Avery, "is a great thing in success." He showed the need of thinking. In the common schools development of the power to think is taught. Speed is the demand of the time and the power to think with the speed of other things is essential.

"One hour a day," said the speaker, "would change an ignorant man into a well-informed man in ten years."

In the common schools, those schools where God is teacher, are found great sources of knowledge. In conclusion the speaker quoted: "Higher than the highest human thought can reach is God's ideal for His children."

Nursing Discussed

Development of Nursing Told

On Monday morning, January 7, during the chapel hour, Miss Rice, who is head of the nurse of Paradise Valley Sanitarium, presented the importance of the medical work.

She said, "Health reform is part of the third angel's message. It is the right arm of the message."

The speaker showed how schools for nursing have been developed until they stand well with any other education, and how nurses trained in our institutions are trained to serve in an unselfish manner.

Illustrations were cited by the speaker showing the good that was done by the God-fearing nurse. One of the doctors of a Catholic hospital at San Diego brings most of his patients to the Paradise Valley Sanitarium because of the conscientious nursing there, Miss Rice said.

Music Students in First Recital

Giving their first recital of the year, the students of piano and voice met in an informal gathering on January 13 in the College Chapel. The program was interesting because of the variety in the numbers played.

Remarkable for its tone quality, shading and general technique was a selection given on the piano by Chester Atter, "Clair de Lune," by Debussy.

"Dear Little Boy of Mine," by Paul Macfetosh, bass soloist of the Cappella choir for two years. (Continued on Page Three)

Typists Rewarded

Splendid progress in the typing class is reported by Miss Carolyn Hopkins, commercial department head.

Recently the following pins and certificates have been awarded students for speed and accuracy by the Woodstock Typewriter Company: Ruth Cossentine, 50 words per minute; Hazel Walde, 50 words, silver pin; Evelyn Palmquist, 40 words, bronze pin; Bernece Waters, 35 words, seal; Bill Baker, 33 words, seal.

A remarkable performance was turned in by Edith Moore, according to Miss Hopkins, who stated that she made 35 words a minute with no errors after taking only one semester of typing. (Continued on Page Two)

To Leave for Glendale

Miss Marion Leitch, graduate of the commercial department secretarial training course will leave at the close of the term for Glendale where she will do secretarial work at the Pacific Union Conference office. Miss Leitch has held various positions in the Associated Student Body, being manager of the circulation department of The Criterion, and associate editor in 32-33. She has been soprano soloist in the A Cappella choir for two years. (Continued on Page Three)

England Subject of Club Meeting

Speaking on the country of England, and the customs of her people, Elder H. C. Lacey, of the College of Medical Evangelists addressed the Arts and Letters Guild in the parlor of Gladwyn Hall on the evening of January 12.

All formalities and business matters were dispensed with in order to give as much time as possible to Elder Lacey, who was introduced by Professor Pentling.

Elder Lacey came from the suburb of Leicester, England, but is "very American," as he puts it. His father's health began to fail and the family moved to Tasmania, where he received his high school and college education. However, while in England, he attended a

Snow Covers Mountains

Since the recent A.S.B. snow-party at Big Pines, a storm has laid down another layer of white and winter sports are in full swing, especially in the Lake Arrowhead region, and at Big Pines.

Crystall-clear ice is reported at the risk at the latter resort by "Bud" Gates, who skated there last Saturday night. There has been so much skating that the ice is rough, he reported.

Elder J. S. Shaw Addresses Church

Study of Bible Stressed

Elder J. S. Shaw's sermon at the eleven o'clock hour, Sabbath, January 12, was based on the text, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." II Timothy 3:16.

"The world of our present day, having cast aside the Word of God, is spiritually diseased," said the speaker. "There is a crying need of light bearers who are able to teach the Word that will heal and draw souls to God. If every Adventist were as well versed and diligent in the study of the Scriptures and as able to administer them as they were at the beginning of our movement, what wonders might be wrought by the increased number of believers," he continued. "But a sad condition exists among us. We do not know how to apply the Holy Word." Elder Shaw told of a nurse who was asked to give a

Death Valley Pictures Shown

Was Pre-view of Desert Trip

Saturday night, January 12, four reels of moving pictures were shown, pictorially describing one of nature's wonderlands, Death Valley. The pictures follow the usual itinerary of tourists and also that of the trip which the Science Club will take next spring.

Among the many interesting places shown were: Dante's view, Golden Canyon, The Devil's Golf Course, Bad Water, Furnace Creek Ranch, Ubehebe Crater, Rhyolite, and the Devil's Cornfield.

Some interesting facts pointed out about these places follow: Bad Water is 310 feet below sea level, the lowest point in the world except for the Dead Sea. The Furnace Creek Ranch is the lowest point on...
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

Entered as second class matter, November 7, 1929, at the Post Office at Arlington, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.
Published every Thursday by the Associated Students of Southern California Junior College. Printed by The College Press.

HENRY LEWIS KUHN  Editor-In-Chief

STAFF A
Associate Editor: Yelma Matheson
Assistant: Margarette Lacey
Proof Reader: Rodger Neddick
Secretary: Ruth Cossentino
Exchanges: Frances Ratan
Alumnae: Jack Walker
Features: Grace Wimpet
News: Allan Cossentino
Free: Fred Howes
Make-up Editor: Ralph Munson
Art: Frank Cell
Fountain of News: Walter Reynolds

STAFF B
Associate Editor: Elouise Jones
Assistant: Jean Marie Pietrek
Proof Reader: Valencia Jones
Secretary: Edna Klein
Exchanges: Ethel Soto
Alumnae: Wilma Spooner
Features: Violet Merrick
News: Doug Wimpet
World News: Allan Cossentino
Free: Fred Howes
Make-up Editor: Ralph Munson
Art: Frank Cell
Fountain of News: Walter Reynolds

REPORTERS

BUSINESS
Treasurer: George Clampet
Circulation: Marion Leitch
Advertising: Charles Morgan

ADVISORS
Literary: J. P. Fenteling
Business: A. R. Smith

This Issue Edited by Staff "B"

EDITORIAL

THE COMING OPPORTUNITY

We are now reaching the half way mark of our six-lap race. How do you stand in the running? Are you one of the selected few at the very head of the runners, or are you among the large number just lagging so far behind that perhaps you will not even finish?

While you are rejoicing in the fact that this school year is half over, don’t forget the good resolutions you made at the beginning of the term. Perhaps you didn’t carry them all out, because after all, we’re merely human, but the fact that you failed once is no excuse for not trying again. This new semester is a real opportunity to begin anew—and all though it’s the seventeenth of January instead of the first, a few good resolutions would not be at all amiss. Let’s all determine to make the coming semester a better one, socially, and spiritually.

A LITERARY EDUCATION NEEDED

It is pleasant to notice the formation of the “Arts and Letters Guild,” since three years have passed since there has been an organization of the literary minded.

There is a somewhat excessive interest in scientific pursuits on the campus because of the type of students that come here, and perhaps to the proximity of Loma Linda; but this interest should be balanced by interest in cultural pursuits, especially in the study of the best authors.

As Professor H. C. Lacey put it in his address to the Literary Club last Saturday night, we should embrace every opportunity to secure a “literary education,” and become acquainted with the works of the masters of English literature.

What the denomination needs very much and will need more badly later on, is men who know how to write expository articles for magazines, men who can express themselves gracefully in the modern essay style. And to secure that ability those who select journalism for their life work—and there should be more doing for that each year at all our higher schools—should do everything in their power to increase their literary appreciation and skill in writing.

H.L.K.

New Books Received

Our college library has reached another milestone, as it were, in its existence. Last week saw the celebration of the entrance of 6,000 books in the library accession books. That means that you have over 6,000 books at your disposal.

Some interesting new books obtained in January are as follows:
- Zwemer, “Thinking Missions With Christ”
- Gilkey, “You Can Master Life”
- Wildes, “Japan in Crisis”
- Groselie, “Money: The Human Conflict”
- Randall, “The Dean’s Window”
- Sturtevant, “Deans at Work”
- Day, “Shadow of the Sroad Window”
- Wade, “Real Americans”
- Swett, “Story of Religions in America”
- Sokolsky, “Labor’s Fight for Power”

DEATH VALLEY PICTURED

the Western Hemisphere where no natural vegetation will grow. The Ghost town of Rhyolite has the second largest railroad station in Nevada, both as been idle for fifteen years.

The varied rock formations, salt deposits, and many landmarks of the 1849 gold rush, make Death Valley a truly enchanting place to visit.

The pictures were used through the courtesy of Frasers and Company, the University of California at Berkeley, and the Pacific Coast Borax Company. They were shown on the school’s new projector, which incidentally, rendered excellent service.

Poets’ Corner

GOLD IN THE CHESTS OF THE KING

There are those who are rich in the things of this world;
But are poor in the things from above;
Who are struggling alone to gain things that corrupt,
And thus lose the bright gems of God’s Love.

There are those who are poor in the things of this world,
Yet claim wealth in the chests of the Lord;
To the world they are fountains of peace and life,
And true heralds of His precious word.

In the end incorruptible crowns shall be ours
If our treasures to Jesus we bring.
After all, more, then glory, then life, eternal!

Have you part in the gold of the King?

ENGLAND SUBJECT OF CLUB MEETING

(Continued from Page One)

state school for boys. The custom of selecting the best girls in one school and boys in another. He told of many experiences he went through during his school life. The school system of England at the time was decidedly in contrast with the present.

The state schools were very expensive. The charity schools were free and those attending wore blue uniforms. The spirit between these two groups was antagonistic and as many, he says, fought he witnessed and engaged in against the parochials.

The courses of study in England are different. The average college or high school boy carried 10 or 12 studies at a time, but for a longer period. This made the lessons memorable, and Elder Lacey says it was a characteristic of English schools that the teachers, or masters, are men. Elder Lacey’s definition for a master is a fellow that carried the cane. The way the cane was administered was to ask the culprit to hold out his hand and receive his reward.

The time came in his life when he desired a Christian experience. He was at about this time that he left England for Tasmania. In regard to England’s climate, Elder Lacey spoke of the equability of the English climate, due to the Gulf Stream. London sunshine is very extraordinary. In the newspaper weather reports you find exceptions such as these: “London sunshine—1 minute.” or “London sunshine—2 minutes.” If two weeks go by without rain it is a drought. Comparatively, England is a veritable garden—a land of flowers and trees, of dairies and buttermills, in contrast to California’s all sunshine in a desert.

While speaking of the great outdoors, Elder Lacey gave the following health rule to follow: “In order to keep physically fit, breathe deeply in fresh air twenty times a day, and then take a walk. The English people do a great deal of walking—and yet, England is a land of traffic—one sees vehicles of all descriptions, small cars, big cars and bicycles—a countless number of bicycles.”

In comparison with England, much disrespect is shown to teachers. The caps and gowns lend a feeling of respect to the masters. The judges always wear wigs and gowns. Ministers wear distinctive (Continued on Page Four)
Elder J. L. Shaw
Addresses Church

(Continued from Page One)

Bible Reading, but did not know how. "If the people of God are unable to break to others the words of life, how shall the world be warned? In the language of Paul, "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel."

The true purpose of our institutions of learning is to prepare young people, not only for usefulness in service, but to teach them to spread the Gospel. Elder Shaw said, "As surely as the grace of God has called us, just so surely is there a place in the work of God for each of us." He closed his remarks by admonishing every student to "bind the word of God to his heart, to make it a part of his life."

MUSIC STUDENTS IN FIRST RECITAL

(Continued from Page One)

A Cappella Choir, was another outstanding piece.

Technic in bringing out under-tones was discussed briefly by Miss Evangeline Voth, head of the piano department, while she demonstrated on the piano. The entire program follows:

Minuet from Don Juan ..... Mozart
Junior Nydell
Mighty La La No. 1
Sunny Potter

Trillato Goodrich
rlen OTP ort lems

Lenita Engleman

Lenita
Tears of Sorrow Spohr

Prelude in E Flat Minor DeKoven
Sarita Nydell

Pizzicato Delibes

Valerie Mountain

Coasting Burleigh

Louise Carr

En Courant Godard
Margaret Woodall

Duma
Dear Little Boy of Mine Ball
Paul McIntosh

Clair de Lune Debussy

Chester Alcorn

Accompanist: Paule Burrows, Margaret Woodall.

WE PRE-MEDS

(Continued from Page Four)

FISHER OIL COMPANY

2807-17 Main Street (At Underpass) Phone 408

Here to Serve You Quality and Price

Come True, The Writer's Tools, Rejection Slips, Braving the Editor-Den, etc. Order your copy today from Miss Mable Hinckle, Southern Publishing Association, Nashville, Tennessee.

"The happiness of your life depends upon the character of your thoughts."—Marcus Aurelius

"Today war is the pastime of munition makers."—Prof. Reynolds

Girls' Forum

As the girls of Gladwyn Hall came to the worship room Thursday evening, Jan. 10, they found the chairs arranged in a circle, and a blackboard in the center of the room with a sign, "Sit down by your friendship friend."

After "thank you's" were exchanged, and all was quiet again, the new president, Beatrice Hinkle, announced the program for the evening. Odetah Brock gave a reading in which the theme was faithfulness to one's religious convictions; it was not a sermon, however, but a very interesting monologue.

New Friendship Friends were received by pulling a paper that had a name on it, off the bottoms of the chairs. "Friendship friends" is a regular feature at Gladwyn Hall.

\[ \text{Words to Writers'} \]

Are you interested in writing? Then you should secure a copy of the booklet, "Words to Writers," by Miss Mable Hinckle. In this booklet, the author gives in condensed form what she has learned from years of experience in both proofreading and writing. The material was printed first as a series of articles in the "Review and Herald," May 24 to June 14, 1934. Since offering it for sale in booklet form, the response has been most encouraging. Almost all of the first edition, selling at 15 cents a copy, has been exhausted, and the author is anxious that the students in our schools get the benefits of the low price on the remaining copies. The price on the second edition will be 25 cents each.

The booklet contains 36 pages, including a four-page supplement especially for Seventh-day Adventist writers. Just a few of the topics treated: Life's Greatest Moments, Self-expression, Qualify Technique, What to Write About, Originality, Nothing New?, How Writers Write, When Filing Dreams.
The Sunny Strip
by Jack Waller

TITLES HAVE CHANGED

Mishap. Father spoke to the members of M.E.B. Monday evening, January 3, on the subject, "Prescription and Cause Common Cold." "Many colds," she re- marked, "are caused by eating foods or, in a deficiency of body regulating foods. They may be caused by unwise exercise in the cold. Among the prevention of these, careful, moderate diet, regular exercise, and proper care of the body.

Miss Hannah was honored by the over- seen of the A. B. S. for distinguished efforts. They were: Elder and Mrs. J. L. Shew, treasurer of the General Conference; Professor and Mrs. W. E. Howell, Educational Secretary of the General Conference; and Miss Katherine B. Hall, who gained distinction in her educational circle for writing of textbooks. The visitors remained until Sunday, January 10.

Professor and Mrs. W. E. Coones spent the Girl Dormitory to write their reports on the visitors, Thursday evening, Jan. 10.

Elder Eerom and his crew of gar- deners sawed splendid trees around the baseball diamond.

Hand Walke is receiving treatment for a cracked knee, caused by a fall on the ice.

The Riverside Musicians' Association, under the direction of Nellie Parker, were featured by singing "In the Garden" January 14, in the Colost Music Room of the Mission Inn.

Nellie Parker, president of the Riv- eride Musicians Association, recently announced, in her address, that she would show her around the campus.

Mr. A. C. Smith, pastor of the Seno- weh service, Sunday evening, January 15, told the students about his plan of liv- ing while obtaining an education.

Harold (A. B. P.) Pick is already cream- ing for semester exams. Wow! Be with those who are in his classes. They will not do any big work.

Dean and Mrs. Trumbull have been ill with "flu" of late. The young men of the school express their sympathy and wish them a speedy recovery.

Norman Beeman, Fred Hawes, Con- nor, John Broaddus, Bill, Jim, Bert, Selvaj Gilla, Lyke Harmon, Carl Sturczek, and Charles Dockham spent Saturday night in Glendale.

Lois Gayle Crain, Helen Kintner, and Phoebe Porter spent their time at Glendale Saturday night and returned Sunday afternoon.

Girls' worship, Sunday evening, was a closing hour, evidently. Anyone who had lost any article since school began reported it and many things were recov- ered.

The Riverside Musicians' Association, under the direction of Nellie Parker, were featured by singing "In the Garden" January 14, in the Colost Music Room of the Mission Inn.

Mr. L. H. Spears visited his daughter, Wilma, on Sunday afternoon.

Neither "flu" were thrown, nor any- thing that cannot be cured by a simple boil. Anyway we might have had to go home to our meals unless he does tenure us all.

Perry Miles enjoys tremendous kitchen- ing because he always "washes down the arrow" if he drives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shock spent the week-end in Loma Linda. Ade, Elma, and their sister-in-law, Dorothy Hawks, and Hannah, friends.

Mrs. Grace Dillbeck spent Sunday with her daughter, Dorotha.

To Henry:
"A school paper is a great invention. The editor gets all the credit.
And the staff gets all the blame."
—The College Key

Ice Skating

We note with increasing interest the reports of activities of our eastern college friends. The majority of their social events this season have been sports which in sunny California are not very familiar. The students and faculty of Atlantic Union College are, however, having much ice skating on the pond nearby, resulting in fun and mishaps as well. Anyway, we still have Jackson Lake; meanwhile, we enjoy our "snow winters."

Another Strike

Five hundred students of Central High School at Bridgport, Connecticut, went on a strike recently for shorter hours. Last year the classes were held only half a day and now the students are demanding regular hours. We still have a "labor strike." Well, think how we'd feel—

As Grace Winget

We Pre-Meds

Last vacation, I stayed away in the back of the Hopman family's limousine for approximately sixty hours and obtained a very interesting view of Doctor Dan and some exceedingly dry (I mean this scientifically) colleagues. For my other work is done, I write a poem just for fun; I never even rack my brains. It doesn't take a bit of pains; I scribble off a thousand words. Like Henry makes a million Fords:

"I have been informed that as soon as Jack Cade finished with his newest course he is to take a teaching position.

Miss Ethel W. was superintendent of school at Loma Linda, works to the close of surveying for last Thursday.

"This is the same period that we want them to grow up to be sturdy citizens of.

Patriotism is inculcated in the minds of pupils to a great degree. Elder Lacey spoke of the love of the people for Queen Victoria and the deep grief and feeling of loss when her death was announced. He said, "When people come into a free society, they must know that the freedom of speech is tolerated. This is one of the factors that binds the Empire together."

English literature is the glory of England. We, as a denomination, do not belittle education. God wants us to have a literary education. One of the troubles of our denomination is that we have more ability than actual work. We need more training and culture. We should embrace every opportunity to get a literary education and become acquainted with the works of such men as Shakespeare, Macauley, De Quincy, and Carlyle. We should avoid the two extremes: that of ignoring the value of the other and that of avoiding them alto- gether. For a religious education, however, the Bible is our textbook. Become familiar, but do not acquire—

Perhaps states like Arkansas, Delaware, and Florida are the worst. They honor the apple blossom, the peach blossom and the orange blossom as state flowers. Reasoning thus, it must be recalled that a group of human beings receive glories who are but a fraction as useful to us as are other people of whom we have never heard. French history presents chapters on Na- poleon, but only paragraphs about Pasteur. English history shouls mention Kitchener, merely mentions Newton, and neglects Moseley, a

(Continued on Page Three)
THE COLLEGE CRITERION
PUBLICATION OF THE
ASSOCIATED STUDENTS
OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA JUNIOR COLLEGE
VOLUME VI
ARLINGTON, CALIFORNIA, JANUARY 24, 1935
NUMBER 8

Missionary From Africa Speaks
First Principal of S.C.J.C. Tells African Customs

Elder James I. Robison, first principal of this school, spoke to the student body during chapel, January 14, on some of the interesting characteristics of the native of South Africa. He showed many interesting things he had brought from that heathen land.

"To most newcomers," stated the speaker, "the African gives the impression of craftiness and dishonesty. This is far from the truth, for the native is honest according to his own standards. The height of honesty, in his estimation, is that which places the protection of clan and family first." Elder Robison says he finds the natives of South Africa to be, on the whole, a fine, upright race.

(Continued on Page Three)

Deceit Subject of Chapel Talk

The chapel speaker for Wednesday morning was Mr. W. F. Van Atta, secretary for the Book and Bible House, who gave a most interesting talk.

The theme of his talk was the fact that we are constantly being deceived. We have reached the place where we can't believe what we hear and not all of what we see. Quoting from Patriarchs and Prophets, the speaker said, "The attempts to deceive prove to be falsehoods."

"To most newcomers," stated the speaker, "the African gives the impression of craftiness and dishonesty. This is far from the truth, for the native is honest according to his own standards. The height of honesty, in his estimation, is that which places the protection of clan and family first." Elder Robison says he finds the natives of South Africa to be, on the whole, a fine, upright race.

(Continued on Page Three)

World War Veteran Addresses Students

Elder Nickel, who is soon leaving to take charge of the Panama Conference, impressed upon the students of the Impor tance of standing for principle, by pointing out results obtained by men who stood for what they believed to be right during the World War.

"All," said the speaker, "are just trying to get by. The man who does what he knows to be right and does with his efforts is the successful man."

He showed how the boys during the World War who would not bear arms were respected for their principle. The officers who were all first toward them honored their courage later.

He told the story of the Rainbow division regiment of American soldiers who were cut off from help and were about to be over-powered by the Germans. The Germans asked them to surrender and save their lives but they chose to stand their point of duty till death. Soon after this, help came.

"So," said the speaker, "help will come to each of us who stands for the right."

(Continued on Page Two)

Alchemy Modern Version
By Walter Reynolds

Impressionistic: strained, haggard features — eyes glittering questioningly — lips taut, stubbornly determined — hands, feet, precise — long, ceaselessly moving fingers — Snagly smoke, heavy, odorous, sticky. Over all a dim, mysteriously eerie light sifting thru the haze, striking a conglomerate array of glassware of all sizes and shapes, test-tubes, beakers, retorts, and queer distorted bottles resting crazily with glass pipes shooting off crookedly — a tiny flame, perishing, steady, relentless — tene-ness, fearful expectancy. The alchemist, bending over his crucible. Desire — hope in his eye. A drop of acid, a touch of water, a slight stir. A barely perceptible residue — anxiety — a muttered something.

A mad cry of despair. "Unknown thou art and unknown thou shalt remain!" "Oh, Professor Morrison, what was in it anyway?"

Llewellyn A. Wilcox Gives Sermon
Former S.C.J.C. Professor Discusses Wisdom

Elder Wilcox, former pastor and teacher at S.C.J.C., was the speaker at the eleven o'clock service on Sabbath, January 19. His topic was "The Blindness of Ignorance," which was based upon Romans 16:19 and I Corinthians 3:18.

"Where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise," he said that ignorance is the foundation of all true education. There are many men, who, in the eyes of the world, are thought to be very wise, but no one is really wise unless he is personally acquainted with the author of wisdom, for, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," Paul said, "I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil."

Satan tries to get our young people by the thrills he offers them. He fixes something very attractive to catch the feet of the unwary person. Satan promised Eve a thrill, and she got that thrill. Some thrills are intended for our young people, and some thrills are not intended for them. The speaker admonished us to stay away from these snares that Satan has made in order to beset us. He said, "Stay just as far away from the border line of sin as you possibly can. When we look to man trouble grows. When we look to God trouble goes."

The danger that confronts us nowadays, as a people, is that we have a denominational religion instead of a personal religion. None

(Continued on Page Two)
How Teachers Are Trained
By Hazel Lay

There is a definitely laid out course for the Normal student that requires so many hours of science, history, Bible, and methods, and a few other things. They must pass a number of teacher's examinations with a grade of ninety; but with all this knowledge stored away, and a high IQ, it is not going to make Brazil a good teacher necessarily. There has to be practical application of all the student has learned, and that comes from actual work in the classroom with the pupils. The best teacher is not always the brightest student, but she does understand human nature, she uses tact, and is a good disciplinarian.

Of course it has not been very long since most of us were mere youngsters in grammar school, ourselves, so we feel a bit timid upon our first appearance in the classroom as schoolmarm. But we soon learn that we are more dignified than we thought we were, and the children really do think we know a thing or two. That gives a pleasant feeling to think you know more than some one else, and are going to impart some of that knowledge.

But children are very clever creatures for some reason or other, sometimes more clever than the teacher, and it takes all the wit, patience, and tact that she possesses, besides her knowledge of the three r's, to keep up with them. They sometimes say some of the funniest things, and they say them in all seriousness, never doubting but that it is the proper thing to say.

SOUTH AFRICA DAYS
(Continued from Page One)

suburbs scattered out along the coast on both sides of the continent; for it is located on a peninsula where the Atlantic Ocean joins the Indian Ocean. Linking its suburbs with the city is a splendid electric train service besides buses and street cars. Most of the homes, especially the newer ones, are built along modern lines, and are more comfortable in some ways than are those of California. They are built of brick or stone, which makes them cooler in summer and warmer in winter than the usual wood or stucco houses that we have here. They do not have, however, the many modern conveniences that make American homes the best on earth.

The climate around the Cape Peninsula is very comfortable. The summers are quite warm but not too hot, and the winters, although more rainy than those of Southern California, are no colder.

South Africa is world renowned for its beautiful wild flowers, luscious fruits, and ever-changing scenery. It has, like Southern Califor-
Morrison Speaks

Professor Morrison, head of the college science department, spoke to the student body, in chapel, January 23, on the need of renewing their efforts for the coming semester.

"At this time of the year," said the speaker, "the students usually find themselves in one of three classes. First, those who say, "I have worked hard but I want to do better." Second, those who say, "I have not done my best but I am going to in the future." And third, those who say, "I have not accomplished a thing."

The speaker then impressed upon the students the need of systematizing their work by a set schedule.

"Plan your work," he said, "and then work your plan."

DECEIT SUBJECT OF CHAPEL TALK

(Continued from Page One)

played to him by twenty barrels. Tom told Jim to remove any barrel he chose, and bore a hole in the top. This being done, Tom placed a siphon in the barrel and had Jim sample it. "Pretty good stuff," said Jim. This process was repeated on several barrels and each time Jim's reply was the same, "Pretty good stuff."

"Jim," said Tom, "I'm pulling out of this place, and I'll sell you these twenty barrels for $500 per barrel." After much thought, Jim saw where he could make more money than he had paid. He passed Tom $10,000 in cash, took the barrels, and hauled them away.

After Jim had carefully stored his possessions in several places, he began the bottling process. Jim noticed that the liquor was a little off color so he tasted some of it, and to his surprise and amazement, he found its precious liquor to be none other than pure, harmless water!

In order to deceive Jim, Tom had concealed a flask of liquor under his coat, and by some apparatus he caused Jim to taste the good liquor instead of the contents of the barrel. You see we can't always judge the contents of a container by the taste. Through all this little episode nor once had Tom revealed the contents of the barrels. There are many cunning ways of deceiving one, and we must always be on our guard for such people.

In closing Mr. Van Atta made the following statement:

"The head has a thousand eyes,
The heart but one,
But the wealth of a whole life dies
When honor is gone."

"Ever in the strife of your own thoughts obey the nobler instinct. — Emerson."
Teachers notwithstanding, laziness can be almost a virtue. Many lives are wasted, of course, by overuse of this virtue. Many a person’s health is ruined, too, by overdose in indulgence in mashed potatoes.

Laziness, we see, is like all other good things in life. If used, it is a blessing, if misused, it is a curse.

Adam and his immediate descendents were turned empty handed into the world. They wanted to live. They needed to plant grain to live. They needed to plow the ground by tearing it up with their bare hands. This procedure was hard work. They could have just refused to plow. Under those circumstances, they would have died. The early men compromised by using their heads and harnessing oxen and horses; plowing plows through the ground. It was laziness which forced our early ancestors to use their heads and harness animal energy. It was similar laziness, a desire to do enough work in the amount of time devoted to work, to allow time for loafing after work was done that was left for men’s descendents to follow the true of their fathers and to harness the natural forces, and to build the civilization (?) of today. This laziness further murdered their heads and harness animal energy.

It was laziness which forced our early ancestors to use their heads and harness animal energy. It was similar laziness, a desire to do enough work in the amount of time devoted to work, to allow time for loafing after work was done that was left for men’s descendents to follow the true of their fathers and to harness the natural forces, and to build the civilization (?) of today. This laziness further murdered their heads and harness animal energy.

Paul Hawks

We Pre-meds

Teachers notwithstanding, laziness can be almost a virtue. Many lives are wasted, of course, by overuse of this virtue. Many a person’s health is ruined, too, by overdose in indulgence in mashed potatoes.

Laziness, we see, is like all other good things in life. If used, it is a blessing, if misused, it is a curse.

Adam and his immediate descendents were turned empty handed into the world. They wanted to live. They needed to plant grain to live. They needed to plow the ground by tearing it up with their bare hands. This procedure was hard work. They could have just refused to plow. Under those circumstances, they would have died. The early men compromised by using their heads and harnessing oxen and horses; plowing plows through the ground. It was laziness which forced our early ancestors to use their heads and harness animal energy. It was similar laziness, a desire to do enough work in the amount of time devoted to work, to allow time for loafing after work was done that was left for men’s descendents to follow the true of their fathers and to harness the natural forces, and to build the civilization (?) of today. This laziness further murdered their heads and harness animal energy.

It was laziness which forced our early ancestors to use their heads and harness animal energy. It was similar laziness, a desire to do enough work in the amount of time devoted to work, to allow time for loafing after work was done that was left for men’s descendents to follow the true of their fathers and to harness the natural forces, and to build the civilization (?) of today. This laziness further murdered their heads and harness animal energy.

M.B.K. Stages Skit

What was a near impromptu playlet given by a small group of men at the Mu Betta Kappa meeting on the evening of January 20.

The five minute skit, the historical “John Smith and Pocohontas”, was largely the work of Jack Waller, one of the campus poets.

The first scene showed the chief being fanned by two “braves.” Shortly, the “squaw” came around to see what was wanted for supper, while playing football the other day. We miss our Percy, and extend our sympathies.

The old age pension plans—what makes Couzens Neidigh—also—that bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. See—why not an ocean?

Can the Hawk and Herron fly?

Can we get Rich Quick?

Also—not changing the subject—who invented having semester exams?

What We Think

Anything But Work

The old age pension plans—everyone has them but they’re all different. There are about six plans of note to be tried. However, if the one that goes through fails, everyone will have had the right solution. One question: What do we want to have something out of the pork barrel, but where’s the pork?

We’re From Missouri

Plans are being made for a trans-Pacific air service to start in April. According to our notion business will be rather slow at first.

Don’t Pet Snakes

The thing revealed since the San Quentin prison break shows that people who are a menace to society should not be condoned or tampered with.

It’s Been Worked Before

If public opinion is still strong against it, then we’ll have our chance to work the switch-pullers will have their pictures in the papers. If not, we will probably get away with a frothy-mouth plea.
Science Club To Sponsor Trip

By Jack King

Are you going on the Science Club trip this year to Death Valley? Perhaps you too have heard this question before and are wondering about the prospects of going. Professor Morrison states that already a considerable number have expressed their intentions of going. The time set for the outing will be during the Spring vacation. Incidentally, it will be somewhat earlier this year, coming immediately after the first six week's examinations of this year, and if. immediately after the six week's examinations of last year. The route outlined for this year's excursion will cover over 900 miles of unusual scenic beauty, including the first six week's examinations of this year. The course is a one-way mining road surrounded by walls that tower above the car and allow just enough room for the cars to pass between. Almost half way up Death Valley, one suddenly comes upon the lower scaffolding of ore chutes of the Death Valley mine, the tops of which are far above the top of... (Continued on Page Three)

Choir To Begin Spring Tour

New Chemistry Laboratory Done

Research Being Done By Pre-Med.

Fred Horowitz, pre-med transfer from U.C.L.A., is now engaged in private research in the synthesis of phenyl-alanine, one of the amino acids, in the new organic laboratory. Since very little at present is known of the amino acids, which enter into the making of the protein of the human body, as well as for that of plant life, Mr. Horowitz believes that his work may aid in the work being done in this field. Vitamins and hormones are also connected with the amino acids. The specific work which Mr. Horowitz is engaged in is the reduction of phenyl-serine to phenyl-alanine. He has been working on this for some time, adapting the points of technique used by Dr. Max Dunn of U.C.L.A. He expects definite developments soon. (Continued on Page Three)

Former Student Holds Effort

Richard E. Delafield, graduate of the Theological Department here, class of '34, is now engaged in an evangelistic effort in the territory of Hawaii, in conjunction with L. D. Weber. According to a recent edition of the Maui News, Mr. Delafield is speaking at the towns of Paia, and Wailuku on the Island of Maui. His present address is Box 612, Wailuku, Maui, T.H.

Professor of English Speaks at Vespers

Speaking of the School of Heav-en, Professor J. F. Pentzling, professor of English, addressed the student body at vespers, Friday evening, January 25. The calendar of this institution is the Bible, stated the speaker, and God will teach us. Microscopes and telescopes will not be needed since our eyes will then be perfect, said Professor Pentzling.

"We shall need no Einstein to give us guess-hypotheses," he continued in the same connection. Other features of the celestial school were given by the speaker. According to him, there will be music, manual training, and field trips to other worlds, where there are branch institutions. Though there are wonderful buildings constructed of precious stones, most classes will be held outside. There will be no tuition fees there.

As to entrance requirements, he stated that one "must not necessity... (Continued on Page Two)

Group Visits Idyllwild

Taking a small group of Biology students, Professor and Mrs. Cushman visited Idyllwild, the week-end of January 18-20. Considerable snow and a large number of gray squirrels were reported at the resort by one of the party. Those who went on the trip were: Marjorie Robison, Walter Barber, George Gay, Luther Thompson, Edwin Anderson, and Professor and Mrs. Cushman.

Social Held at Week-end

For those students remaining on the campus over the last week-end, a social was held Saturday night in the parlor of Gladwyn Hall. About forty students played various indoor games before the group broke up for the evening.

Social Held at Week-end

Announcement of the Annual Spring Tour of the S.C.J.C. A Cappella Choir was recently made by Harlyn Abel, head of the voice department. This tour will include fourteen cities or towns of the Southland, four radio broadcasting stations, and will occasion twenty-two renditions of the program. The program will consist of twelve choral numbers, two organ, and two piano pieces. Nearly half of it consists of pieces in which words have been set to the music of such musicians as Bach, Beethoven and Tchaikowski.

City dates, time are as follows:

(Continued on Page Two)

Puppet Show Entertains

Many S.C.J.C. students saw their first puppet show when a Riverside Recreational group put on "Hansel and Gretal" in the college chapel, Thursday night, January 24, before about 200 students. About twenty-five were in the program, eight of whom were in the orchestra, which played semi-classical numbers.

The women of Gladwyn Hall were guests of Mu Beta Kappa for the evening.

Semester Exams Given

Semester examinations were held in all first term subjects, January 22-26, with the exception of organic chemistry, which was given the morning of January 28. The examinations were two hours in length.

Following the examinations, a considerable number of students took out leaves of absence for the week-end, returning for the second semester which began January 29.
OUR MENTORS

Commercial

Her day is spent close to the myriad of noisy chattering type-writers, where a soundproof plate-glass separates her look-out from the students busily transcribing the words for practice, or swiftly, tensely, taking tests for speed. She also teaches business law. Tells entrancing stories in which legal technicalities saved or lost the day for some one.

She tries to have every student at her house to eat at least once during the school term. Friday supper and Sabbath dinner, generally finds a group assembled about her table. Sunday morning finds a number of men there eating more waffles than is good for them. Miss Carolyn Hopkins took her undergraduate work at University of Minnesota, post-graduate work at the American Business College and University of Nebraska.

Language

Head of the Language Department is Miss Agnes Sorenson. Graduated from Emmanuel Missionary College, and took her M.A. at University of Michigan. Nothing daunted, continued as post-graduate at University of Mexico and later took up German and French at U. S.C. She teaches French, German, and Spanish, with an interesting freshness of style. Is distilling to those few students who have not studied, since she has an uncanny way of finding their deficiencies. Takes a very lively interest in the school activities. Her sports: Ice skating, mountain climbing.

Many men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties. —Spurgeon.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself into one.—Freud.

Science

Atoms, ions, formulas, equations and other items of similar ilk are the chief interest of Professor Carson Morrison, head of the chemistry department. His by-lines are the chairmanship of the campus program committee, and the sponsorship of the annual desert trip to Death Valley, the “ghost towns,” and Boulder Dam. Is extremely zealous in securing all manner of equipment for his department. Acts as advisor to Sigma Gamma, the science club, and also to the Associated Student Body. Holds a B.A. from P.U.C. and an M.S. from U.S.C.

English

Petite and intellectual-appearing, Miss Fedalma Ragon, instructor of English, gives to students the last English drills they will receive; until they enter College Composition, they will probably give mental thanks for her thorough work. Under her tutelage English III scholars study the lives and works of English authors and memorize poetry. She likes Wordsworth’s “Ode to a Nightingale” and other items of similar ilk are published later.

PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH SPEAKS AT VESPERS

(Continued from Page One)

Mr. Charles Morgan, advertising manager, who also resided at the summer, deserves the highest commendation for the work he has done for the paper under difficult circumstances.

Our advertisers are helping to make possible the publication of the paper on a weekly basis. Patronize them.

Editorial

Since it is customary in editorial columns, to occasionally complement worthy objects, we will here interject a though on the science department. Briefly, we believe that on the point of equipment and courses, it is one of the best, if not the best on the coast.

The recent resignation of Miss Marion Latch, head of the circulation department of THE COLLEGE CRITERION, brings to mind the excellent work she has done in her department. The staff wishes for her, continued success in her work with the Southern California Conference.

Mr. Charles Morgan, advertising manager, who also resided at the summer, deserves the highest commendation for the work he has done for the paper under difficult circumstances.

Our advertisers are helping to make possible the publication of the paper on a weekly basis. Patronize them.

Center of Campus Activity — Administration Building
SCIENCE CLUB WILL GO TO DESERT

It would be a rather queer world if the common reagent were something other than water. Consider that a living in a world where alcohol was the principal liquid. Everything would have to be constructed differently. Now we consider an acid molecule as one having a replaceable hydrogen ion, and an alkali molecule as one having a replaceable OH ion. If our common solvent were alcohol, a molecule with a replaceable hydrogen ion would be still acid. However, the formula of ethyl alcohol is \text{CHOH}\text{OH} and so the alkali molecule would have a replaceable CHO ion.

Our bodies would probably be constructed differently also. Instead of being two-thirds water, they would probably be two-thirds alcohol. Now we consider a glass of water, we would be liable to become inebriated.

This hypothetical solvent might not have any hydrogen in it. Perhaps it would be carbon tetra-chloride or even a single element such as mercury, or if temperature were suitable, molten iron. Under such conditions, new variations of the acid base question and the body structure problem would arise.

Food for Thought

Don't make excuses; make good.

Doing what can't be done, is the glory of living.—Samuel C. Armstrong.

The man who says "It can't be done," is liable to be interrupted by somebody doing it.

Why come temptation, but for man to meet and master, and make crouch beneath his feet?—Browning.

Our doubts are traitors and make us lose the good we oft might win, by fearing to attempt.—Shakespeare.

Never content yourself with doing your second best, however unimportant the occasion.—Gen. Sherman.

A conjectural flight into other worlds is no original idea of mine. It has been used innumerable times by chemistry professors here and there who say that it helps prevent our obtaining a warped view of the subject of chemistry.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION
Thoughts on the Piano

By Jerry Smith

The piano forte is one of the most complete and I believe it has the widest range of any musical instrument. It is like the orchestra in a number of ways, so it is one of the most independent of instruments.

Many of the great composers thought of the piano as an orchestra. Others opposed this view entirely.

Many of Bach's compositions are played on the piano, but Bach never wrote for any such instrument. He wrote for the spirit, harpsichord, organ, and other stringed instruments.

Beethoven thought of the piano as an orchestra. Thus his piano sonatas are really symphonies for the piano.

Beethoven would have appreciated the modern pianos which are built to stand the tremendous strain that the proper execution of one of his sonatas requires. Beethoven used to become so carried away by his emotions when playing, that nothing was safe in an arm's reach from him.

One time he knocked a boy over who was holding a light for him to read the music by.

Listz was a man who could make the piano sound like an orchestra. His technique has not been surpassed.

Each time he played, new glories were added to his name. Many people would not believe that he was a real human being. When he was a young boy he studied so hard that he had two nervous breakdowns.

By the time he was fourteen his father took him to the Paris Conservatory where he was refused admission by Cherubini who said that foreigners were not admitted to that school.

Listz resolved that if he ever became a great musician, he would give lessons free. He was hailed as the greatest piano virtuoso of all time and he carried out his resolution.

Rubinstein was second to Liszt as a virtuoso. His fingers were wider that they would just barely fit between the keys, so he occasionally hit hundreds of wrong notes during a performance. He would also forget portions of the compositions when he was performing.

With a stroke of his little finger, Rubinstein could break out any hammer of the piano. He usually prepared for this by having other pianists perform. One time Saint-Saëns was conducting a concert in which Rubinstein was the piano soloist. The piano, as it was played by Rubinstein, dominated the concert. Saint-Saëns lost control and let the rest take care of themselves.

(Continued from Page Three)
Radio Artists in Benefit Program

Gate Receipts to Improve Men's Dormitory

"Nip and Tuck," well-known radio stars from the studios of KNX, performed at the Mu Beta Keppa benefit program Saturday evening, February 2. Mrs. Al Proot, from Glendale, gave a number of readings.

(Continued on Page Four)

Journalism Class Writes Criticism

News writing was plunged into at once by the Journalism class, which started the second semester. Two of the early assignments required a written criticism of the "Fountain of News," and a sample copy of what the students thought it should be like.

The class will study the fundamentals of newspaper writing, and each member must actually have articles printed in some newspaper before credit for the course is given.

Cactus Garden Blooms

Taking its cue from the delightful spring weather that has been prevailing in Riverside valley, the cactus garden has burst into bloom.

Among the more than eight-five varieties of cacti that are found in this odd corner of the campus, the flaming red, spike-flowered aloe salndyckiana is the most brilliant. Almost as noticeable is the low fig cactus garden has burst into bloom.

Sixty Students To Write Stories

Sixty students of the English Composition class are working on stories for the "Instructor College Pen League" contest for 1935.

Although there are a considerable variety of articles which may be entered in the contest, all stu-
TRY

Did you say you couldn’t? How do you know you can’t? Perhaps someone else discerns talents in you that you have overlooked. Don’t discredit anyone’s judgment who asks you to do something. He will soon find out if you are not the one who can best do what he asked. Try! You can do your best.—C. S.

LIFE IN GLADWYN HALL

By Hazel Lay

Those good old days in Gladwyn Hall will never be banished from our memories. There is something in its atmosphere of friendliness that makes us all love the place and its occupants. After all is said and done, we are glad to be in the dormitory and we would not trade places with anyone.

Life in the dormitory is governed by the strictest routine. Promptly at 6:45 in the morning, we are rudely awakened from our peaceful slumber by the jangling of the "cowbell" up and down the halls. Oh, it would be ever so much nicer if we could have a few grumbles, we finally manage to get out of bed. By the time the bell rings for worship, a half hour later, we are fully clothed and in our right minds.

We really are pretty good at whispering; after a year’s practice one can carry on a conversation in a whisper quite effectively. A monitor teaches a new occupant in a whisper quite effectively. A monitor teaches a new occupant how much those walls in Gladwyn Hall must have heard in all those years! Sorrows, joys, griefs, gossip, laughter, and cherished plans have been discussed; but they remain a silent witness to all these confidences of roommates.

When Friday night comes, we all breathe a sigh of relief, for a day of rest is certainly needed after a week strenuous work and study. Little groups gather in different rooms to enjoy a good old S.C.J.C. sack lunch—and these sack lunches are no bad when one gets used to them—they are a great source of enjoyment, after all.

There are many things that could be said about life in the dormitory, but space and time will not permit. There are many things that could be said about life in the dormitory, but space and time will not permit. A year’s experience in a dormitory can be said about life in the dormitory, but space and time will not permit. A year’s experience in a dormitory is the only way that one can really know how enjoyable it really is.
WHERE WE PRE-MEDS WORK

On the south side of the campus between the Administration building and the boys’ dormitory, is situated one of the most interesting buildings of the college group, the science building. Its value is estimated at $40,000.

Upon entering the front door, a peculiar odor is the first thing that presents itself. Only that peculiar odor of formaldehyde can be associated with “cat” lab. which is going on in the basement. On the right and left sides of the first floor are the chemistry and physics laboratories. A choking sensation grips you as you pass the chemistry door. And why? Some pre-nursing student is making the halogens.

On the second floor is located the biology laboratory at the southern end of the hall and the anatomy classroom at the northern end. Ask any pre-nursing student what this room is noted for and she will immediately answer, “nickel papers.”

FISHER OIL COMPANY
2607-17 MAIN STREET (At Underpass) PHONE 608
Here To Serve You Quality and Price

Batteries $2.45 up Exchange
Motor Oil Quality - Price - Service
Beacon ... Union Gasoline

Rubidoux Portrait Studio
Commercial Photography Quality Kodak Finishing Hand Coloring

“Be that upon his business relays must bust or advertise”

HOME FURNISHERS
Furniture, Floor Coverings, Gas and Electric Ranges, G. E. Radios, Draperies, Hardware, Sporting Goods, Chinaware, Silver, Glassware, Pottery, Houseware, etc.

FRANZE'S
3730-60 Main Street Riverside

THE FINE PRINTER BEGINS WHERE THE CAREFUL PRINTER HAS LEFT OFF.
For ‘fine’ printing something is required in addition to care—certain vital gifts of the mind and understanding . . . . Fine printing may be described as the product of a lively and seasoned intelligence working with carefully chosen type, ink, and paper.” —Morison

This is our motive, aim, and purpose
THE COLLEGE PRESS
Southern California Junior College, Arlington, California
Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that I am writing home. I have been studying hard. I think I may have the courage of my convictions. I have almost forgotten something—"P.S. I'm going to write to your folks."

Your truly,

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home

A PRE-MED writes home

Let me see. It's about time to write home. "Dear Folks: Should I call each one by name? Oh, well. "Dear Folks," will do.

"Dear Folks: This is just a line to let you know that everything is going along smoothly. There isn't much to say. Really, there isn't very much. What can I tell you?"

Oh, yes. "It rained here last week but it's clear now." That's just about my limit.

"I have been studying hard. I would have written home earlier this week, but I didn't have the time." About here, I guess they ask how they are. "How is everyone at home?" They ought to write back. I don't think I can do it right now."

A PRE-MED writes home
Educator from Orient Visits

A recent visitor here was Charles F. Larsen, former principal of the Far Eastern Academy at Shanghai, China, an institution founded in 1926 for the children of S.D.A. missionaries in the Orient.

Mr. Larsen, who has spent the past six months visiting our academies and colleges in the United States, drove here from Colorado. He spoke to the men in M.B.K. hall on the wide-spread influence each wielded, and stated that he had heard much about S.C.J.C. while in China. He mentioned that a number of students from his institution had come here to school.

Mr. Larsen will sail from San Francisco for China on the President Hoover on February 22.

Graph Reveals Growth of Institution

Posted in the main hall of the Administration building is a graph made by Professor R. J. Reynolds which pictures the growth of S.C.J.C. It reveals a steady increase in enrollment from 1928 when the institution was made a junior college to the present day. The first year there were 49 students taking college courses. This year there are 233 according to the chart.

The students are shown to be taking in the following numbers: commercial 21; ministerial 21; liberal arts 41; educational 15; nursing 54; dietetics 4; dental 6; medical 59; preparatory to college 105.

Message of Health Given by Doctor

By Anna Mae Thompson

Dr. S. T. Johnson from Santa Ana gave a very helpful and inspiring message during the church hour and Sabbath.

Dr. Johnson took us on a very educational “mental trip” along the road to health and also down some of its alleys.

The first lap of our journey was down the dark and oppressive Gar and “To be hopeful, courageous, optimistic and true, to always be that which she dreams to be. To be able to do. To be hopeful, courage, optimistic and true. These are the things that she calls me to do. Without irritation, ever happy, serene.

(Continued on Page Two)

FIRST MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET HELD AT S.C.J.C.

Robison Tells Of Early Struggles Of S.C.J.C.

Professor J. T. Robison, the pioneer principal of this school, briefly reviewed, in two chapel talks, Wednesday and Friday, February 6 and 8, the laying of the foundation and development of this institution.

“God,” said Professor Robison, “has helped to establish this institution and He will guide in carrying the work on. God led the brethren who saw the need of such a school and helped them to establish it.”

He reviewed briefly how the school at San Fernando had been working before this school was established.

(Continued on Page Four)

A Cappella Choir Presents Program

By Lovell Roderick

Many visitors were present at the chapel of the college to hear the presentation of a very delightful program by the A Cappella Choir on the evening of February 8.

Among the best of the pieces given were “Andante Cantabile” by Tchaikowsky and “Beautiful Savior” by Christiansen.

Professor Harlyn Abel, director of the choir and head of the voice department, told the audience that

Do You Read the Paper?

Have you any good ideas for S.C.J.C.’s paper, the CRITERION? If you are interested in helping us to make up a report on this, turn to page four in this issue, carefully check the items listed in the coupon, adding in the proper section any suggestions you may wish, and mail to the College Criterion, Arlington, California. A report of the results will be published as soon as possible.

(Continued on Page Two)

250 Attend Affair

For the first time in S.C.J.C. history, the co-edu gave a sparkling mother-and-daughter banquet. The affair took place in the dining room, which was decorated with a forest of potted shrubs, and tiny flashing fountains, and trellis covered with wisteria.

Mothers gathered with their daughters in the parlor of Gladwyn Hall, visiting and chatting until Marion Latch started to sing. The girls all joined in the chorus and each taking her mother’s arm, filed out and over to the dining room, which was decorated to represent a garden, and was lighted by candles. Three seats were found by means of place-cards beautifully painted by the girls.

During the banquet, which was served by the boys, a string trio consisting of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Burk, and Dr. George, entertained the gathering.

Following the banquet, speeches and music followed each other. Dr. Belle Wood-Comstock gave the “Toast to Daughters.”

“Here’s to my daughter, my inspiration, my guide. For her sake to plan straight footsteps, I’ve tried to always be that which she dreams me to be. To be hopeful, courageous, optimistic and true. These are the things that she calls me to do. Without irritation, ever happy, serene.

(Continued on Page Four)

M.V. Leaders Convene at Riverside

“The time demands greater efficiency and deeper consecration,” was a slogan chosen as a foundation for the coming year of M. V. leaders which was held at the Riverside church on February 8. With this inspiring motto as a guide-post, the meeting became one of intense enjoyment and benefit to the two hundred leaders and Elders present, among

(Continued on Page Three)
In the Mailbag

Dear Editor:

We are two subscribers to the "College Criterion" and like the paper very much. However, we would like to make one small suggestion—please put a list of "Coming Events" in your paper.

Sincerely yours,

Subscribers

Editor's Note: Suggestion appreciated and acted on in this issue. Page the first.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR PRESENTS S.C.J.C. PROGRAM

(Continued from Page One)

the "Andante Cantabile" was originally written as a string quartet for a certain performance in the centennial at Chicago. Knowing a little of the history of the piece, created an interest in trying to find out the different parts as they would be played by the string instruments.

Message of Health Given By Doctor

(Continued from Page One)

babbage Can Alley. Numerous garbage cans lined the alley. The odor was offensive and byu unbearable. We hurried on.

Now we are traveling down a wide and airy avenue and we arrive at a beautiful garden. Green trees and beautiful flowers are everywhere. The bees buzz contentedly among the flowers; the butterflies dart here and there, and the birds sing for joy. The perfume is enchanting. There is no hurt or unpleasant odors anywhere. Our souls rejoice. "Blessed is the man who walketh not in the council of the ungodly." Psalms 1:1.

What are we hanging on memories with? Are they pictures we may be proud of or are they pictures we are ashamed of? Psychologists say that many of our bodily illnesses are caused by the memory of a person who health thy diseases.

Advice to pre-meds—study like everything, and don't expect six weeks to get oriented—about six minutes are all they will show you.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

VOL. VI

No. 1

Arlington, Calif., February 14, 1922

Entered as second class matter, November 7, 1921, at the Post Office at Arlington, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Published Thursday, by the Associated Students of the Southern California Junior College, Presented by the College Press.

HERBY LEWIS KURN Editor-in-chief

STAFF A

Associate Editor

Velma Mathisen

Assistant

Marguerite Laney

Proof Reader

Rogers Sedgwick

Steinmeister

Ruth Comentine

STAFF B

Associate Editor

Jesse Maria Petrik

Proof Reader

Wilma Spears

Steinmeister

Edna Siess

COLUMNISTS

Exchange

Frances Rutan

Alumni

Gran Upjohn

Features

Jack Walker

Newsmas

Grace Winget

Pre-Med

Alma Harrell

Make-up Editor

Fred Horowitz

REPORTERS

Clara Simpich

Dorothy Washburn

Lowe Fisher

Beaudette Hinkle

Ray Taylor

Leonard Greiner

Lucidie Noggle

Hazel Lay

Kenneth Sharp

Philip Creach Yang

Jean Martin

BUSINESS

Treasurer

George Clement

Circulation

Assistant

Eugene Munson

Advertising

ADVISORS

Librarian

J. F. Fentale

Business

A. R. Smith

This Issue Edited by Staff "A"

EDITORIAL

We noted with interest an editorial in the "Arroyo," (Riverside Junior College) in which following favorable criticism of the CRITERION, the suggestion was made that there should be closer contact between the two institutions.

We appreciate this gesture of friendship and are of the same opinion, feeling as we do that there is not enough contact between us. How to begin friendly relations?

ANNUAL DIRT EDITORIAL

Yes, we have a campus that has a pleasant garden-like quality, with its palms, Italian cypress, and countless other flowers and shrubs. But we humbly submit, the opinion that its beauty is not enhanced when the audience of an entertainment strew programs on the right-of-way as it leaves; or when some miscreant person has banished many shrubs to heighten the general artistic effect.

Also, will the gentlemen who work in the agricultural department of the institution refrain from flinging orange peels on the left-of-way as they leave the dormitory?

Medical Student Tells of Loma Linda Co-ordinating Plan

By Arthur Kirk

The College of Medical Evangelists was established about 25 years ago with a definite mission to fulfill. It was not the purpose of the leaders of the work to start a medical school merely to train more doctors, but the mission was to train Christian physicians to help in showing the Christian way to others. The college therefore, has a twofold purpose, for it must necessarily give to its students a thorough scientific medical training.

The first two years of the course are given at the Loma Linda Division, while the last two years are spent at the Los Angeles Division. While at Loma Linda the students are under the plan of cooperative education. As carried on in this school the course is divided into two sections. While one section is carrying on the school work, the students of the other section are working in various medical institutions in Southern California. At the end of each month the students change and those who have been working go back to school, while those who have been at school go to work.

This system has proved a real benefit in providing a source of practical experience for the student. After such a training the doctor is better prepared to start his work when he finishes his course.

Because of the cooperative system the work at Loma Linda is quite concentrated. It has been described as "studying for a six weeks exam every day." The students seem to think that they will get a mental rest when they go into their jobs the next month, but if they look over the grades on their exam papers they invariably get a form filled in with Gray's "Anatomy" or some other profound volume Indefatigable.

As we study the construction and functions of the human body we cannot but realize that we are "fearfully and wonderfully made," and along with this it is a real privilege to learn of the Great Physician, "who putteth forth providences, who health thy diseases."
Reynolds Reviews Progress of School
J. C. Begun as Academy in 1922

Professor K. J. Reynolds, head of the history department of Southern California Junior College, gave, during chapel February 4, a brief review of the progress of the school since its first beginning in 1922.

He opened his talk by reading a class prophecy which pointed to about the present time. He then rehearsed the events of the past and showed how our school has passed most of the dreams of that day.

The speaker said, "We have grown from an academy to a well-equipped and recognized junior college."

"One thing," Professor Reynolds said, "that has grown is our school spirit, and we are still pressing on to better developments."

M. V. LEADERS CONVENE AT RIVERSIDE
(Continued from Page One)

whom were Elder Sorenson, Jack King, and Walter Reynolds, representing S.C.J.C.

Elder Hackman spoke on the place of the youth in our great movement. "Through the ages young men have always been the leaders," was an interesting statement made by Elder Hackman. "Now is a time when strong muscles, clear thinking, and clean hearts are imperative to excel in soul winning, and where could one find more of this than among our youth?" Driving his points firmly, he led to the conclusion, that "our youth, rightly trained, furnished with the Word of God, marching to the time of His Word, and with their feet planted solidly on the ten commandments, is necessary for the greatest days of the Advent movement still ahead."

The meeting closed with an open discussion of the immediate problems of the local units. The usual prayer and song service rounded out a very inspiring evening.

Health Subject of Talk
By Doctor
(Continued from Page Two)

alive. In a short time the man is captured by the police. This youth is the same one we encountered in the first dormitory; he is convicted of murder. You see the youth was garbage mentally. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

What if some cheap picture was seen hanging among the beautiful pictures in Huntington Library, wouldn't it be entirely out of place? God looks in our mental gallerys. Let's not displease him by having cheap though among the better ones.

LEGENDE

These lily-ponds were built in 1928-1929, just "above" the ninety-foot flagpole. Since then, the privacy of countless myriads of gold-fish has been disturbed by the eyes of equally countless myriads of pensive freshmen, meditating on the causes of things; seniors who have learned not to worry about the cause of things; and students in all intermediate stages. Here the glum scholar who made a pair of I's gaze blankly into the blacker depths in the shadows of the stakly reed-like plants; here the "average" student stands and tosses green dates at any luckless fish that happens to come up for air; and here the all "A's" scholar merely sits and contentedly casts remarks. All kinds meet here.

FISHER OIL COMPANY
2807-17 MAIN STREET (At Underpass)
PHONE 408

HERE TO SERVE YOU
Quality and Price

If I knew you and you knew me—
If both of us could clearly see,
And with an inner sight divine
The meaning of your heart and mine,
I'm sure that we should quarrel less
And clasp our hands in friendship—
Our thoughts would pleasantly agree,
If I knew you and you knew me.

We Repair...
Fountain Pens
American Watches
Swiss Watch Clock

RAY EDWARDS
680 North Anderson Street
Loma Linda, California

ROY GIDDINGS
S.C.J.C. Representative

BATTERIES
$2.45 up Exchange
MOTOR OIL
Quality - Price - Service
BEACON - UNION GASOLINES

"He that upon his business relies must bust or advertise."

'THE FINE PRINTER BEGINS WHERE THE CAREFUL PRINTER HAS LEFT OFF.
For 'fine' printing something is required in addition to care—certain vital gifts of the mind and understanding. . . . Fine printing may be described as the product of a lively and seasoned intelligence working with carefully chosen type, ink, and paper."

Marion

This is our motive, aim, and purpose
THE COLLEGE PRESS
Southern California Junior College, Arlington, California
The Sunny Strip
by Jack Waller

I'M WONDERING

If lanky, homely Lincoln
A student in his teens,
Would come to La Sierra
By other men's machines,
In old untailored jeans,
To earn his education
By cultivating beans—

If he should come among us
A common looking lad,
With doubtful former record
A shiftless drifting dad
Who gave his spot a shevet
On which to learn to add,
And he came to La Sierra,
Would everyone be glad?

If we should soon discover
That he was aiming high,
We heard him quoting Webster,
For the special benefit of Marion Leitch who is now working in Glendale, we wish to say that the general run of events are happening as usual, with, of course, some variations.

Lois Fisher and her neighbors are working in the berry patch again. Of course they get more work done now than in the summer—because there are no serious to eat.

From the savory odors which fill the halls of the men's home three times a day, it can be easily understood why Den and Mrs. Fisher get along so well together.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pruner assisted as chair of the committee - the afternoon and evening of the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Yesterday is but a dream,
Tomorrow is only a vision,
But today is something that makes
Every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day,
from the Sanscrit.

Renew the courage that prevails,
The steady faith that never fails,
And make us stand in every right,
Firm as a fortress to defend the right—Van Dyke.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET HELD
(Continued from Page One)

With a trust in the One who our future has seen,
Let us pray for a strength that will rise to the call,
To the call of our daughters, our inspiration, our all.

Another interesting feature of the evening was the tableau at the close illustrating the three aspects of a woman's life: marriage, motherhood, and old age. Hazel Walden represented the bride,while Lilyan Siess played, "At Dawning" on the violin. The mother, rocking her baby, was represented by Ruth Furrbach while the girls trio sang, "Sweet and Low," Mildred Murdick took the part, "In the Gloaming," while Galeta Applegate played the piece of the same name on the cello.

At the close, everyone stood and sang, "Home, Sweet Home," and went away with a memory which will not soon fade of a lovely evening.

High diddle diddle,
The cat and the fiddle,
The cow jumped over the moon.
Only took third place.

Check in the Correct Column at the Right
Mail to The College Critic, Loma Linda, California

Always Sometimes Never
1. I read the front page.
2. " " the editorials.
3. " " the newslettes.
4. " " the "We Pre-Meds".
5. the "Poet's Corner,"
6. " " the "Sunny Strip,"
7. " " the "Exchange,"
8. " " the "What We Think"
9. " " the Ads.
What I like
What I dislike Suggestions
I am a regular reader of the paper. Yes No

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

The NEWSSETTE Column
By Grace Winget
Assisted by Ivan Martin

Mr. Horner and Mr. Sidney Smith made a trip to Loma Linda last week.
Elmer Hulden, president of the Lake Union Conference, was a visitor at S.C.
J.C. last week.

Three women from Rainier, Wash. were splintered with work, but the young women would not be satisfied to twiddle their thumbs to steal to serene collecting to such an extent.

Jim Atkinson finally managed to catch some of the fish from the pond the other day with five assistants. Imagery college students who should have some degree of dignity down on their knees playing in the water of the pool catching fish.

Jean Porter was made happy to have her parents as her guests over the week-end.

Elen Unser, Wilma Square, Harriet Simmons, Velma Wilson, Maryced McAdams, Mary Mackenzie, Ruth Phillips, spent the week-end at their homes.

The men's double quartet that sang the traditional "Swing Low, Sweet Charlie" was enjoyed very much by the students.

Election for M.B.K. offices resulted as follows: Frank Johnson, president; Clyde Groomer, vice president; Jack Waller, secretary; Harold Peck, treasurer; James Sanders, chaplain; Percy Miles, sergeant-at-arms.

Louis Fisher maintains that schoolgirl competition by picking 100 lbs. of oranges and returning with 54 lbs. in the sack.
A.S.B. Pushes Drive for Plunge

40' x 60' SWIMMING POOL TO BE BUILT THIS TERM

Immensely enthusiasm has been aroused among the students by the swimming pool drive opened by the Associated Students on February 18, under the leadership of Jack King, A. S. B. "prexy" and Fred Horowitz, campaign manager.

The students are raising $600 for their part in building a 40 x 60 plunge. Labor will be furnished by the school.

It was unofficially estimated that by the end of the first week $400 had been raised. The students are divided into the following bands:

Pre-Meds, Pre-Nurses, Literary; Commercial, Normal, Ministerial, Academics.

Ventriloquist and Marimba Artist Entertain

On Saturday night, February 16, a group of about 100 students and friends gathered in the College Chapel where they heard Mr. Alva Brewer, ventriloquist, and Mr. Roy Greybill, marimba-zylphonist.

Mr. Brewer, who has been a professional ventriloquist for seven years, explained the art of ventriloquism to the audience, saying that one does not throw the voice, but makes it appear so by appealing to the imagination of those in the audience.

Choir Sings to 2,500 Over Weekend

Making an unscheduled appearance, the A Cappella Choir sang a short time to an audience of 1750 at H. M. S. Richard's Grace Tabernacle, at Beverly and Lake, Los Angeles, on February 23. They sang "Beautiful Savior" by Christensen, "Mozart" by Brahms, and "Coming Again." The choir sang at the Long Beach Church at the 11:00 o'clock service to approximately 600 persons; they sang at the Fullerton M. V. Meetig the previous evening. A program was given over the air from station KFOX previously.

Science Club Hears Physio-therapist

Dr. W. W. Worster, head of the physio-therapy school at San Gabriel, California, addressed the science club at their regular meeting, February 16.

Physio-therapy has become very important to the medical profession, above all others. It is to be regretted that the medical profession did not introduce physio-therapy into use, instead of the quacks who instituted it, he believes. The American Medical Association now regulates the curriculum for this course.

Annual Desert Trip To Begin March 12

On the morning of March 12, the opening day of Spring Vacation, Sigma Gamma will make its annual trip to Death Valley, Boulder Dam, the Trona potash plant at Searles Lake, and Rhyolite, a "ghost town," of the old days when gold was king there.

The group will be six days on the trip, returning to the school on March 17.

According to the latest reports, a large group is planning to go. Expenses have been carefully worked out, and pared until it costs but nine dollars.

Typists Rewarded For Speed

Typing awards for increased speed and accuracy have been given a number of students taking this course in the commercial department.

For the writing sixty words a minute, Ruth Coavantine received a gold pin. Other awards were to Betty Myers, a gold seal for thirty-five words per minute; to Lois Jones and Ruth Johnson, silver seals for thirty words; to Harly Cox, Jeanne Foreman, and Evelyn Ritenhouse, silver seals for twenty-five words.

Brewer To Pilot Class of 1935

Ben Brewer, first A. S. B. President ('31-'32) was elected to chief office of the class of '35, on February 18, when the seniors organized.

Other officers voted in were: Frances Rutan, vice-president; Barthiee Stearns, secretary; Louis Fisher, treasurer; Fred Horowitz, parliamentary; Ben Mattison, chaplin; and Anthony Muff, sergeant-at-arms.

As is the A. S. B. senior class custom, Professor Keld J. Reynolds was chosen as faculty advisor.

S. C. J. C. Holds Campus Day

For the second time this school year, campus day was held February 21, with about 150 in attendance.

Following the picnic lunches, which were eaten on the grounds in front of the administrative building, the men played football, basketball, indoor, tennis and other games. The women played indoor, and various other games, and formed the largest part of the rooting section at the faculty-student volley-ball games. These volley-ball games, the culminating event of the day, resulted 4-2 in favor of the students.

Boulder Dam Shown In Pictures

Motion pictures of the Boulder Dam constructions and Boulder City were shown in the college auditorium the evening of February 23 by Mr. M. Lindson of the Southern Sierras Power Company.
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

Vol. VI  No. 12
Arlington, Calif., February 28, 1935

Entered as second class matter, November 7, 1929, at the Post Office at Arlington, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Published Thrusdays by the Associated Students of the Southern California Junior College Press for The College Press.

HENRY LAWRENCE KURN - editor-in-chief

STAFF A
Associate Editor - Valena Mathisen
Assistant - Margarette Layton
Proof Reader - Anna M. Thompson
Stenographer - Ruth Osborne

STAFF B
Associate Editor - Jean Marie Petrak
Assistant - Wima-spee
Proof Reader - Valerie Jones
Stenographer - Anna Jones

COLUMNS

EXCHANGE - FRANCES KIMBrough
Alumni - Jack Walter
Business - R. W. Strop

REPORTERS
Claudia Simkin, Barbara Kutan, Ruth Johnson, Lucille Lee, Beatrice Hudson, Jeanne Darrow, Doris Holcomb, Louise Carr, Lucille Hughes, Judith Hay, Reba Smith, Dorothy Hyneman, Anna Martin

BUSINESS
Treasurer - George Clement
Librarian - Margarette Layton
Advertising - Opal Moseley

ADVISORS
PROFESSORS: J. P. Fentzling
STAFF B: A. R. Smith

This Issue Edited by Staff "A"

EDITORIAL

FACULTY

We appreciate the whole-hearted way in which the professors help the students with their problems. We doubt if there is a single member of the faculty from the President down, who does not enthusiastically aid any student that asks his advice or assistance.

ANOTHER ONE ABOUT

SUCCESS

Edison's success seems likely to have come because he was trying to give something to the world. Perhaps the easiest way for us to achieve success is to approach our life work in the same manner, because when one has the spirit of giving, he is curiously possessed of an almost super-human power and facility for accomplishment.

PUSH THE A. S. B. DRIVE

The Student Body has a mission: an enthusiastic start in the campaign for the swimming pool. Let's put it over in a hurry, and swim before the term is over—what say?

BOOK REVIEW

MEN AGAINST DEATH

On the title page of this interesting book is a statement by Charles F. Kettering, to the effect that "an incurable disease is one that doctors know nothing about. The disease, he explained, has no objection to cure.

This is a book for the pre-medical student. The table of contents presents chapter headings such as: Miasis; Against Deafness; Evans; Deaf in Milk; McCray; Snoud; General Deaf in Bed?; Schuadman; The Great Horror; Bottle; Providence of Doom; Wagner-Jauregg; The Friendly Fever; these, and others equally interesting. The book is full of the rise and fall of men of science, the suspense, excitement, and despair encountered in their work.

Mr. de Kruif, before writing the book knew the principal characters in the book, with the exception of three. Thus there appears in details of adventures in the lives of these scientists that do not ordinarily appear in scientific publications.

Conceivably, it is a collection of stories of the bravery and courage of men who, in the face of peril and death, discovered medicine for the alleviation of humanity's ills.

By Margurite Tarello

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

What We Think

Storm on the Lee Side

The Supreme Court decision was only over the constitutionality of the measure, taken by the A. M. I. constitution, and not the advisability of the act. This will most likely be the big issue in the next campaign. Already rumblings in that direction have been heard.

Such Exigencies should have little difficulty in passing a law. The country and courageous men, has thrown all its energies into its war with Aramazia. The cause of the war, the Ethiopian retaliation upon our country committed by Turkish soldiers.

A Coward is Always Weak

The brethesing of the two "spies" in Germany seems to show the war that man is too only armament that will fight with or deliberately inflict injury on the opposite side of its own. On top of this is the fact that such acts are signs of weakening in the current regime.

Dr. W. W. Worster Tells of New Field

This course consists of hydrotherapy, electrotherapy, physiotherapy, and muscle training for those who are paralyzed. These medicines, the doctor said, merely cured symptoms, and not causes, and stated that there were only some specific drugs cures for diseases.

There is a large field open for technicians in this new role, the speaker said.

COLLEGE CRITERION

EXCHANGE LIST

OUR EXCHANGE

The Exchange page in the CRITERION office are filling up. Forty-five postal cards were sent out last week to various schools with a request to exchange papers. The papers that are coming now include those from L.A.C.C., Fresno State College, Siant, Santa Barbara State College, University of Chicago, and others. We expect more to begin coming soon.

CHORUS SINGS TO 2,500

According to the latest announcement given out by Professor Harvey Abel, the next performance will take place Friday, March 1. The program will be given at the Woman's Club in Hemet at 7:30.
School Life in Collonges (Continued from Page One)

languages for almost all Europe, is represented there and also the Western Hemisphere to a certain extent. While I was there, students from Portugal, Spain, Italy, France, Switzerland, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Canada, and the United States were attending; consequently there was more than just French spoken.

Applied for French Room Mate Immediately upon arriving, a professor approached me and applied for a French roommate. There was none to be had. However, I was told, the first of October a Frenchie "domestique" would arrive, and the dean very graciously promised that she might room with me. At last she arrived.

I never will forget those first few days. She could only talk French but knowing a few words in that language. But we understood each other somehow — if not by words, then by actions or other demonstrations.

Routine Much Like Ours

The daily routine of school life is much the same there is it is here: rising bells, worship, meals, classes, work and study period. The classes are almost exclusively the lecture method. In many subjects the teacher has no definite textbook but collects his material from various sources. It is up to him to keep his subject up to date. The student takes notes the whole period, and the next time he is called upon to recite from his last notes. There are three lunch period, German, Spanish, and Italian. Students coming from those countries and not knowing the French could take Bible and a few elementary subjects in their mother tongue. But the principal classes were in French.

Cosmopolitan Food Served

I cannot say the food served was French style. The cook was a German, some of her helpers Italian and Spanish, and she cooked in France, and prided herself in knowing how to make some American dishes. So the food was about as international as was the school. When sauerkraut and dumplings were on the menu the Germans always went back for more; when spaghetti with tomato sauce, it was the Italian; and when corn on the cob (it wasn't sweet corn, we were glad if we could have field corn) the Americans had a feast, although many of our fellow students claimed the food was fit only for chickens.

A Hike Up the Salene

One morning just before going to class, we heard loud, enthusiastic shouts of "Au Salene, Au Salene!" (to the Salene: we wax is the mountain in back of the school.) It was an ideal day for an outing. The sky was clear, the sun shining brightly, and the air crisp and bracing. A delegation of young men were on their way to the principal's home to see if he wouldn't give us a day off to use up some of our surplus energy in climbing the Salene. He promised to give his answer in French, after consulting the faculty. At last the time arrived. What would be his answer? "You may go get ready," professo.

Verbrugghard said quietly, "we will leave at 10 a.m. sharp." The next half hour was a busy one. Lunch was served in the dining room. There were no ready put-up lunch boxes. Slices of bread, little Swiss cheese triangles, hard boiled eggs, bananas, oranges, milk chocolate, and a paper rack, were soon divided up into the usual language groups. In one you could hear Italian spoken in another French, another German, and in still another, English. The girl who had brought her guitar went ahead playing and singing encouraging us to move along a bit faster.

After a two and one-half hour hike we reached the top. Everyone ate his lunch which was topped off by a big bowl of hot cocoa, provided by the school. The rest of the day was spent in play, games, bask ing in the sunshine, knitting, reading, or singing. Everyone participated as he wished. At 5:30 p.m. we were homeward bound arriving at our rooms with a tired but happy bunch.

And so school life in Collonges slips by quietly, swiftly, so different from our school life here and yet very much the same.

Ventriloquist Explains the Art of Throwing the Voice

(Continued from Page Two)

of the alphabet cannot be pronounced and must be substituted. For instance, "n" in used in place of "m", "d" in place of "b", etc.

Mr. Brower first heard a ventriloquist perform in 1921, and it appealed to him so that he studied the art carefully and finally took it up professionally.

Roy Graybill, musical artist, played several songs by Stephen Foster and also "Home, Sweet Home," "Moonlight and Roses," and "Home on the Range." He assembled his instrument, which is a combination marimbalo-synchophone before the audience in order to explain the difference between the two instruments in the combination.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

3662 Seventh St.  Riverside Phone 514
C. E. PAXSON'S
Rubidoux Portrait Studio
GREETING CARDS
Commercial Photography Quality Kodak Finishing Hand Coloring

CREASED DRESS PANTS $2.95 $3.45 $3.95

ARMY and NAVY STORE
3817 MAIN STREET RIVERSIDE

Our Advertisers Are Reliable

"THE FINE PRINTER BEGINS WHERE THE CAREFUL PRINTER HAS LEFT OFF."

For "fine" printing something is required in addition to care — certain vital gifts of the mind and understanding: . . . Fine printing may be described as the product of a lively and seasoned intelligence working with carefully chosen type, ink, and paper."

Marion

This is our motive, aim, and purpose
THE COLLEGE PRESS
Southern California Junior College, Arlingtorn, California

SPRING FOOTWEAR

MEN'S
Black and White Brown and White All White And All Color Combinations
$2.60 to $3.50
KARLS KUSTOM MADE SHOES
3905 MAIN STREET RIVERSIDE, CALIF.

WOMEN'S
Slack Oxfords Brown and White Black and White All White in Pumps, Straps, Ties and Oxfords
$1.99 to $3.50

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

FISHER OIL COMPANY
2807-17 MAIN STREET (At Underpats) PHONE 408
HERE TO SERVE YOU Quality and Price

BATTERIES $2.50 up Exchange
MOTOR OIL Quality - Price - Service
BENSON UNION GASOLINES

HIGH or LOW WAIST CORDS $2.45
LEATHER JACKETS $4.95
LATEST DRESS PANTS $2.95 $3.45 $3.95

All Styles Sport Suits and Sport Sweaters Breeches - Boots - Hiking Outfits

"HERE TO SERVE YOU" Quality - Price - Service

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

2807-17 MAIN STREET (At Underpats) PHONE 408

"THE FINE PRINTER BEGINS WHERE THE CAREFUL PRINTER HAS LEFT OFF."

For "fine" printing something is required in addition to care — certain vital gifts of the mind and understanding: . . . Fine printing may be described as the product of a lively and seasoned intelligence working with carefully chosen type, ink, and paper."

Marion

This is our motive, aim, and purpose
THE COLLEGE PRESS
Southern California Junior College, Arlingtorn, California

SPRING FOOTWEAR

MEN'S
Black and White Brown and White All White And All Color Combinations
$2.60 to $3.50
KARLS KUSTOM MADE SHOES
3905 MAIN STREET RIVERSIDE, CALIF.

WOMEN'S
Slack Oxfords Brown and White Black and White All White in Pumps, Straps, Ties and Oxfords
$1.99 to $3.50
A large group of the young men and women in the swimming pool campaign on the Orange Show in San Bernardino.

The Normal students are beginning their hours training in the gymnasium at S.C.J.C.

Mrs. Ruble has been a regular subscriber since 1928. At that time he paid subscriptions for ten years in advance.

A 10-year Subscriber

A hundred million miles away, a universe around it, may be a picture of the sun blazing still on high. It sees a planet made of clay. It lights it with a cast-off ray. Delighted to astound it, it leaves the night as black as tar. It sees a planet made of clay.

The moon is a feeble little star. Sh's seldom ever up to par. Sh's often skinny as a bar. And many times she goes-far, and leaves the night as black as tar. She is a feeble creature. She doesn't even show her face until the sun's departed. And then she starts a speedy chase across the sky at rapid pace, as if she knew a better place.

III

On the "silvery Colorado." In a valley of its own, On the plains of "Old Nevada," We can hear the singers moan, It is "Over the Mountains," "It's blue, it's gold, it's pale." Over songs beyond all countin' We can hear the warblers warble. Now a baritone gets tipsy Across the sky at rapid pace, As if she knew a better place. She always seems half-hearted.

IV

The sun is blazing still on high, It sees a planet made of clay. It lights the night as black as tar. And the moon is a gipsy.

W. Ruble, has been a regular subscriber since 1928. At that time he paid subscriptions for ten years in advance.

A large group of the young men and women in the swimming pool campaign on the Orange Show in San Bernardino.

The Normal students are beginning their hours training in the gymnasium at S.C.J.C.

Mrs. Ruble has been a regular subscriber since 1928. At that time he paid subscriptions for ten years in advance.

A 10-year Subscriber

A hundred million miles away, a universe around it, may be a picture of the sun blazing still on high. It sees a planet made of clay. It lights it with a cast-off ray. Delighted to astound it, it leaves the night as black as tar. It sees a planet made of clay.

The moon is a feeble little star. Sh's seldom ever up to par. Sh's often skinny as a bar. And many times she goes-far, and leaves the night as black as tar. She is a feeble creature. She doesn't even show her face until the sun's departed. And then she starts a speedy chase across the sky at rapid pace, as if she knew a better place. She always seems half-hearted.

III

On the "silvery Colorado." In a valley of its own, On the plains of "Old Nevada," We can hear the singers moan, It is "Over the Mountains," "It's blue, it's gold, it's pale." Over songs beyond all countin' We can hear the warblers warble. Now a baritone gets tipsy Across the sky at rapid pace, As if she knew a better place. She always seems half-hearted.

IV

The sun is blazing still on high, It sees a planet made of clay. It lights the night as black as tar. And the moon is a gipsy.

W. Ruble, has been a regular subscriber since 1928. At that time he paid subscriptions for ten years in advance.

A large group of the young men and women in the swimming pool campaign on the Orange Show in San Bernardino.

The Normal students are beginning their hours training in the gymnasium at S.C.J.C.
Co-eds To Be Guests At Open House

Honoring the women of Gladwyn Hall the men of Mu Beta Kappa are entertaining with open house, Sunday, March 10. Activities of the committee of the evening have been revealed thus far by the voting of special assessments by the club, and the quiet assigning of parts. Little has been revealed of the program for the evening, but it is believed that there will be house inspection followed by an intensely interesting program—and refreshments.

S. C. J. C. Students Visit Orange Show

Various groups of S.C.J.C. students have from time to time attended the 25th National Orange Show, held in San Bernardino, February 21 to March 3. Woven into both entertainment and color scheme was the show’s silver anniversary. Governor Merriam, the honored guest on the opening night, in harmony with the theme, “The Hands of Time,” spoke on the day.

Questionnaire Returns Reveal Live Interest

By Blaine MacDermott

Answers to the CRITERION questionnaire published two weeks ago have revealed a solid block of votes favoring the newsletters. Suggestions for improvement ranged from the concrete advice to print the newsletters in 10 point type, to the rather broad advice to “vote for Roosevelt.” In the tabulations below, it should be kept in mind that the large majority of answers were made by the students attending the J.C.

Here are the percentages of regular readers who always read the following items:

- Newsletters: 90.4%
- “We Pre-Meds”: 70.6%
- “The Sunny Strip”: 66.6%
- Editorial: 48.3%
- “What We Think”: 39.5%
- The Exchange: 38.5%
- Poet’s Corner: 32.5%
- Advertisements: 11.4%

Spanish Club Takes Trip

Twenty-four students of the Spanish II, III, and IV classes left the school at 9 a.m. for a tour of several places of interest in and around Los Angeles, Thursday morning, February 28.

The itinerary included San Gabriel Mission, Huntington Library, Forest Lawn Memorial Park and Oliviera Street.

The five cars arrived at the historic San Gabriel Mission at about 10:30, where were seen many relics

Plunge Campaign Tops Goal

$779 Raised in Two Weeks

Climaxing two weeks of successful effort, campaigning students assembled in the chapel the evening of March 3, to applaud thunderously the announcement that $779.10 had been raised, $179.10 over the goal.

The Normal group took first place with a total of $119.55, and a per capita rating of $6.64. The Literary-Commercial band was a close second with a per capita of $6.39, and a total of $162.36. Winning bands were judged on a per capita basis.

A matter of 40 cents difference per person gave the pre-nurses a lead over the pre-meds, and won for them the entertainment promised them by the doughy pre-meds, if they should win.

The band ratings are as follows:

- Normal: $119.55, per capita, $6.64
- Literary-Commercial: $162.25, per capita, $6.39
- Pre-Nursing: $151.85, per capita, $3.15
- Pre-Meds: $114.65, per capita, $1.44
- Academic: $114.65, per capita, $1.44
- Ministerial: $22.50, per capita, $1.41

Individual prize winners are as follows: Harriet Smith, $40.25 took first prize, the desert trip to Death Valley. Lucile Palmer, second, $25.00; Irene Strock, third, $25.00; Bill Baker tied for third, $25.00; Ruth Hawkins, fourth, $21.75.

Alonzo Baker Lectures at Riverside

Alonzo L. Baker, national lecturer and editor of the “Signs of the Times,” spoke in the Willoughby-Frazee Evangelistic meeting in Riverside, Sunday night, March 3, on the timely topic, “Thunder Over Asia.”

Mr. Baker prefaced his remarks by a history of the events prior to and immediately following the “War to End War” of 1914.

“In spite of the resolves of the nations, only 17 years ago, never to take part in war again, the whole world is being certainly drawn into the grapple of another ghastly war,” asserted the speaker.
OUR MENTORS

By Rtaoin Shridu

BUSINESS

Stocky, self-reliant, and perpetually busy is business manager A. R. Smith, meeting the inevitable blizzards that sweep over the coast. Located in California, under the Ant of March 3, 1879.

Wise voice director is Har-yn S. Abel, booster of the S.C.J.C. A Cappella Choir. When he discovers a new mural artist, the owner doesn’t learn it from him. There’s not an egoist in any S.C.J.C. songster organization. He appreciates humor, and contributes a bit occasionally, himself. Entourage, blending, in the A. C. Graduated from the Chicago Conservatory of Music. Directed the Congregational Church Choir in Riverside for some years. His favorite sports: roller skating, ice skating.

For the noblest man that lives there still remains a conflict.

THE CROSSROAD OF THE PACIFIC

By Helen Fernander

Is Hawaii a “some day” land to you? Since coming to California so many people have told me, “I’m going to Hawaii some day.”

The glowing praise of visitors is perhaps the highest authority for Hawaii’s indefinable fascination. Many come again and again. Ask them what there is about the Islands that so grips the heart and imagination, and likely as not they will answer vaguely (with a reminiscent smile) “Oh... everything.”

With your heartsease as a port of departure, and easychair for a ship, sail with me on a word-trip to Hawaii.

We are on deck to greet the swaying as ocean waves sweep away the wisps of lingering night. The last sleepy binks of a lighthouse, embossed clif-flaking shape beyond a mid-Pacific shore-line, as the rising sun gilds their cloudclad, Diamond Head, Gibraltar of the Pacific, emerging like a sentinel on duty. Honolulu Harbor. Mingled flower scents drift down the offshore breezes, along with the haunting strains of Island melodies by the Royal Hawaiian band. Brown-skinned boys cleave the warm, insinuating shores to attain your round climatic perfection as any spot on earth.

In cosmopolitan Hawaii, many torpedoes and races mingle . . . 380, 211 souls all told, of whom about one-third live in Honolulu ... all dwelling in happy unity under the American flag. Although American to the core in ideals, customs and progress, Hawaii themes her coredial hospitality with tolerant internationalism.

If you have imagined Hawaii as quite primitive, a pleasant surprise awaits you. Hundreds of miles of paved boulevards and highways made easily a possible, every beauty spot and natural wonder.

Sugar is Hawaii’s leading crop. Canned pineapple, at the rate of 10,000,000 cases annually, is canned and shipped from the Islands to the tables of the world. Like a scene transplanted from the Orient is the sight of rice fields. Nearly 9,000,000 pounds of coffee is produced in Hawaii.

Hawaii had excellent schools when California was still without them, and wealthy “forty-niners” sent their sons to the Islands to be educated. Educational standards have never been relaxed, and the present modern Hawaiian school system is a source of justifiable pride. Besides the public schools there are a number of private and denominational schools and colleges.

Typically American, but with the added flavor of island hospitality and good clean life of Hawaii. Name almost any mainland organization—devoted to social events, sports, civic service, business or fraternal affairs—and you will find its counterpart (or local chapter) in Hawaii.

Practically all steamers to and from Hawaii carry mail, which arrives two or three times weekly from the mainland and daily from Orient and South Sea ports.

In selecting his Island abode, the visitor may choose, according to taste or purse, an apartment; a tiny, palm-shaded bungalow; a magnificent, garden-girdled resort; a modest family hotel in business or residential district or near the beach; or one of the brilliant hosteries fronting Waikiki. Gas and electricity! Naturally! And clear, pure artesian water—one of Honolulu’s many blessings.

Hawaii as a home combines the attractions of primitive Eden and modern metropolis, paradoxically blending tropical allure and temperate luxuriance. Modern metropolis: high-speed roadways, and grass skirts seem both to belong to “bප‍’gologists and surf-riding vie in thrills . . . paved highways rim ancient craters . . . pie and poi may share the same menu . . . and the graceful hula is danced in the shadow of a seadate university!

With every mainland institution, comfort and convenience . . . good government, policing, fire-protection and sanitation . . . unexcelled schools . . . finest medical facilities . . . a climate that personifies perfection . . . and moderate living costs—Hawaii offers every essential of happy, helpful life as a temporary or permanent home.

But over and above, there is the seductive charm that is Hawaii itself. “Come as soon as you can—stay as long as you can.” And no one can really blame you if your announced return sailing is “unavoidably delayed,” or you contrive (as may your have done) to “miss the boat!”

Everything comes to him who waits. while he waits.
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

ACTIVITIES OF SENIORS

The second meeting of the Senior class of 35 was held last Monday, February 25. A large group of lively and enthusiastic members as well as both the faculty advisors, Professor Keld J. Reynolds and Miss Agnes Sorenson, were present.

The first matter of business to be discussed was that of a motto, emblem, colors and flower, for the class. After considerable discussion and suggestions, the following were decided upon by the majority of the class:

Motto: "Entered to learn; departing to serve."
Emblem: Knight on horse.
Colors: Burnt orange and white.
Flower: The flower will be decided on at the next meeting.

A representative from the pin company in Los Angeles then was introduced to the class. He showed samples of pins in various sizes, shapes, colors and prices. A very attractive and unique pin was finally decided upon and the meeting was dismissed.

Common Sense Suffers Depression, Says Speaker
(Continued from Page One)

of responsibility shown by the present generation. He also believed that college sports were present carried on to an excessive degree.

Speaking of our faith, he urged the men to "respect and appreciate college sports at present," mentioning the Chinese proverb that "local ginger isn't worth a thing or other that wouldn't suit your jawbone."

2000 Apply at Loma Linda
"This world has nothing for us, but we have something for this world," he stated, and said that this last year 2,000 pre-medical students from various colleges had applied for entrance at Loma Linda.

Elder Mountain left on February 27 for the high country south of Idyllwild where he will engage in outside pursuits.

Success lies in the man, and in the stuff he works on.—Bradford Torrey.

Character is the key of contentment.—Mozart.

The human race is divided into two classes, those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, why wasn't it done the other way?—Holmes.

Throw away your wishbone, sit up your backbone, and put out your jawbone.

S. C. J. C. STUDENTS AT ORANGE SHOW
(Continued from Page One)

development and progress of California.

Surrounding cities were represented in the show by displays and exhibits worked out principally in citrus fruits. Among the outstanding exhibits were: a huge revolving cake, upon which were twenty-five lighted candles; the exhibit which Los Angeles entered, which commercially always takes first prize, was a large loving cup situated in the center of four columns; Exonidio differed from the usual custom and used avocados in the construction of her exhibit, a Pirate's galleon in miniature.

The history of the United States was depicted by the entertainers in three divisions, each division showing twice daily over a period of three days. Some of the songs presented were: "The Spirit of '76," "The Gay Nineties," and the "For'y Nites." The performance presented on the concluding night contained the popular hits of the entire show.

Spanish Classes Take Interesting Field Trip
(Continued from Page One)

and pictures dating from the early days of California history. In the mission there is an organ asserted to be 200 years old, which has a movable keyboard. Several of the students posed as "Heep Big Injun Chiefs," for their pictures.

The next step was at Brookside Park for the excellent lunch which had been prepared by a special committee. Then the party went to the Huntington Library at San Marino where there was featured for the day a special exhibit of manuscripts and first copies of English novels from Chaucer to Conrad.

The group went through Forest Lawn Memorial Park and then the climax of the day's program—Olivera Street. Here a good profusion of them indulged in Mexican "enchiladas," after which some wished for some sort of cooling element.

The group left Olivera Street at 7:30 to arrive at the school at about 9 o'clock.

Most of us are longing for something or other that wouldn't suit us.

WHAT WE THINK

"Fleas on the English Lion"
We are not anarchists in any way especially, but it does seem that those radicals in Parliament over in England don't seem to realize that in spite of all, the "parasites" or "bananas on the ship of state," they have never been able to offer anything better in the form of a government. They never say anything past their declarations.

Clever, Isn't It? —
The interference of the League in the Gran Chaco has an efficient air about it—what kind of air wouldn't be nice to say. As soon as one side begins to get the best of the other, it is called the aggressor, and an arm's embargo is placed on it. This turns the tide in favor of the other favored side and so on, ad infinitum.

Eventually, Why Not Now?
The Administration seems to be leading off pretty strongly in their fight, for a $4,000,000 relief appropriation. In harmony with our confidence in the President we suppose that he is right.
PRE-MEDS

Trying to think up a column. Let's see—what'll I write? Wish I could think of something. Pretty good time at home last weekend. Didn't do anything—just loafer. Well, that's fun isn't it. All ready to study now. That's one good thing about being a little time now and then. You always go back and work hard to make up for it. Well, anyhow you go back intending to work hard and make up for the time you wasted. Let's see, what's today's schedule—a quiz? Why in the world do quizzes have to follow week ends? For that matter, why do quizzes have to follow anything, or precede anything, or exist for that matter?

Still, without quizzes we'd never study. That would mean I guess, that we'd waste a lot of time, in fact most of our time, instead of a little of it now and then. Well, little time wasted in loafer is a good thing I guess. Wasting all of one's time wouldn't be so good I expect. Well, I take it back. Maybe quizzes aren't so bad in the long run. Monday morning quizzes are a nuisance though. Still, guess I can remember when I wished that quizzes would be postponed from Friday to Monday so I could study for them Sunday. Maybe, I haven't so much to kick about after all? Oh, well, most complaining comes from the same source. We haven't anything to complain about we just want an excuse to gripe.

Frederick Dixon Plays for College Gathering

(Continued from Page One)

Franz of Brahms, Chopin, Bach and others.

Especially interesting was his explanation of the background of Debussy's "The Submerged Cathedral." He briefly told the legend of a cathedral which was said to lie under the waters of the French coast, and from which bells could be heard when the spires emerged from the waves during foggy weather.

The selections given were as follows:

Cavolte — Bach
Waltz in A flat — Brahms
Intermezzo — Brahms
Rhapsody in F flat — Brahms
The Submerged Cathedral — Debussy
Caradass — MacDowell
Mazurka in B minor — Chopin
Berceuse — Chopin
Etude in C Sharp Minor — Chopin
To a Water Lily — MacDowell
Etude in F minor — Chopin
Prelude in F major — Chopin
Etude in F — Chopin

Due to Spring Vacation, the next CRITERION will be published on March 20. In that issue will appear "Six Weeks on a Tuna Boat," an intensely interesting article by Lyle Davis, telling of some of his experiences on a 15-foot tuna fisher, off the Central American coast. Among a crew of 17, Mr. Davis, the radio operator, and the engineer were the only Americans.

Do not confine yourself to doing only that which you are told to do.

Economy is better than waste, but it is not so good as use.—Henry Ford.

The poorest young man is equipped as only God of the universe can afford to equip him.

Crooked lives cannot walk the narrow way.

A laugh is worth a hundred prayers in any market.—Charles Lamb.
Men Hold Open House

One of Best Affairs This Year

Putting on one of the best-liked student programs of the entire school, the members of M.B.K. held Open House for the women of Gladwyn Hall, on the evening of March 10.

First on the program was an inspection of all dormitory rooms, following which ice cream and cookies were served to the guests at the parlor while the "Salon Orchestra," Richard Holbrook, Chester Alcorn, and Francis Scuka, played.

Master of Ceremonies, Waldo Nelson, gave a welcome to the students and faculty, and introduced Henry Kuhn, who made a humorous speech. Frank Judson gave the farewell. At the end of the affair, Professor Harvey Abel led a "community sing."

The quartet numbers: "Because," by Guy d'Hardelot, and "A Brown Bird Singing," by Ray Wood, were sung by Harry Scyare, Richard Holbrook, Paul McIntosh, and Allan Costentine.

A.S.B. In Third Year of Progress

Since the founding of the A. S. B. in 1931, a steady progress has been made in the services which it offers to the student in the social growth and in the permanent improvements which are put in the school plant through campaigns year by year.

Each year the A. S. B. sponsors socials, and a snow trip to the mountains. It also publishes a weekly paper, THE COLLEGE CRITERION. In the second semester each year a campaign is held to effect some improvement in the campus or in the buildings.

One of the annual affairs has just been successfully finished in the record time of two weeks, over $800 having been raised as the students' contributions to a new pool. The school will furnish the labor.

Here is what the A. S. B. has done since its inception three years ago:

(Continued on Page Three)

Choir Gives Eight Programs

Presenting eight programs, the A Cappella Choir and Men's Glee Club sang in Hollywood, Glendale, Santa Monica, and Los Angeles, March 8 and 9. The group remained overnight with friends in Hollywood, Glendale and Redondo.

A half-hour program was put on the air on March 9 from station KFI, one of the largest radio stations in the United States.

Students Enjoy Campus Vacation

Vacation days for the fifty-old students remaining on the campus March 12-16, proved to be restfully different.

During the day they worked in various departments, and in the evening various kinds of entertainment were offered.

Big event of the holidays was the hay-rack ride last Thursday.

(Continued on Page Two)

Seniors of 1935

Today, our fourth annual senior day, we are happy to bid you welcome.

On this occasion we desire to be more than just your formal hosts. It is our sincere hope that you will become acquainted with us in a personal way.

We believe that Southern California Junior College has much to offer the thoughtful young man and woman. No expense has been spared to make this College an ideal training institution for your future. We want each of you to feel our interest, and to catch up the spirit of our student body.

Make "The College of the Southland" your college.

E. E. Costentine.

S.C.J.C. Commands High Standing

Surrounded by purple, snow-capped mountains, and overlooking the green citrus belt of Riverdale valley, S.C.J.C. is located in one of the finest sites on the West Coast. The quietness pervading the garden-like campus makes study more pleasant.

Aside from these considerations, one examines with interest the other facilities of the J.C.

Scholastic Rating

S.C.J.C. is a member of the Northwestern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, giving our graduates world recognition in scholastic standing, an honor not yet bestowed on any other junior college in this denomination. It is also a member of the Southern California Junior College Association, and has been invited to join the American Council on Education. It is the only private institution outside of U.S.C. which is on the committee of "Research and Policy in Education." This, it is claimed, is one of the most important educational research committees in California, for it is to make plans and outline future education for the California schools.

Equipment

Our library, the "heart of the college" is constantly being enlarged. It now has six thousand volumes. Much of its growth has been during the last three years, making most of the books new and up-to-date.

All classrooms are adequately equipped for the work presented. Every classroom has its own maps and charts to fill its own individual needs. Sixteen new mahogany desks are at present being built in the woodworking department to be installed in every classroom in the administration building.

The pride and excellence of the school shines forth in the science department. A new organic chemistry laboratory was completed last year:

Senior Classes Visit S. C. J. C.

One-hundred ten Seniors from five Southland academies visited S.C.J.C. today, the fourth annual Senior day. Glendale, Los Angeles, Loma Linda, San Diego and Long Beach were represented by the group.

The visitors began arriving at 9:30, when the first carload pulled up in front of the administration building. Selected guides conducted groups of the Seniors through various class rooms, where History, Economics, General Chemistry, German II, Journalism and other classes were in session.

During the special chapel period speeches were made on the background of the institution.

All important departments of the plant were visited during the afternoon. Refreshments were served before the departure of the guests at 4:00 p.m.

Many Organizations Active In School

Various organizations offer to the student opportunities to engage in a large number of interesting extra-curricular activities.

For those scientifically minded, there is Sigma Gammas, the science club, which meets every other week and sponsors the annual trip to Death Valley, Broomer Dam, and the old mining towns.

For those who sing there is the chorus, the A Cappella Choir, and the Glee Clubs. Spiritual activity is offered by the several M.V. bands which do much good. Language students join in the Spanish and German Clubs, while those who take public speaking join the Forensic Club.

Each year about fifty students work in various A.S.B. offices, which includes the CRITERION. Valuable training is thereby acquired in leadership, and also in journalism.

In the women's home there is the Girls' Forum, and In the Men's
"Let's go!" was the word that started the engines of the Mayflower. Six weeks were to pass before the boat was to tie up at the pier again in San Diego. Headed southward this trim little 185 foot ship cut out the water with the keenness of a fish, and the new paint on its sides made it look like a cloud.

But what? Only a few hours out and the motor is dead. Only a valve burnt out, which is no trouble for the engineer to replace and in twenty minutes we are merely on our way to the "happy fishing grounds."

My first object was to get on the best side of the cook. Manuel was a Spaniard, about fifty years of age, very pleasant and not a bad cook. At 7:00 o'clock every morning he would climb out of his bunk and, as he was a little feeble, to the mess hall. Into a pot would fall half a sack of potatoes to be boiled in "fresh" ocean water, you see the captain saves on salt this way. Following the same procedure, fifteen pounds of meat would splash into a pot to flavor a soup. With a handful of tomatoes, onions, lettuce, and anything near, some sort of salad would come into existence. Coffee, bread, and fruit finished the meal. Every day for the entire six weeks we had potatoes, beans and bread. It was delightful if you could get away with it. The Portuguese seem to have a hot appetite as we had, and preparing the fishing tackle. The tuna is a fish varying in size from seven pounds to 200, and is caught with a hook and line. Bamboos poles and very heavy lines are used. The hook has no barb; thus as soon as the fish hits the deck it can toss loose from the hook. Generally, there are two men to one line, as the fish are too large for one man to handle.

On the seventh day we sighted a school of porpoises, which I soon learned was a sign of tuna. Live bait, sardines caught at San Diego, were thrown overboard, and soon the deck was littered with nice fat, wriggling tuna, each weighing about 40 pounds.

Further south we went. Off the coast of lower Mexico we ran into a little rough weather which tested my seamanship. Here are a few lines from my diary:

"Tuesday, June 5, ninth day. The ocean is still rough. At 5:30 I forced myself up and almost "fed the fishes," but managed to "keep it down." That was my last trouble in that way.

Once in a while we had a fresh water shower. There is a little rain now and then in the tropics, which serves very well for a shower. All that is necessary is to stand on deck and take what comes. It rains only about once an hour there.

The twentieth day had a little heat in it. The thermometer ran up to 130 degrees in the coolest place on the boat and the ocean temperature was 87 degrees. We were about thirty miles off the coast of Panama. In this heat the crew caught 25 tons of fish. The Portuguese certainly can work.

This same routine—get up, breakfast, fish (if there are any), dinner, fish, supper, pack fish into the refrigerated box, hull, and then to bed—was carried out for 33 days. On this day the boat was filled and we headed for home. For ten days the steady chug of the powerful diesel-electric engine drove the boat, and at 11:00 o'clock at night we tied up at the quarantine station.

Fifteen minutes after we had been o.k.'d the next morning, we were at the home landing. What a trip—227 tons of fish, and what a thrill!
term. In the locker of every student in the building is equipment ranging in value from twenty-five to thirty-eight dollars. This school is equipped to fill excellently all the present demands placed upon it in this field.

Teachers’ Degrees

Eight of our teaching staff hold the degree of Master of Arts, and some are doing work toward the doctor’s degree. This is more than some are doing work toward the doctor’s degree. The total experience of teachers is 12 years, which is insufficient for accrediting standards.

Sport

For those who enjoy hiking, there are the Sierra Madre less than two hours away, and lesser mountains much nearer. An indoor diamond, tennis court, volley-ball court, and basketball court provide for active games. Now, a swimming pool is about to be built.

Truly, “Our College” is worthy of our greatest respect, and deepest loyalty.

Associated Student Body in Third Year of Progress

(Continued from Page One)

1932-1933 — Presidents: “Ben” Brewer, first semester; Harry Hickman, second. Campaign for new tile-floored shower rooms in homes netting $1000, by-students, (manager, Bender Archbold.) Campaign for CRITERION. School stickers designed and printed.

1934-1935 — President, Jack King. Campaign for plunger, (manager, Fred Horwitz.) CRITERION campaign. And so we go forward.

Every piece of work that we do, which is well done, is so much help; every piece of pretense and half-heartedness is so much hurt.

---

NEW SPRING CLOTHES

Arriving Daily. Come In and Look Them Over

Andeberg & Son
3657 Eighth St.

---

Teachers’ Degrees

(Continued from Page Four)

Army and Navy Academy

The physics class has formed a new club. Members will be taught to ride the surfboard, water skiis, and acuplane.

— P. U. C.

By Our P.U.C. Correspondent

“The most amazing collection of motion pictures ever made in Russia which are uninfluenced by political considerations,” were presented in the chapel, Saturday evening, March 16, by Julien Bryan, noted author and lecturer on Soviet Russia.

His pictures showed people at work all over Russia, their homes, hospitals, marriage and divorce courts, baby clinics, prisons, aviation and many out of the way places in Russia and Siberia.

A campaign for a theme song for the A.S.P.U.C. is in progress. It will close March 22.

Never value anything as profitable to thyself which shall compel thee to break thy promise, to lose thy self-respect, to curse, to act the hypocrite.

New Zinnia

Fantasy or Quilled

This fascinating new Zinnia Type with graceful, informal, shaggy, appearing flowers, is quite distinct from the stiff, formal Zinnia we know. You will find this one of your most prized annuals this summer.

SMALL’S SEED CO.
8th at Orange, Riverside

---

Patronize our Advertisers

FRANZENS

OPEN WITH NEW STOCKS

Hardware Sporting Goods Paints Roofings Electrical Appliances Lawn and Garden Tools Builder’s Tools China Glass Silverware Pottery, etc.

NEW STOCKS

OPEN WITH NEW STOCKS

---

OIL Batteries

“We Can’t Sell All the Oil, So We Only Sell the Good Oil”

Fisher Oil Co.
ALLAN A. FISHER

Specializing in High Grade Oils and Greases

GAS - OIL - KEROSENE BATTERIES - ACCESSORIES

COMPLETE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE

2807-17 MAIN ST. PH. 408
(A Underpass)

“Here to Serve You”

---

THE COLLEGE PRESS

Southern California Junior College, Arlington, California
A three-minute tour around the campus with we Pre-meds: Down on the dock. "Nice day, isn't it? This breeze certainly feels good. The oranges are rather sour today. We'll have to see Mr. Stearns about that. Another thing, I wish they'd let us work somewhere else. It's too bad that we have to walk so far to the orange grove. Let's go get a drink. I wish we worked farther from the water faucets. He doesn't care if we go after a drink and it's a good way to rest without being accused of loafing. These hoe handles do a good job of holding up our weight, don't they. Oh, oh, here comes Mr. Stearns; let's get to work!"

In the dairy. "This job is certainly fun, isn't it. I surely enjoy getting up in the morning and waking up everyone in the dorm at 4:30. You know, if we really tried, I think that we could track more mud into the dorm than even the farmers do."

In the shops: "We certainly have the fun. We get to splash paint all over ourselves here. We'll be lots happier if the machines made more noise, though."

On the lawn crew: "They say we're lazy do they? Well, those farmers don't work so fast that the horses die trying to keep up with them, do they?"

In the laundry: "We're all done, girls; let's have some fun. First let's pull some buttons off of the boy's shirts... That was fun. I guess we won't have time to cut holes in the scissors though."

(N.B.—This is all in fun. You know, Helen really sews buttons on shirts, but if we admit she does a good job, she'll get the big head.)

With the repair crew: "This is certainly fun pounding on this radiator. It isn't doing any good, but it makes a lot of noise!"

We didn't mean to hurt anyone's feelings, so we only ribbed those whom we knew were good natured and anyhow, if you want to find the writer of this column, he's left for Cambodia.

Character is made up of the things that have to be done, that have to be faced, that have to be solved.

Silence is not always golden. It is a rank dishonesty whenever failure to speak will give a false impression or do another an injustice.

True courtesy can neither be misplaced nor replaced.

We are sorry to hear that Earnie Rosas (Rosie), had a bad case of poison oak on his face last Saturday at P.U.C. But that is nothing new, thousands of persons have had it before—and have recovered.

— S. C. J. C. —

"Jim" Atchison spent the latter part of vacation in San Diego. We hear that he is trying to learn how to make candy.

— S. C. J. C. —

The three girls from the school to go on the desert trip were: Jean Marie Petrick, Helen Kintner, and Harriett Smith. They went in Mrs. Baker's car, "shapenosed" by Harry Sciarrillo.

— S. C. J. C. —

Lucille Palmer and her visited P.U.C. and attended the Mother-Daughter Banquet there during vacation, returning here Tuesday. She has a sister there besides many other friends who were especially glad to see her again.

— S. C. J. C. —

Miss Wallace took Millicent Grant to Turlock, Vernice Owens and Percy Miles to Lodi, Mary Sidd- more to Salida. On Thursday, Percy went on to P.U.C. where he renewed many old acquaintances.

— S. C. J. C. —

Quite a number of S.C.J.C.-ites went skating in Orange City last Wednesday evening.

— S. C. J. C. —

A group of students enjoyed a party given by the Stearns twins, Thursday evening.

— S. C. J. C. —

As is the vacation custom, the remaining students enjoyed their usual hay rake ride to Jack Frost Lake, Thursday evening. They always speak of the "moon shining through the pines" in connection with mountain trips but here it was "the moon shining through the willows" only however, what's the difference; nobody ever thinks of that anyway.

— S. C. J. C. —

"Tony" Muff spent the vacation at home "sleeping off" a cold. We hope his slumberers were not in vain.

— S. C. J. C. —

The radios in the Men's Home were used for the last time this school year, as there are no more vacations before school is out.

— S. C. J. C. —

Next, Saturday the A Cappella Choir will make its annual visit to San Diego.

Not failure, but low aim, is crime.

There are just eleven more weeks of school. They may be "last" but they certainly are not "least."

— S. C. J. C. —

After approximately twenty-five years of active service, "Cap," the old white horse known to so many of the early days of the school, passed on to where all good horses go. For detailed information concerning the cause of death, the lawn crew should be consulted.

— S. C. J. C. —

Approximately 50 students remained at the College during the vacation.

— S. C. J. C. —

From what we hear, Harry Sciarrillo has gone in for exploring when it comes to mines in a big way. On the desert trip, he couldn't go by even one unless he had seen what was inside.

— S. C. J. C. —

Evelyn Palmquist, Jean Detler, and Arline Richars spent their vacation with their parents in Fresno.

— S. C. J. C. —

We are still wondering how Harold Hiess and the young lady who accidentally exchanged suitcases made out during the vacation.

— S. C. J. C. —

Kenneth Phillips and Harold Hiess returned to S.C.J.C, the day following their departure. Their car suddenly decided it didn't care about going north.

— S. C. J. C. —

Dorothy and Florence Baird were in Ventura last week.

— S. C. J. C. —

Grace Scott went to Carpinteria.

— S. C. J. C. —

Larry Thompson to Santa Barbara.

— S. C. J. C. —

Ruth Hawkins traveled all the way to Phoenix, Arizona, with her sister during vacation.

— S. C. J. C. —

Those who went on the desert trip are still trying to clean up, for they brought back plenty of that Death Valley dust with them.

— S. C. J. C. —

Melvin Clement now working at Paradise Valley Sanitarium, has sent greetings to his friends here at S.C.J.C.

— S. C. J. C. —

God will not look you over for medals, degrees, and diplomas, but for scars.

— S. C. J. C. —

Don't however pour you may be, dress shabbily.

(Continued on Page Three)
College Chapel are proceeding apace. It is expected that this much-needed structure will be built within one year from now. The seating capacity, 1,000 persons is to be constructed on the ground. This will be used during camp-meeting instead of the large tent, and will be used as a gymnasium during the school year. Also to be built shortly is the A.S.B. swimming pool, the dimensions of which, the student body voted on March 26, will be 30 feet by 80 feet.

Gymnasium Also To Be Built

Continuing its rapid advancement, S.C.J.C. is inaugurating two major building projects, and assisting in a third. Plans for the new college chapel are proceeding apace. It is expected that this much-needed structure will be built within one year from now. The seating capacity will be 1,000 and there will be a library down stairs. The conservatory of music will also be located in this building.

A large portion seating 4,000 persons is to be constructed on the ball grounds. This will be used during camp-meeting instead of the large tent, and will be used as a gymnasium during the school year.

Also to be built shortly is the A.S.B. swimming pool, the dimensions of which, the student body voted on March 26, will be 30 feet by 80 feet.

Class Doings

Senior Class Doings

By Frances Rutan

The “up-and-at-it!” Seniors of ’36 came out in their colors, burnt orange and white, last week. It was Wednesday and the chapel hour had begun—when suddenly, the double doors burst open and in filed the Seniors with their ribbons streaming and were seated in the front section, amid hearty applause. It seems that S.C.J.C. is proud of the class of ’36; even the Juniors must admit that they are a good-looking bunch.

Committees are working busily on plans for the future activities. Pictures will soon be taken, Senior plus will be here shortly, class songs and words to class songs are being composed on all sides; it is evident that something is going on in the Senior class—and if it’s something, it must be something good!

Week of Prayer Opens

Opening the bi-annual week of prayer, Elder Lester Bond addressed the college church on March 23. The usual order of classes has been changed to accommodate the special features of the week. Prayer bands meet for fifteen minutes before the daily chapel service, at 9:30. In the chapel address, Elder Bond has been discussing the relationships of the individual to Christ.

Men’s Glee Club

Gives Programs

Sings Sea Songs and Martial Airs

Wearing their colorful red sashes, the Men’s Glee Club sang a group of martial airs and sea songs, at the San Diego Academy on March 22.

Two numbers were sung, “On the Sea,” by Buck, and “Sea Fever,” from Masefield. Other numbers were an arrangement of “Annie Laurie,” by Buck; “The Two Grenadiers” by Shuman; “Little Red Drum;” and “Soldiers’ Chorus,” from Faust.

The group sang sacred numbers at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium Church on March 23, and at the University Heights Church, and at the G-Street Church on March 23.

Similar programs have been given at Glendale Academy and Los Angeles Academy.

A program will soon be given by the Men’s Glee Club and the Men’s Glee Club in the auditorium, announcement of which will be made later.

M. B. K. Sponsors

Evening of Games

By Frank Judson

Last Thursday morning it was announced that the regular meeting of Mu Beta Kappa would consist of the playing of games on the play-ground. Immediately after supper, action was seen on the base-ball diamond as well as in the volleyball and basketball courts.

The baseball game seemed to be the center of attraction. Luther Thompson and Frank Judson had chosen sides that proved to be nearly toss-ups. The program committee of M.B.K. had planned that the affair would be lighted by the moon, but because of clouds the game had to be called on account of darkness. The score at the end of three innings was two up.

The volleyball games continued until the Dean’s shrill whistle informed everyone that study period was next in order.

Character may be lost, but it can never be stolen.

Our peace is bought by His pain.

COMING EVENTS

Friday, March 29 — Spanish Club
Sunday, March 30 — Elder Bond, Church speaker
Thursday, March 31 — Science Club, Dr. G. M. Stewart, speaker
Saturday, April 2 — In Chapel — Elder A. W. Speeding
Monday, April 2-3 — Men’s Singing Society

ARTICLES

“Fountain of News,” the daily published by the end of the school year, is being practised by the students.

The usual order of classes has been changed to accommodate the special features of the week. Prayer bands meet for fifteen minutes before the daily chapel service, at 9:30. In the chapel address, Elder Bond has been discussing the relationships of the individual to Christ.

COMING EVENTS

Friday, March 29 — Spanish Club
Sunday, March 30 — Elder Bond, Church speaker
Thursday, March 31 — Science Club, Dr. G. M. Stewart, speaker
Saturday, April 2 — In Chapel — Elder A. W. Speeding
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

The College Criterion

Vol. 4  Arlington, Calif., March 28, 1935

No. 15

Entered as second class matter, November 7, 1932, at the Post Office at Arlington, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Published Thursdays by the Associated Students of the Southern California
Juniors College. Printed by The College Press

HENRY LEWIS KUHN  Editor-in-Chief

STAFF A

Associate Editor  ..... Wilma Mathison
Asst. Associate Editor  ... Wilma Soper
Proof Reader  ..... Anna M. Thompson
Bureographer  ... Ruth Consentine

STAFF B

Associate Editor  ..... Margaret Lacey
Asst. Associate Editor  ... Jean Maria Peter
Proof Reader  ..... Vesta Jones
Bureographer  ... Alice Van Tassel

COLUMNS

Inter-College News  ... Francis Butan
Amateur  ... Vira Lewis
Science  ... Jack Walter
Geography  ... Grace Willett
What We Think  ... Allan Consentine
Pre-Press  ... Harold Horowitz

Make-up Editor  ... Ralph Munson
Fountain of News  ... Elinor Hong

REPORTERS

Clyde Simon  ... Elizabeth Cook, Ruth Johnson, Louis Fisher, Bellville Blanke, Ray

Goodwin, Arro, William, Louise Law,
Louise Nogee, Hazel Low, Kenneth Philips, Lucy Perry, Ivan Martin.

BUSINESS

Treasurer  ... George Clement
Circulation  ... Eugene Munson
Advertising  ... Ray Gooding

ADVISORS

Librarian  ... J. F. Fontaine
Business  ... A. B. Smith

This Issue Edited by Staff "B"

editorials

Many college students are en-luding themselves with a rather easy-going sort of existence.

If some duty is not too well-done, it does not greatly matter.
There is a next time to do it better.
And as they live on about the same level through the years, cheering, whenever, roseate plans for the future.

Plans are all very well, but they are only the first step. One must be executing them, a process which is very interesting while one is engaged in it, but which is very difficult to begin. Paradoxical as it may seem, to look to the present, the duty of the moment, is to be far-sighted. Observe any student here in school, and one can know to a certain extent, how successful that student will be in his future career. If a pre-med is careful in his chemistry lab, ten years from now he is likely to be just as careful—but in research work, in hospital work, in successful private practice. The all-important present moment decides the future—watch it.

(Continued on Page Three)

THE STORY OF THE DESERT TRIP
by Louis Fisher

Leaving the campus at eight o'clock, with three cars carrying seventeen science enthusiasts, we started our 1000 mile, five day trip to Hoover Dam, Death Valley, and all points east.

Having our first meal at Victorville as guests of the Portland Cement Plant, our caravan continued its way to Calico and Desert Canyon. En route we spent a few moments in Barstow where the more energetic ones bought postcards to send home, while the rest of us just bought post-cards. It was here in the "no-shave campaign" was first conceived. They were having a beard-growing contest in the town in preparation for a Calico-Barstow Silver Jamboree to be held in the near future, and those of us who hadn't brought along our razors anyway thought this idea be a good way to abolish this modern luxury.

Leaving Barstow we started out over the valley. Quite a time was experienced passing over the dry lake that is immediatley in front of Casden Canyon. Each car looked like a white streak of dust as it raced its way across the floor of the lake.

Ultimately reaching the other side of the lake, the cars began the trip up into the canyon proper.
We had all been told to expect what we arrived there, but even words were unable to correctly portray the beauty and scenic wonders of this historic little canyon.

The road had been apparently dynamited through several sections of the mountain range, and spal-ished this section, and at times the road was so narrow it seemed doubtful if the cars would be able to continue up the canyon.
Several stops were made while we explored the silver mines in the canyon, and it was here that Professor Cushman successfully captured his first animal—a silly little horny-tong that seemed a bit perturbed when he found all of us perched behind it.

We quickly left the canyon after stopping for a moment in the ghost town of Calico and went on to Yermo, where we spent our first sleepless night. Unresticted by such conventions as wondering who was supposed to start the dire, get the weed, etc., everyone helped prepare supper; that is, the girls prepared it while the boys looked on almost as if they were meant to help. Professor Cushman & Company (Bob Consentine) assembled their convertible mousetrap and food box contraption, but the bait looked too tempting at that moment so the traps were

Continued on Page Three)

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

linoleum block by h. t. kuhn carefully hidden from any evolegged prowlers.

The evening's entertainment consisted mainly in visiting the town and listening to "Pinkie," a veteran of these parades, tell stories of the good old days. About this time lunch cries issued from the ladies baoard concerning the whereabouts of their respective pillows. A mail scramble occurred over the body of Allan Cossentine when one of them was located in Bob's bed which was next to his.

Another casualty was prevented by Siegel Glaze in holding Waldo
Nelson back, after Bob had awakened him at 12:30 wanting to know what time it was. Professor Morson woke up in the morning wondering where his suitcase blanket was located. A careful search revealed it to be on Harold Peck's bed. Hot showers were a welcomed surprise, when as guests of the local power company, several of the men found time to scrimp off whatever surplus dirt they had accumulated during the previous day's ride.

The next stop was at Baker, where the famous twenty-mule team wagon trains were the background for several snap-shots taken while there. We arrived at Hoover Dam about noon-time and spent several interesting hours here at the site. Las Vegas also proved quite interesting although we were unable to spend more than a few minutes in this town before leaving for Rhyolite, where we were to expect our next evening.

Rhyolite lived up to all our expectations. As we ate our dinner in the old post-office, we noticed the many torn and empty buildings that gave mute testimony of the glorious and activity that made Rhyolite a famous gold mining center in the years from 1904 to 1907.
Several excursions into the surronding mines by members of the party was the next order in the order of events, which was climaxed with the finding of the old Rhyolite jail, still in good condition.

About midnight a slight breeze began to blow, which finally culmated in a regular typhoon that worked on an alternating system.
The first three minutes it would blow all the dirt from one end of the canyon to the other. Then in the next three minutes it would reverse its direction and blow it back again. Dirt and sand was not the only things taken up by the wind. Blankets, shirts, caps, padamas and various articles of clothing all formed a familiar pattern around the Rhyolite landscape.

The next evening was spent at Furnace Creek Public Camp. No wind, hot and cold showers, swim-mimg pool, beautiful moon, good food and good weather were outstanding features which greeted our arrival, and everyone was in readiness for the prospect of tour-ning through Death Valley in the coming days.

The swimming pool was a popular place Friday afternoon, when we dug our swimming suits out of the moth-balls and went to get our feet wet. Ducking, under-water races, tag, with some fancy stroking by Waldo "sea-lion" Nelson, all aided in providing entertainment for the crowd. The life-guard came to the help of the women folk when in attempting to duck Harry Searthor, they were almost overcome.

The activity of the day showed its toll the next morning when no one was able to awaken before 7:30. The girls, however, did not appear around the breakfast table until 9:30. At this time Harriet Smith, who was making the sack lunches, was found making such thick sandwiches for her car that the paper sacks would not hold them. Harold Peck evened matters for his car by disappearing with a sack of oranges. (Continued on Page Three)

{Continued on Page Three}
Practical Christianity

By Donald Cheadle

The week of prayer is ending. We must do more for our Master now! Have you ever considered the possibilities of canvassing? These experiences will interest you.

The coldest day in Oxnard, although even my tongue seemed un-dergoing the freezing process, I recognized a lady who appeared at a door, who had taken "Bible Read-ings." Her child was not well and even then they were getting ready to go to a child specialist in Santa Barbara. Learning the nature of my new call she readily welcomed me in and soon gave me an order for "Home Physician" in the best binding combined with "Watchmen" and the "Science of Food and Cook-ery." Upon leaving, I also had the addresses of two of her friends who had been much impressed by "Bible Read-ings," and a promissory order for the "Bible Pictures and Stories," for her two girls. Delivering these Bible stories to her C.O.D. last November, helped me with my school expenses here. The same day, but in the afternoon, after a few pertinent remarks, a business man handed me a ten dollar bill in exchange for "Home Physician," convinced that God does go with him and before his Providence to doubt that.

Among the several who commenced taking Bible studies in Oxnard, a young couple were then Latter Day Saints are now faith-ful Adventists.

Recently, a little over a mile from here, a young family took "Home Physician," convinced that it would save them money in the future. In Corona a poor lady is making a real sacrifice for "Bible Readings for the Home Circle." She tells me that although her husband's work is scarce and his health poor, since she told him about the good work, he wants it as badly as she. She gave a dollar deposit the first of March.

These experiences are not to magnify what has been done. Although a colporteur must work intelli-gently and conscientiously if he wants success, he must realize God does go with him and before him, that God gives the increase. I have had too much evidence of His Providence to doubt that.

For 'fine' printing something is required in addition to care—certain vital gifts of the mind and under-standing. . . . Fine printing may be described as the product of a lively and seasoned intelligence work-ing with carefully chosen type, ink, and paper."

—Morton

THE FINE PRINTER BEGINS WHERE THE CAREFUL PRINTER HAS LEFT OFF.

This is our motive, aim, and purpose

THE COLLEGE PRESS

Southern California Junior College, Arlington, California

POET'S CORNER

INNOCENCE

At first,
Your innocence was quite re-freshing,
Your naiveté was something new,
Your harmless chatter restful,
You seemed too good to be true.

The worst was when you said
"No."
I couldn't believe we were through.
I learned I wasn't your first affair,
But don't flatter yourself.
Neither Were you
—Louis Fisher.

THE STORY OF THE DESERT TRIP

(Continued from Page Two)

Harmony Borax Works, Sand Dunes, Mosaic Canyon, Salt Pools, Artistic Canyon, Volcanic and Golden Canyon, the Natural Archway, and Bad Water, the lowest spot in North American were all visited by the "scientists" cars. The evening was spent at a nearby C.C.C. camp, where we were guests at their pro-gram.

Danie's View was the first stop on the way home and the trouble it necessitates to arrive at this pre-cious point was well rewarded. From this scene post-one could see the wasted valley below. Mt. Whi-ney, Sand Dunes, Bad Water, and all the other scenic drives in Death Valley could be seen from an aerial aspect and seemed quite distant.

Death Valley Junction and Sho-shone, an old Indian settlement, with a gasoline station, were the last two stops of the trip. From here we headed home to school and its attendant studies.

All seventeen members of the trip suffered but little from the ultra-violet rays of the sun, and seemed quite enthusiastic concern-ning the success of the trip. Good food, splendid weather, and the unforgettable S.C.C.F. fellowship of all present certainly went a long way in making this annual trek to the desert a long to be re-membered.

ANSWERS TO HOO-HOO

—Harry Sciarillo

—Grace Winget

—Richard Holbrook

OIL Batteries

"We Can't Sell All the Oil, So We Only Sell the Good Oil"

Fisher Oil Co. ALLAN A. FISHER

Specializing in High Grade Oils and Greases

GAS - OIL - KEROSENE - BATTERIES - ACCESSORIES

COMPLETE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE

2807-17 MAIN ST. PH. 408

(At Underpass)

"Here to Serve You"

FRANZENS

OPEN WITH NEW STOCKS

Hardware Sporting Goods Paints Roofings Electrical Appliances Lawn and Garden Tools Builder's Tools China Glass Silverware Pottery, etc.

FRANZEN HARDWARE CO.

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.
W E  P R E - M E D S

We Pre-Meds trying to study on a Saturday night. I know that the program will be good, but I have to study. This will be a good lesson to me in concentration. Half of the fellows in the dorm are at the program and the other half are leafing. Well, I'll show myself what real determination is. Here's a chance to prove to myself that I can take it. Just watch how I concentrate. What come first? Oh, yes, math. X plus 3x divided by M equals C.O.D. Oh well, that's enough playing around, now I'll study. . . I'll bet the program is good. Can't worry about that. Let's see, how does this problem go? I wonder who is playing that saxophone. It won't bother me; I can concentrate. . . . I finally quit; that helps. The dorm is quiet tonight. I wouldn't care if it weren't, I can concentrate. . . . I wish that those crickets wouldn't make so much noise. What is all that noise down in the hall. They must be coming back from the program. Is it that late? A whole night wasted. No studying, no program, not even a good nap!

H O O - H O O !

G U E S S  W H O ?

By Frances Rutan

What boy digs dirt around the flowers, and waters lawn for hours and hours, who fixed a car with many an ache, but lost his suitcase by mistake?

There is a girl—you guess her name—Sewing buttons won her fame, she tells you at the laundry door, "We don't take laundry after four."

Who wears a handsome coat of tan?

He's S.C.J.C.'s "ladies man."

He tackles jobs, large, small or petty, and can he put away spaghetti?

What girl eats dinner last of all?

She's bashful, fair, and rather tall. She stands against the post at noon and says, "Yes, you go pretty soon."

Who is the lad with look so cold who grabs your arm with Heredelian hold, and makes the shivers shake your spine, by hissing, "Say, you owe a fine!?"

By Grace Winget

Marion Leitch came to join the A Cappella Choir, Thursday evening in its concert at the home of W. J. Hole, also in the concerts given at San Diego, Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Raley visited their daughter, Goldie, Thursday evening.

Ivan Martin's mother, Mrs. Martin, and his sister, Crystelle, visited him Sunday. Crystelle was a student here last year.

Evangeline Voth is convalescing from an appendectomy at her home in the village.

Lois Clement, who has been in Loma Linda for two weeks, is back in school again.

Francis Paul's sister, Virginia, was seen on the campus, Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Hayton visited their son, Arthwell, Sunday.

The boy's glee club enjoyed a good swim at the Y.M.C.A. in San Diego, Friday afternoon.

Ben Buck didn't know he was being watched the other day when he straddled that barbed wire fence in an attempt to leap over it.

Richard Holbrook, Paul Burrows, and Odetah Brock furnished the entertainment at the banquet given by the nurses to the sophomore medics at Loma Linda, Monday evening.

Lucille Palmer, Jean Detlor, Nettie Atteberry, Helen Kintner, Jean Marie Petrik, Evelyn Palmquist, Helen Moore, Harriet Lieberthal, Grace Winget, Jack Cales, Louis Fisher, Percy Miles, Harold Conner, Jack King, Fred Bruderlin, Norman Homann, Jim Atchison, and Jerry Smith were those who gathered in the parlor of Gladwyn Hall, Saturday evening for some recreation. Games were played and plenty of popcorn was served.

Fred Bruderlin visited his parents in Los Angeles, Sabbath.

Elder C. Lester Bond, who is conducting the spring week of prayer at the college, is residing in Gladwyn Hall during his stay here.

Lyllian Siess, Fern Unger, Alladine Rich, and Florence Baird spent the week end in Glendale.

Troy Moore, brother of Helen Moore, called on her Sunday.

"Dolly" Sciarriello visited friends in the village, Sunday.

In both homes during worship, Saturday evening, the concert given by the choir over KFSD in San Diego was heard.

John Leslie and Jim Atchison were thrown from the wagon pulled by the colt, Oscar, that Jim was trying to break in last week.

Senior Day brought many things to S.C.J.C. amongst which were some new set curtains for the college dining room.

News reports written by the journalism class are now being sent in to the Riverside, Arlington, and Magnolia Center newspapers.

A picture was taken of the A Cappella Choir in an outdoor patio at the Mission Inn, Sunday afternoon.

Verna Henry, former student, spent last Wednesday at S.C.J.C.

The Forensic Club members performed during their meeting last week by giving very interesting demonstrations. Elvin Hoag made the effects of Nettie Atteberry's demonstrations most of the morning.

Girls' Forum was conducted at 8:45 last Thursday evening at which time the girls enjoyed a pajama party. Ernestine Valkers gave several readings, and refreshments were served.

The typing awards for February have been awarded. Mrs. Cushman received a 50-word guard, Alice Clement and Edith Moore, bronze pluses and Valerie Mountains a 35-word seal for writing 35 words per minute for 15 minutes with no mistakes.

Ruth Hawkins, Mildred Murdock, Helene Ochorn, are reading the trials of school "marmos" for they are now doing their practice teaching in grades 1 to 8.

(Continued on Page Three)

THE S O L Y N  S T R I P

Juniors

The class of '36 of Emmanuel Missionary College was organized March 11 and officers elected as follows:

President, Clyde Cleveland; Vice-President, Marian Francisco; Secretary, Arlene Marks; Treasurer, Ellis Lake; Faculty Advisor, Dr. H. O. Mcumber.

Microbes

The last issue of "The Pine," student publication of Arizona State Teachers College, contained the shortest poem in the English language on the origin of microbes. Here 'tis:

"Adam
Had 'em."

Cosmetics

"The Viking," from Long Beach J. C. has a unique and most interesting article in a recent copy. The column begins with the startling question, "Why shouldn't men wear cosmetics?" and goes on to state that if artificial aids can so add to the appearance of the fairer sex, it might be a good idea if the boys would start using them. It was suggested that they use in their daily make-up, finger waves, permanents, plucked eyebrows, perfume, powder, and rouge. After all, just think how it would look here if the young men as well as the girls would come to meeting with wet finger waves and Hollywood curlers.

Melting Pot

Of the 4,518 students enrolled at Los Angeles Junior College, 882 are not of the American race. There are representatives of twenty-five different countries in attendance there this year. Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.

The Japanese, we read, have invented a torpedo that is steered by a man who sits inside. If the torpedo turned out to be a dud, the man would be simply expectorated. While he is sitting there this year, Variety is the spice of life.
Spalding Talks On Social Ethics
Series of Lectures To Be Given

Arthur W. Spalding, well-known lecturer on social ethics is guest speaker at the college this week. He is taking two weeks to perform an experiment in teaching social ethics, the first consisting of general lectures in chapel, the second consisting of classes on various subjects.

“I don’t want you to feel like the sacrificial guinea pigs . . . .,” he said in his introduction to his subjects. “He consisting of classes on various subjects. His discussions thus far have been on the origin of love, nature and direction of love, social ethics, courtship, and “What is Life?”

His classes will be held for a period each day all of next week and will follow subdivisions of the above.

Campaigners to Go to Idyllwild

Nearly fifty swimming-pool campaigners who worked hard will leave for a week-end at the mountain resort at Idyllwild at 1:30, April 3. The camp, 4500 feet, surrounded by granite peaks, pine forests, and upland trails, is the large cabin owned by the Southeastern California-Arizona Conference.

Games, mountain hiking, campfire stories, will be among the entertainments offered. Since there is considerable snow there now, winter sports are possible.

Many Take Stand In Week of Prayer

Under the ministry of Elder C. Lester Bond, the annual Spring Week of Prayer, ending March 30, practically the whole student body stood to reconstitute their lives to the Master.

The students also pledged themselves to avoid the use of liquor, and tobacco, to shun movies, dances and questionable literature.

In his series of addresses, March 23-30, Elder Bond discussed social problems, motion pictures, fiction, and other evils present in the world today.

Pre-nurses Attend Entertainment

Giving a party in honor of the pre-nursing students, Mrs. George Bagley entertained 24 at her home on the evening of March 30.

Various games were played, followed by light refreshments. Each student was presented with a sucker wrapped in the class colors of ‘25.

These present were as follows: Fern Unger, Dorothy Baird, Florence Baird, Zula Messer, Toltah Neumann, Lovel Roderick, Grace Scott, Arline Richards, Jean Dellor, Valerie Jones, Lois Christiansen, Harriet Lieberthal, Aural Mathiesen, Harriet Smith, Florence Jones, Helen Moore, Evangeline Voib, Irene Struck, Frances Rutan, Igle Davis, Miss Seppala, Miss Paulson, Hazel Smith, Grace Winget, and Miss Wallace.

Ex-Editor President Of P.U.C. Juniors

Former S.C.J.C. ites Elected Class Officers

(By Our P.U.C. Correspondent)

W. Milton Lee, former editor of the CRITERION, has been recently elected president of the Junior Class at Pacific Union College. Mr. Lee was president of the S.C.J.C. Junior Class in ‘23.

Vice-president of the P.U.C. class is Clementina Nicolas, former A.S.B. secretary here.

Hawaii Shown in Colored Movies

Dr. G. Mosser Taylor, doctor of orthopedics of the White Memorial Hospital, Los Angeles, gave an illustrated lecture on the Hawaiian Islands, Saturday night, March 30, using still, and motion pictures, some of which were natural color. Dr. Taylor’s pictures depicted the rare beauty of the “Enchanted Isles of the Pacific.” Among other things they showed surf-boarding at the beach at Wakaiki; dining at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel; the boiling volcanic crater; a visit to a rime-apple cannery, and a view of the famous “Punchbowl” at Honolulu.

Two little natives were presented to the audience, clad in a hula skirt and a loin cloth.

A quartet consisting of Professor Mary Abel, Elder Dunbar, Dan Dirksen, Carol Bond, sang “The Beautiful Land.”

Seniors Discover Planted ‘Mike’

The senior meeting was just about to be called to order last Monday afternoon, when Professor Reynolds, class sponsor, noticed a suspicious looking object on the window sill. Investigation proved it to be a miniature microphone, evidently “planted” by some inquisitive juniors. It was fully connected and ready for business with a group of juniors at the other end of the wire “listening in.” Ben Brewer and Ben Mattison gave the juniors fictitious information as to the site of the senior picnic and other happenings. Then the microphone was detached and the meeting proceeded.

Biology Classes Go To Mojave Desert

Many varieties were reported in bloom. The canyon, which was included in the science club trip, was at one time famous for its silver mines.

Gardner Speaks On Glands

Discusses Goitre, Diabetes, and Addison’s Disease in Sigma Gamma Meeting

Speaking largely on the endocrine glands, Dr. Floyd Gardner, associate professor of chemistry at the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, addressed the Sigma Gamma on the evening of March 30.

Spending considerable time on the thyroid gland, Dr. Gardner discussed the two types of goiter, the over-active and the under-active. When the thyroid is over-active, there is an increase of thyroxine manufactured, which speeds up bodily processes, causing one to become nervous, and thin. When the thyroid is under-active one is dull mentally, and sluggish physically, he showed.

Every cell of the thyroid gland produces 10 million molecules of thyroxin per day, the doctor said. Six-sixteenth milligrams are used by the body every day.

Operations are seldom made today on under-active thyroid glands, he said, because iodine will cure the condition.

Diabetes

Speaking of diabetes, Dr. Gardner said that insulin, which was discovered in 1921, was used to remove the effects of the ailment.

This drug must be taken every day by a hypodermic and not by mouth, he stated.

(Continued on Page Three)

Department of Agriculture Expands

With the coming of Professor Sydney Smith, formerly of Union College, and Emmanuel Missionary College, has come expansion in the Agricultural Department.

Classes in this important subject are to begin next term, and this term considerable land is being planted. Over 4000 raspberry vines of several varieties have been set out, and 1000 strawberry plants.

At present in the garden, or hot beds, the following are growing: artichokes, asparagus, beans, corn, tomato vines, lettuce, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, turnips, spinach, beets, peas and broccoli.
THE COLLEGE CRITERION

VOL. 4 NO. 16
Arlington, Calif. April 4, 1929

Entered as second class matter, November 7, 1929, at the Post Office at Arlington, California, under the Act of March 3, 1917.

Published Thursdays by the Associated Students, University of California, Junior College. Printed by The College Press.

HENRY LEWIS KUHN. Editor-in-Chief

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Henry Mathieson, Louise Carr, Louis Fisher, Beatrice Hinkle, Roy Simkin, Odetah Brock, Ruth Johnson

COLUMNISTS

Inter-College News. Frances Batan

STAFF A

Associate Editor. Velma Mathiesen
Assistant. Wilma Spence
Proof Reader. Anna M. Thompson
Biographer. Edith Hegg

STAFF B

Associate Editor. Margaret Lane
Assistant. Jean Marie Ferry
Proof Reader. Violette Jones
Biographer. Aylene Van Tasell

REPORTERS

BUSINESS

Treasurer. George Clement
Secretary. Supreme Munnan
Advertising, this issue... Roy Giddings

ADVISORY

Literary. J. P. Fentling
Business. A. R. Smith

This issue Edited by Staff "A"

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

from india

Dearest Ben:

Mother's good letter just came today when the dak walah (mail carrier) brought the mail. How I wish I could see you there at the college this evening, but it doesn't do a speck of good to wish. If it did, I'd have seen you several times since I came out. But the next two years will go fast . . . there aren't two full ones left until I hope to be leaving India, at least for a while.

The other day a chap came around to the school and did some tricks; he did quite a few good ones such as splitting fire, making a piece of money disappear out of my hand—and I was holding on to

(Continued on Page Four)

from India

Chichoki Mallian
Punjab, India

Editor's Note: Miss Brewer, a graduate of the class of '29, and sister of Ben Brewer, has been in India for the past three years teaching school. A recent letter to her brother had each interest in it that the alumnus editor has taken out several excerpts for publication here.

Chichoki Mallian
Punjab, India
There were generally about twelve every one puts up his own sack fore starting, lunch is served and again. Twenty-seven miles in one day. I came. On one occasion we walked playing games; then we would re-castle itself. After eating our thing. The destination was most times but one gets used to every-thing. The destination was most generally the ruins of an old castle, or a monument of some kind, or a castle itself. After eating our lunch, a few hours were spent in playing games; then we would re-turn in the same manner as we came. On one occasion we walked or marched, I should say, some twenty-seven miles in one day, I can’t say that I’d care to try it again.

A student going from S.C.J.C. to Darmstadt, I went and found school life there a bit dry and uninterest- ing. But I thoroughly enjoyed the nine months spent there and I be-lieve you would too after you be-came accustomed to the differences.

FIfty TO EnJOy Trip TO Idyllwild

In the group are ten faculty members who also campaigned. A complete list of those going is on page 3.

April 5
There are still 12 left to go on the Campaign Mountain Trip, April 5.

Jack King
Fred Horowitz
Anthony Muff
Mike A. D. Paulson
Irene Strook
Harriet Smith
Jean Detten
Katherine Voth
Arturo Richards
Mr. L. C. Morland
Margarette Sancy
Mrs. Pam Mohr
Louis Fisher
Milieu Demark
Anna May Thompson
William Conner
Donald Smith
Jim Affehlson
Mitz M. Jensen
Ruth Hawkins
Dorothy Nance
Barbara Nyord
Beattie Nyord
Alice Clement
Tom Bowers
Ruth Fillbach
Bill Bowers
Barbara Stearns
Perry Miles
Mr. A. P. Fantinato
Mrs. Hockles
Mrs. Clark
Mr. A. R. Smith
Lettie Noble
Doris Mowrey
Pauk McIntosh
Ally Vov Tassel
Lettie Palmer
Frank Judson
Jean Faustino
Rosalie Baker
George Clement
Nettie Atteborry
Jean Marie Petrik
Harriet Sayedville
Florence Jones
Miss Yoo Atta
Elder Dunbar

Hoo Hoo Answers

(Continued from Page Four)

Harold Peck, (A. B.)
Beardc Williams
Allan Cossentine
Una Moses

Chemistry Professor

Addresses Science
Club Meeting

Addisons Disease

This is caused by non-functioning of the supra-renal gland. Cortin, a product of the cortex of the gland is a specific. It costs $1000 a year to keep a person who has this ailment alive.

Insanity

One person in every 20 alive in California today, will go insane, the doctor said. In New York State one person in 10 will come to be in the mental condition.

One-half of all insanity cases are caused by alcohol, syphils, trauma, etc; the rest is inherited.

Tolering a wrong is really en-tertaining it.

His fellowship strengthens our friendship.

The devil never bothers to shake barren trees.

Genuine Mazda Lamps

Popular Sizes Reduced to Stock Up Now!

New 15, 25, 40, 50, and 60 Watt Mazda Lamps Reduced to 15c Each. Other Sizes at Reduced Prices. Complete Line of Electrical Appliances.

Karl's Riverside

3905 Main Street

New Easter Shoes

For Men, Women, and Children at Reasonable Prices

Most Complete Stock All Styles, All Sizes

Liberal Trade-ins

On Your Old Refrigerator

Phone 413 Evenings
Or See Me at 318 Court St.

Clarence Harlow
LOMA LINDA
DO YOU KNOW?

By Harry Scharrillo and Budge McBurnett

That Donald Davenport has left the band of President Harding?

That the women of Gladwyn Hall have won both S. & K. and "own House?"

That Donavan Philips is a teacher, barber, and holder of two degrees?"

That Inez Mann and Waldo Nelson were born in Indiana?

That Donald Cheenhe was captain of the finna Barbara High School football team?

That Irene Goss, a former student of S.C.J.C. is an aunt to Siep Glini?

That Harold Kounenburg said,
"You can hear me coming. I certainly don't belong to oneself? I don't care if people know that I'm not a gentleman. I certainly enjoy running around slapping people that I'm not particularly friendly with on the back and poking them in the ribs. That was to get a lot of publicity."

Another good way to get publicity is to have a lot of publicity.
Everybody can hear me coming. I certainly do have the fun. Of course, no one likes me, but what difference does it make?

Orators

The preliminary oratorical contests were held last week at the Whittier High School, Whittier, Calif. The city's highest standing in these preliminary contests will compete for the school champions-ship, April 3. This contest is conducted every year among the high school students. The prizes this year are being furnished by the Kiwanis Club of that city.
Campus Clubs To Entertain

Gladwyn Hall Co-eds To Hold Open House

Several campus groups are giving varied entertainments on April 21. Annual Open House is being sponsored by the co-eds of Gladwyn Hall in the evening when all the Mu Beta Kappa men are invited to inspect the dormitory and attend an entertainment to follow, the nature of which is being kept secret.

The village students are holding a “world tour” the same evening, features of which are not known.

Journalism Class Sees Riverside 'Press Plant'

Spending its annual field day, the journalism class, consisting of four members, Goldie Bailey, Jack Waller, Birdssal Hodgens, and Frances Rutan, conducted by Professor J. P. Festing, visited among other places, a newspaper plant in Riverside, Tuesday April 9.

The first place of interest visited was the famous Glenwood Mission Inn, where the class was taken on a personally conducted tour through the buildings and grounds of the Inn.

Boulder Dam

During Spring Vacation, the Science Club made its Annual Desert Trip, which included a visit to Boulder Dam. Waldo Nelson, one of the 17 who went, has written up an article on this project, now nearly finished.—Ed.

By Waldo Nelson

Previously it was decided to construct the dam in Boulder Canyon but later engineers considered Black Canyon, 30 miles downstream as the most desirable location, for the latter presented the least difficulties, it being in closer proximity to railroad facilities, aggregate pits, and highways and a more

(Continued on Page Three)

Glee Clubs Will Present Program

Singing 13 numbers, the combined glee clubs will present their annual program at S.C.J.C. at 7:30 p.m., April 20 in the college chapel. The women's glee club, which has about 35 voices, will give five numbers, including an arrangement of the popular “Take Joy Home,” by Rieger. The men's glee club will sing a group of six, two sea songs, two martial songs, a novelty number, and an a cappella arrangement of “Annie Laurie,” by Buck.

In a massed group, the clubs will give “Night Wind,” by Parley, and the “Bridal Chorus,” by Cowan.

The program is as follows:

Girl’s Glee Club
Take Joy Home Rieger
Gianina Mia
Frimal

Tropic Gardens Schuman
Rain Curran

I Dream of Jeannie Foster

—Men's Glee Club

Sea Fever Masefield
On the Sea Buck

Annie Laurie Buck

Drums Gibson

(Continued on Page Three)

Literary Group To Take Field Trip

Making an all-day trip, the Arts and Letters Guild will visit the famous Huntington Library, the Forest Lawn Memorial Park, and possibly the new Times building in Los Angeles, on April 25. Various works of art, including the original of “Gainaborough’s “Blue Boy” are at the Huntington Library, and an exhibit of the English novel from the earliest times is now open.

Concrete Poured for Pool

Excavation for the A.S.B. plunge has been completed, the forms for the concrete have been constructed, and are mostly in place. Concrete is now being poured. This will be finished early next month according to report.

The dimensions of the pool were changed by student body vote from the 40x60 size to 30x80 to give stretch for meets.

President Visits Northwest

All Coast S.D.A. Colleges Now Accredited With Northwest Association

After attending the recent meetings of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, held in Spokane, Washington, President E. E. Cossentine addressed the S.C.J.C. student body in assembly on April 18.

He announced that the Northwest Association had given Walla Walla College full accreditation as a senior college. The three S.D.A. coast colleges, W.W.C., S.C.J.C., and P.U.C., now enjoy the highest accreditation possible.

Pointing out a recent trend of thought among the world's educators, President Cossentine gave a brief sketch of a talk which Dr. MacLean of the University of Minnesota gave at one of the meetings. Dr. MacLean stated that modern youth should be educated to “quietness,” “self-reliance,” and “clear-thinking.” This speaker said, however, that he feared that students were being educated merely to become “cannon fodder” in the next war.

President Cossentine reported visiting Walla Walla College, and inspecting its equipment, including the new women's dormitory and the science department. He stated that S.C.J.C's science department was very strong, contrasting the fact that W.W.C.'s General Chemistry has written up an article on the project, now nearly finished.—Ed.

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Three)

Juniors Organize

At the organization of the Juniors yesterday, the sons of San Diego county emerged triumphant, when Frank Judson, former San Diego Academy, A.S.B. presid., was elected president of the class, and George Clement, ex-ranch boy was voted vice-president.

Other officers are as follows: Louise Bunch, secretary; Willard Mathieson, treasurer; Harry Scarrillo, parliamentarian; and Percy Miles, local strong man, sergeant-at-arms.
editorials

SUCCESS

We must pay for our future to-day or bitterly regret it.

The world does not lack in intellect, but it is short in emotional balance. Many who are able to produce good thoughts fail because their fear, anxiety, worry, and hate life is off keel. Begin today to winnow thyself and progressively improve emotional balance.

The man who can control himself may be sure to control the things in his environment which includes others. He can control today what the day will leave for us tomorrow, when it has passed into the realms of yesterday which never return.

T. M.

"Coming on, cell-mate," said the boy to his roommate, "are going home, prease?" "Giving to me food." "Giving to me food." "Coming on, cell-mate," said the boy to his roommate, "are going home, prease?" "Giving to me food.

Students in the student teacher program are teaching two to five weeks instead of just one, and Miss Jensen says this plan is working very successfully, for it gives the teacher a wider experience and a knowledge of how to carry one week's work into the next one.

Each of the students has requested the room he wants to teach, and then he must proceed to make out lesson plans covering two weeks for three grades. These plans are submitted to the critic teacher for her approval, and the following Monday the whole room is under complete charge of the student teacher.

At the end of each day's teaching, the student teacher has conference with the teacher of the room who is in and out of the room during the day observing. With her criticism, and advice, the student teacher is able to adjust himself for the next day's teaching.

There are nine who expect to finish teacher-training this year, and all of them are eagerly looking forward to next year when they hope to have schools of their own. Helene Osborne is the only one at present teacher training in the Normal school.

The Norwegian was related with all due seriousness. And with the closing phrase, "Women are de bunk," the supposedly strong defenders of the weaker branch of human society shouted and cheered and joy prevailed.

Now, as one fellow to another, do you think that was the proper attitude to take when these poor, defenseless, young creatures were spoken of in such a cruel, cold, manner?

Of course is wasn't. Why, just think fellows, what this cold world would be like if there were no women.

For things, probably fell down enough after such a bitter proclamation—and we cheered for the heart-broken Norwegian.

We should cheer—no doubt the feeling is mutual.

Exasperated Ann.
favourable aspect, topographically. The walls and bed rock of Boulder Canyon are one of granite formation whereas those of Black Canyon are of volcanic origin, geologically termed "Andesite Breccia."

Just before arriving at the dam site one views off to the side of the road a large fabrication plant, wherein the immense pipe is being assembled. It is difficult for one who has not viewed this immense project to gain an idea of its enormity except through comparative arithmetical descriptions. One has not the mental capacity to exercise his imagination to such lengths.

We viewed the project from varied points of vantage, which would not have been permitted except for the courtesies extended to us by the Southern Sierras Power Company. A little historical background often adds interest to any project. The legislative difficulties were of great importance. Theodore Roosevelt, in person, went before Congress and asked for an appropriation to carry out preliminary surveys for the purpose of determining means of controlling the Colorado river.

In December 1928, President Calvin Coolidge signed the Swing-Johnson Bill known as the Boulder Canyon Project, this brought an end to the bitter fight engaged in by the great power interest and by the State of Arizona and President Hoover. Hoover signed the bill into law on June 25, 1929 to proceed.

The U. S. Government under the supervision of the Bureau of Reclamation division of the Department of the Interior is building the dam. The contractor is Six Companies, Inc. This company represents a combination of six of the largest contractors in the West.

The preliminary preparations alone were of great importance and represented the transportation of vast quantities of materials. Not alone was the accumulation of materials the only essential, but the activity on the dam site itself was of magnitude; approximately 7 million cubic feet of rock and soil was excavated.

If all the excavated material and all the material utilized to construct the dam and appurtenant works were loaded on railroad cars it would form a train 4700 miles long. If Six Companies, Inc., possesses 10 full sized locomotives, 150 freight cars, and approximately 290 motor cars and trucks which are in continual use at the dam.

In closing he asked that the students cultivate seriousness of purpose in their lives.

I would rather search my Bible for permission to give up that which my brother may stumble into than, to see how far I can go in the use of it without committing sin.—George Bain.

There is nothing in the universe that I fear but that I shall not all my duty, or shall fail to do it.—Mary Lyon.
The devoted students and faculty members whose efforts brought in the bulk of the Swimming Pool Campaign fund were rewarded by a trip to Idyllwild, April 5, 6, and 7. Of course, the campaign committee went along. It wasn't that we wanted to panhandle a trip, but, conscientious as we are, we wanted to be sure that the contestants had a good time. Thanks to our zealous and untriring efforts, they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Before going further we want to hand out a few orchids. Nettie Attebury did a marvelous job of handling the food department. If there is any department that your correspondent considers himself authoritative on, it is food, and you can be assured that the quality and quantity both met the highest standards, and that Nettie Attebury was in very large measure responsible.

Barbara Stearns and George Clement also performed culinary duties very magnificently. Anthony Muff worked hard, both on the campaign and on the trip, and deserves plenty of praise. Plenty of others deserve bouquets also, but there were so many that space doesn't permit time justice's being done.

Friday night's sermon was given by Professor Cushman who also accompanied the singing with his trumpet. He was made plenty busy in a lot of other ways, also. Sabbath School was in charge of Mr. A. B. Smith while Professor Fentzel gave the morning's talk basing it on his experiences in the Phillipines. Sabbath afternoon was devoted to a walk up to Lily Rock (they call it that because you are as weak as a lily by the time you reach it). King, Fisher and Muff made the complete ascent. Everyone else showed good judgment and compromised.

Mr. Smith and Professor Cushman were lucky in having their wives along to help pull them up the trail. Incidentally, most of the trail was obliterated by snow.

Sabbath night's program witnessed the introduction of the newly-discovered, but stellar trio of Darcy, Smith, and Cushman. Minor attractions on the same program were a pyramid, and vocal numbers by F. James, H. L. Scarrillo; a poem by F. Rutan, and several other features that were so overshadowed by Fisher, King, and Horovitz that they can hardly be remembered. Of course, our voices weren't so good, we were.
Co-eds Hold
Open House

175 Attend Annual Affair

Putting on the most colorful affair yet seen here this year, the Gladwyn Hall women gave a progressive party representing different countries, at their annual Open House, April 21.

Following an inspection of the upstairs rooms, the visitors went downstairs where various room booths had been installed for different countries, and from which representative food was placed on each dish.

At Holland there was cottage cheese; at Ireland, potato salad; at Italy, spaghetti; at Hawaii, pineapple punch; at Japan, sweetmeats and at some indeterminate place, tuna.

(Continued on Page Four)

Sime Presents
Musical Program

Mr. Orvil Sime, of Wisconsin, entertained the S.C.J.C. student body, Tuesday evening, with a very uncommon musical program. He introduced many unusual and interesting instruments to us, many of which he had designed himself. Mr. Sime is touring the continent and is booked for many programs while on the west coast.

Mr. Sime's program was of a varied type. Sacred, secular, and popular numbers comprised the entertainment.

(Continued on Page Four)

Choir To Sing at Music Festival

Climaxing a season of about thirty programs, including radio broadcasts over KFI, KFOX, KFHM, and KFSB, the A Capella Choir will sing in the Riverside Music Festival to be held near the end of May.

It is expected that several thousand people will attend the Festival, an annual affair sponsored by the Riverside Musicians' Association.

A. S. B. Holds Annual Election

Pupil of Miss Voth To Give Recital

Concluding his four-year course in pianoforte, Chester Alcorn will give his graduation recital at 7:30, May 4 in the College Chapel. He has been under the tutelage of Miss Florence Voth. He will be assisted by Miss Ruth La Gorge, well-known Riverside soprano, and former S.C.J.C. student.

The entire program is as follows:

- Preludes by Mozart
- Nocturne in E flat
- Chopin
- Troika En Traineur
- Tschaikowsky
- Un Sospiro (Rutte in D flat)
- Liszt

(Continued on Page Four)

Students Vote Jerry Smith Prexy; Evelyn Palquist, Secretary; Jack Waller, CRITERION Editor

Voting in offices for the various A.S.B. positions, the coming year, the students elected Jerry Smith, brother of former editor, Dunbar Smith, to the presidency on April 27. Jack Waller, local poet, was voted editor-in-chief of THE COLLEGE CRITERION.

Other officers elected were as follows: Women's vice-president, Jean Marie Petrik; Men's vice-president, Waldo Nelson; Secretary, Evelyn Palquist; Assistant, Eunice Renssen, Alyce Van Tassel; Business Manager THE CRITERION, Don Smith; Assistant, Bob Cossentine; Faculty Advisor, Margaret Van Atta.

These will take office at once, and remain until six weeks preceding the close of school next year.

Glee Clubs, Piano Dept., Give Program

Giving one of the finest musical programs heard here this year, the combined glee clubs, with members from the Piano Department, made their annual presentation in the College Chapel, Saturday night, April 27.

(Continued on Page Four)

Auditorium Construction To Be Rushed

Working day and night, a double shift crew has been working ceaselessly on the new A.S.B. plunge until just recently.

Now, as the side walls are about completed, many of the crew will be drawn to the work of leveling for the new camp-meeting auditorium.

This building, to seat about 1,000 persons, is under contract to be finished by May 30, in time for the graduation ceremonies of the class of '35.
editorials

GOING AND COMING

The CRITERION staff of '34-'35 extends to Jack Waller, former editor of the Ramona High paper, its best wishes for his work this coming year.

From working with Mr. Waller this past year, I can say that I know of no one here who is better fitted for his position, who will be more painstaking in overseeing a publication that will doubtless be noted for its vigorous, intelligent expression of our school life.

His election was one of the most fortunate events connected with the student body this year.

Sincerely,

Henry Lewis Kuhn

IN APPRECIATION

While the whole staff of the CRITERION has cooperated well in publishing the paper, there are a few who deserve special mention for unusual effort: For excellent feature columns, Frances Rutan, Jack Waller and Fred Horowitz; for copy deck work, Velma Mathisen; for the circulation department, Ralph Munson and Charles Mor-
In Nome

From a quiet little valley in the fairy-land of Nome,
From the intersected garden of a rustic summer home
Comes the dainty perfumed fragrance of the lupin, jasmin, rose,
Of the sweetest-scented violet and of lavender that grows.

And the heavy-laden fruit trees bend their stately boughs to earth,
To the song of thrush and robin, to the song of joy and mirth,
While, the varicolored blossoms strewn beneath the arbor’s green,
Is a canopy of velvet, yes, a throne for any queen.

There are vines in that old bower, vines and moss for beauty’s sake;
Vines entwined round trees and bushes, vines entwined ‘round pole and stake.
Age lends beauty to that bower: there’s a bucket in the well—
And how many, through the ages, have come here their thirst to quell?

As the sun reflects its splendor in the creek beneath that well,
And its rays are penetrating every shadow in the dell,
I awake to find I’ve wandered in a mistier land than Nome,
Yes, in dreamland, happy dreamland, where I often make my home.

—Marguerite Tarello

Breeze

It blows my hair and tears my clothes,
It stings my eyes and burns my nose,
Its dusty fragrance makes me sneeze,
They call it La Sierra breeze.
—Recarda Williams

Change

Moonlight over the ocean,
The best of the waves on the shore,
The cry of a lone sea gull
And it is night once more.

Sunlight flooding the hill top,
The lifting of clouds from the shore
The warble of birds in the trees,
And it is day once more.
—Edith Rice

Yesterday

Daylight following the departing sun leaves here Shadow, with cheerful bird-song, and
On the near-far mountain
Summons purple dusk,
Withdraws the deepening pink.

Moist odor of new-plowed earth;
Faintly pungent smell of fresh-cut hay
Calls delight, with gentle, poignant longing
For yesterday.
—H.L.K.

Crickets

I like to hear the crickets sing
From morning until night,
But I’d hate to have to use my wing
To make my song sound right.
—Harriet Lieberthal

The COLLEGE PRESS

FLOWER’S MOMENT

We have heard of the flowers in May,
Of that ever sweet pleasant thought;
How they live sometimes only a day,
Yet, to think of the cheer they have brought.
—Hazel Walde

When Ordering Flowers
Remember Your Local Florist
BAKER BASKET COMPANY
(Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baker)
We Do ALL KINDS of Floral Work We Can Save You Money
Corner Ridge Road and Gramercy Place La Sierra Heights

OIL Batteries

“We Can’t Sell All the Oil, So We Only Sell the Good Oil”

Fisher Oil Co.
ALLAN A. FISHER
Specializing in High Grade Oils and Greases
GAS - OIL - KEROSENE BATTERIES - ACCESSORIES
COMPLETE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE
2807-17 MAIN ST. PH. 408 (At Underpass)
“Here to Serve You”
WE PRE-MEDS

Once upon a time “We Pre-Meds,” arose at four o’clock in the morning. That was on the occasion of the senior picnic. Now, boys and girls, seniors are peculiar animals and senior pre-meds are very extraordinarily peculiar animals and they sometimes believe they enjoy getting up at four o’clock in the morning to go to Camp Sesey. They even think that it is fun to discomfort unsophisticated juniors by luring them away from their automobiles by promises of breakfast and by allowing the air in the tires of aforementioned cars to escape in the interim, thus depriving themselves of the charming junior’s company for the remainder of the day. Be that as it may, the seniors certainly do have fun in their naive way. A couple of them have been running around looking for “tobogran grease” so that tobogginan could be possible in spite of lack of snow.

All in all, it took all of your reporter’s tremendous self-control in order for him to maintain his usual dignity in face of the exuberance of the class of ’33, the finest the school has ever known.

Glee Clubs Give Program

(Continued from Page One)
In addition to the twelve numbers given by the Glee Clubs, the following numbers were presented by the piano students:

Elegie
Jean Marie Petrik, Dorothy Moreland
Coasting
Louise Carr
Six Variations on “Nel Cor Pir” Beethoven
Bill Baker
Etude, Un Soapro
List
Chester Alcorn
Value from Suite, Opus 15 Arensky
Dorothy McLatchy, Ada Maurer
Improvisation, Opus 48 No. 4
MacDowell
Moto Perpetual, Opus 48 No. 2
MacDowell
Fanias Improptum, Opus 66, No. 2
MacDowell
Dorothy McLatchy

COMEING EVENTS

Saturday, May 15 — Chester Alcorn Graduation
Recital, Chapel: 7:30
Sunday, May 15 — Biology Field Trip
Saturday, June 1 — Baccalaureate Sermon, 11:00
Class Night, 8:00 p.m.
Sunday, June 2 — Commencement, 11:00 a.m.

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

By Grace Winget
Assisted By Ivan Martin

May 6 is the dead line for term papers—hence the frantic poring at books and the many scratchings of heads.

Wink spoke to M.B.K. last week on the organization and printing of the COLLEGE CRITERION.

Barbara Steen paid a visit to Gladwyn Hall, Sunday evening to make a room reservation for next school year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sollazzo and Edward paid Harry a visit Sunday afternoon.

A part of the College board ate dinner in the dining room, Sunday.

A group of normal students went west and returning Sunday afternoon then ate supper up on the hill.

Mrs. Grace Dilbeck spent the weekend at the college with her daughter, Dorothy.

Four large trees and trailer loads of lumber arrived at S.C.J.C., Sunday to be used in the building of the auditorium and gymnasium.

The A Cappella Choir took a picnic dinner with them Sunday afternoon which they ate before they started at the Riverside Congregational Church.

Some of the young ladies saw George Clemen play at the domestic Sunday evening when because of necessity he operated the sewing machine in Gladwyn hall. Does anyone know of anything else he can do?

The boys of the General Chemistry class spent a day at the Riverside Cement Plant last week.

The Commercial and Physics classes also spent a day in the field last week visiting places of interest to them and the subjects they are studying.

Friday evening the Girls’ Forum sponsored games during the regular meeting.

S.C.J.C.’s double quartet: Paule Burr, Vera Belling, Florence Jones, Harold Intosh, Allan Tossentine, Paul Mathieson, Allan Cosmatine, and Professor Ahlert rendered a song of songs and talk at Eagle Rock Church, Friday evening.

Beatrice Hikkin, Anna Mathiesen and Velma Mathiesen have been accepted for training in the fall class at Loma Linda School of Nursing.

Ronald Perry of Santa Ana is now working at the woodshop.

It is with great regret on the part of the young men that the school rules say they may discard their coats in the dining room for the last six weeks of school.

Harriett Smith’s parents from El Cajon paid her a visit last week.

The German II and III classes were entertained at Stevenson’s, Sunday evening. They played games and enjoyed a delicious supper.

Percy Miles recently climbed to the top of the last joint of the flag pole to which he tied the Junior colors.

Harold Conner has been ill with the flu” but is on the way to recovery and anxious to be given freedom from his captivity.

Mary MacKersie, Una Moses, Florence Baird, and Jack King spent Sunday at home.

Harriet Licherthal spent the weekend in Glendale.

Jack King was a guest at the nurses’ dorm up on the hill behind the college Wednesday evening.

SIMON AND HIS MUSIC

The composer of “Beautiful Savior,” and many other popular A Cappella numbers.

The audience seemed to enjoy Mr. Sime’s music very much, and requests were made that he visit again when he is on the west coast.

A home without books is like a house without windows. — Henry Ward Beecher.

There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune. — Shakespeare.

Choose your words as you would choose your friends—for their character.

I am rich if I can get more pleasure out of the landscape than the owner can out of the land.

Rare hands grip success better than kid gloves do. — Charles M. Schwab.

Mend your speech lest it mar your fortune. — Shakespeare.

The world listens to a man who talks well.

GUESS WHO

Who looks for “suckers” for his jokes?

(A and now and then he lands some) He takes a long ride, every night, and once was nicknamed “Handsome.”

Guess who the little red-head is, with sparkling eyes that loves to laugh?

It is to her we whisper low—

“A penny post card, if you please.”

(Answers on Page Three)

CO-EDS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

(Continued from Page One)

Following the general theme, the program in the parlor was also international in character.

One of the most interesting episodes of the entire evening was the Japanese section. Full of the Cherry Blossoms, done by Mary Sakamoto, and her two sisters, Rosie and Barbara, to the accompaniment of Japanese music, in the parlor, following the inspection of rooms. In a Hawaiian song, Richard Holbrook was answered by Verna Belding, while Paule Burr, accompanied on the piano, and Helen Fernandez strummed the ukulele. All wore leis.

Concluding the entertainment, the entire group who had given parts sang the national anthem.

These were: Arline Richards, Zula Messer, Marguerite Tarello, Dorothy and Florence Baird, Tolitha Neumann, Edna and Lillyan Siess, Pat Clement, Hazel Luy, Frances Rutan, Helen Kintner, Florence Jones, Mary Sidmore, Mary Moreno and Doris Moywer.

Of the booths, the Hawaiian and the Japanese were most striking.

At the former, a moon shone through palm leaves, while Hawaiian music drifted out. Within the doorway sat Professor C. C. Morrison’s small daughter, LaDelle, dressed in the native costume. Only a bamboo screen lighted the room.

The Japanese section in the lobby was overhung with lanterns, and decorated with numerous curios, including a model of the ancient stone ceremonial lanterns, lacquerware, tea-cups, and other oriental things. It was at this point that the visitors were presented with Japanese sweetmeats secured by Mary Sakamoto. Inside one kind were fortunes.
THE COLLEGE CRITERION
PUBLICATION OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS
OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA JUNIOR COLLEGE
VOLUME VI  ARHLINGTON, CALIFORNIA, MAY 16, 1935  NUMBER 10

Auditorium Work Begun
Project Slated for Completion By June 1

With a crew of over fifty men and from twelve to fifteen students working to full capacity, work goes forward on College Hall, the new camp-meeting auditorium and student recreation building. The contract held by Harstad of Los Angeles calls for completion by June 1, the building to be in readiness for the commencement exercises to be held there at that time.

The new structure with a total area of 130 by 210 feet and a seating capacity of over five thousand is being built fundamentally for the annual summer camp-meeting services held on the S.C.J.C. campus. When not in use by the conference, however, it will be used by local students as a gymnasium and recreation hall.

(Continued on Page Four)

Students Give Recital

Music students of Southern California Junior College gave a chapel recital Friday, May 10. The program consisted of both vocal and instrumental numbers.

Receiving most attention was the work of Junior Nydell, nine year old piano pupil of Miss Florence Voth. Junior takes his music very seriously, practicing with a persistence unusual at his age.

Several other musical features, including "The Unfinished Symphony," by Franz Schubert, were given. A continuation of the recital has been announced for Friday, May 17.

Dedication

To the dearest friends we have, to the ones who make our attendance at this school possible, to the ones who encourage our feeble talents when they seem the farthest away, the ones who love us dearly when we are too busy to give them thought — as a belated Mother's Day present, we dedicate this, the first copy of THE COLLEGE CRITERION under new management, to the beloved mothers of Southern California Junior College.

— The Editor

A.S.B. Presents
'Through encounters with savage wild beasts, was the feature of "Wild Cargo," with Frank Buck, the first talking picture ever given at S.C.J.C. The film released Saturday night, May 11, was secured by the Associated Student Body.

The pictures showed Frank "Bring 'Em Back Alive" with all the adventures of his famous Malay expedition in quest of wild cargo. His methods were shown in detail as he captured dozens of wild and savage beasts to be shipped to America for circuses and zoos.

Varied adventures were shown ranging from the capture of elephants in huge stockades to the trapping of large bats in nets extended high at the end of long bamboo poles. Thrills and tragedy were mingled with the amusing shots of the wrestling bouts between a small monkey and a tiny honey-bear.

Other unusual shots included a death struggle between a giant

(Continued on Page Three)

Professor Pays
Tribute to Mothers

With a tribute to mothers of the church, C. M. E. Sorenson, head of the local Bible department gave the Mother's Day sermon on Sabbath, May 11.

"On this day, Adventists ought to think of the blessings mother has given and be thankful," said Elder Sorenson. "Christ was mindful of his mother. In his dying moment on Calvary, racked with pain, the sins of all the world bearing down upon him, his heart breaking through the darkness of Gethsemane, Christ could see his mother there before him, and his heart yearned for her love."

Continuing, Elder Sorenson spoke of the place mothers have held in the history of men since Eve first knew the cares of motherhood. To their mothers such men as Isaac, Moses, Samuel, Timothy, and Lincoln owe much. A special word of commendation was given for the pioneer mothers of the new world. Paul's mother was regarded as the model for the word picture of Eve he paints in I Corinthians 15.

In concluding, he urged a sensible expression to our mothers of our love, which is their due.

Senior Graduation
Plans Take Shape

Graduation exercises have been announced by the senior class of 1935 to take place on the week end of June 1 and 2.

The baccalaureate service is scheduled for Sabbath, June 1, at 11:00 a.m. The speaker has not been definitely announced.

That evening the class night program will be given. All numbers will be the work of the seniors themselves.

Final commencement exercises will be held Sunday morning, June 2, at 11:00 o'clock. Dr. W. G.
A Diary and A Pass

By J. O. W.

Countless black shiny automobiles and ponderous motor trucks shot through the fertile San Jacinto Valley, halted for a moment in the prosperous town of Hemet, and point upward over the towering San Jacinto to the desert land beyond. Every year, campaign enthusiasts from S.C.J.C. travel on a stone-paved highway to the pinnacles of Idyllwild there to enjoy a weekend of relief from the perplexities of college life. It is doubtfull if more than a very few have ever heard the story of Juan Bautista de Anza and his discovery of the San Carlos pass.

Juan Bautista de Anza, the first white man to set foot on the present site of Riverside, was also the founder of the city of San Francisco. This activity was second only, perhaps, to Junipero Serra, as the father of California.

A number of years ago the University of California sent an expedition to old Mexico in search of original documents of early California history. The party composed of college professors and their industrious pupils traveled in modern conveyances over the trails of early pioneers into the verdure.

In every adventure, no matter how enthralling, the time must come to say good-by. This is, we fear, the last issue of this year's COLLEGE CRITERION. We, the staff of your paper, wish to thank you for your cooperation. We have worked hard, often under pressure of inconveniences to issue this paper for you, but we have enjoyed ourselves, every minute of the time. We only hope that you have enjoyed our efforts as well.

To Our Readers:

In every adventure, no matter how enthralling, the time must come to say good-by. This is, we fear, the last issue of this year's COLLEGE CRITERION. We, the staff of your paper, wish to thank you for your cooperation. We have worked hard, often under pressure of inconveniences to issue this paper for you, but we have enjoyed ourselves, every minute of the time. We only hope that you have enjoyed our efforts as well.

We promised you a weekly. With a very few exceptions we have kept our word. Those regrettable instances came as a part of the business department's unerring efforts to keep the paper going in the face of a great shortage of funds. Next year the campaign begins early. Every student will be out working hard for his school and its student publication. Only by your ready cooperation can the project be put across, and THE COLLEGE CRITERION enjoy another successful year.

Patriots of the COLLEGE CRITERION:

On looking backward over this year's publication of THE COLLEGE CRITERION, I find it to be a paper of which any school might well be proud. A long-felt need of literary improvement has been attacked by a capable staff which has produced a thoroughly readable publication.

The spirit of S.C.J.C. is progress through cooperation. We have seen it in every feature of our school's development. A start has been made in the direction of a much improved school paper. We have adopted as a goal a perfect style and we will be satisfied with nothing less.

Your new editor thanks you for your confidence and earnestly solicits your unceasing cooperation in producing a school paper worthy of the precedent set by the outgoing staff. Let's give them a hand—they deserve it!

Sincerely,

Jack Waller

Editorial

An outgrowth of the industrial system is the selfish dependency of people on "jobs" for a living. And so the government must create work for them when a depression hits the country.

In the natural system of life, the bulk of the population should be agricultural, but that does not mean that the people should raise food stuffs primarily for market. Each farm should be almost entirely self-supporting, selling only incidentally.

And contrary to the perverted ideas some people have, such a life would not mean the death of civilization, art, nor would it necessarily mean the death of millions by starvation. But it would, if handled rightly, result in a closer relationship to the only Utopia that is possible in this world. It would mean a broader understanding of life values, and there would be no depression, and less tendency for a "civilization-mad" world to an-
OUR MENTORS

A builder of tremendous energy is President E. E. Corsentini. Can do with little or no sleep for days, apparently, without noticing it, when engaged in some project. In another age and place he would have been a Cecil Rhodes, or an English prime minister. Is largely responsible for the nominating position which the Junior College now occupies, especially in the accreditation program, the industrial expansion, now going on, and in the advanced standing which the College holds in science.

With his driving power is a valuable complimentary trait—tact in dealing with situations.

In readily accessible to any student who needs help in solving a problem, and makes the problem his own.

English Professor

One of the most human profs, on the staff is Professor J. P. Fentling. Also, the most curious about people—students especially. Regards his own pupils' problems with interest, and tells them the solution, if he finds it. Worries a bit about their welfare. He is well-built, slender, very alert, and has wide, but blue eyes.

Favorite modern poem is Carl Sandburg's "Fog."

He taught four years in the Philippines. Among his other duties was the advisement of the paper, written in English by Filipinos. Composers nearly drove him mad making two mistakes while trying to correct one.

He returned to the United States and took his Master's degree at College of the Pacific.

ADMINISTRATOR

A builder of tremendous energy is President E. E. Corsentini. Can do with little or no sleep for days, apparently, without noticing it, when engaged in some project. In another age and place he would have been a Cecil Rhodes, or an English prime minister. Is largely responsible for the nominating position which the Junior College now occupies, especially in the accreditation program, the industrial expansion, now going on, and in the advanced standing which the College holds in science.

With his driving power is a valuable complimentary trait—tact in dealing with situations.

In readily accessible to any student who needs help in solving a problem, and makes the problem his own.

English Professor

One of the most human profs, on the staff is Professor J. P. Fentling. Also, the most curious about people—students especially. Regards his own pupils' problems with interest, and tells them the solution, if he finds it. Worries a bit about their welfare. He is well-built, slender, very alert, and has wide, but blue eyes.

Favorite modern poem is Carl Sandburg's "Fog."

He taught four years in the Philippines. Among his other duties was the advisement of the paper, written in English by Filipinos. Composers nearly drove him mad making two mistakes while trying to correct one.

He returned to the United States and took his Master's degree at College of the Pacific.
By Fred Horowitz

Little lessons in ancient history:

In the far distant days before civilization was as highly developed as it is now, buttons were harder to obtain than they are at the present time. Gentlemen were placed in an inconvenient predicament. Due to the aforementioned and deplorable lack of buttons, their shirts were open at the collar; now it is extremely hard to say, “Please pass the oat-meal,” when you have a frozen larynx, and so the gentlemen, to keep from starving, had to devise some good method for keeping shirt collars closed. A piece of old rag turned the trick, but was generally unsightly. A pretty, bright colored rag did just as well and had definite aesthetic advantages. Now, we have plenty of buttons. However, as shirts buttoned at the collar do look better with a pretty rag, called a neck-tie around, I see no reason for objections; in cold weather, to the case of neck-ties, even if they are a throwback to more barbaric times. It seems to me, however, that in the first place a more attractive and comfortable style of shirt could be designed. If this were not possible, it still appears to me that in hot summer months we should do well to reject neck-ties and go around with open shirt collars and exposed Adam’s apples. After all, we must consider our Adam’s apples too. We keep them cooped up all winter. Let’s give them a little fresh air and sunshine in the summer. I knew a fellow who died from wearing a neck-tie once. It was made of manta. He wore it upside down. They caught him borrowing some horses.

I am deeply indebted to Bob Kelley’s Jewelry Store, Karl’s Shoe Store, Army and Navy Store, Fisher Oil Co., Prien’s Health Institute, Kelt’s Shoe Store, Kelt’s Shoe Store, La Sierra Garage for the following Merchants of Riverside who supported the CRITERION by advertising, or subscribing at the beginning of the year:

Abraham’s Clockers (Arlington) Allen & Kunze (Clothiers) Andero & Son (Clothiers) Army and Navy Store Baker Basket Co. (La Sierra, Hts.) Broadhurst’s Auto Shop (La Sierra Heights) Carpenter’s (Arlington) Circlem-Mark (Arlington) Clarence Harvey (Electroplate Re-furbisher, Loma Linda) Claussen’s Fabric Shop Fisher Oil Co. Prien’s Health Institute Kelt’s Shoe Store Kelt’s Shoe Store La Sierra Garage

THE COLLEGE CRITERION

WE PRE-MEDS

By Grace Winget,

There are now four colts on the

The Biology Club returned Saturday evening with faces vividly colored—by shaving products. They were beauti-ved as if they had had a good time.

Eugene Angell, former student, was invited recently to Miss Alice Candy of Los Angeles.

Charles Dackman and Richard Held have received letters of invitation to the College of Medical Evangelists.

Boys of M U K are enjoying a nightly play period provided by the dean’s moving evening worship up to ten minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Lawson recently in the birth of a son, Forrest Wuorth, May 3, weave the circle. The parents are former S.C.C. students.

A new lawn has recently been planted on the side of the Ad building toward the girls’ homes. The younger men say “have it that the younger ladies are as hard on the lawn.”

Lecilie Palmer, Lewis Fisher, Maj. Walker, Ronald Pettis, John McWhinney, and Emmie Remsen were patrons; Miss Hinkins’ home for dinner, Sabbath.

Pauline Burrows visited her husband at Loma Linda during the week-end.

Ben Mattison and Marion L. Rhie even from Glendale, Friday afternoon, to assist the choir in its concert in the Loma Linda amphitheater Friday evening.

“Jim” and “Andy” Atkinson were visitors at the A Capella breakfast. Leave it to “Jim” to find a place where there is nothing good to eat. Blasina McDermott spent the week-end in San Bernardino.

Eugene Holbert received a visit from his mother on Sunday evening.

Millie Grant and Harriette Simms went with Harriette’s father to Glendale and San Fernando, Sabbath.

Elizabeth Gates, a graduate of 33 visited Bud for a short time Sunday.

Crystalle Martin has been a guest of Madie Hunter during the week-end.

That friend who serves and seeks for gain,

And follows but for form,

Will pack when it begins to rain

And leave you in the storm.

—William Shakespeare

All men have their frailties, and whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks.

One is his own best friend or worst enemy.—Lord Byron.

POETS’ CORNER

ON MOTHER’S DAY

Stern, mathematical principles of a cold machine age,

Frigid in nature and lacking in all affection,

Have come upon us heavily

And left us depleted of finer experiences.

Gone like stars in dawning from our scientific souls,

Vanished to distant worlds like the oce-oarts of past generations,

Left to us only in poems or in fleeting elusive remembrance—

The full—spent admiration of a slowly dying sunset,

And the hope of surging emotions that come with its silent appearance.

Only in early May-time when the springtime flowers are blooming,

Crying a faintly heard lament for passing human attention,

And birds in swaying treepits are testing their new-found sonnets,

Only then do our hearts become softened,

Our ears temporarily deafened to the heavy mechanical clatter,

And our sun-tanned cheeks just moistened by a quickly blotted tear drop,

When we think of our far-away mothers.

J.O.W.

At

Abrahams Clothing Store
At Arlington

You will find the very latest for graduation suits as low as $16.75, and everything a boy needs for graduation at lowest prices — shirts, ties, sweaters, belts, and shoes.

SWIMMING TRUNKS for Your NEW PLUNGE

All Wool Trunks at $1.50